Rout Pickets at N. Y. Lindbergh Rally

BRITISH CARRY ON TO DRAG U. S. IN, 10,000 TOLD

Flyer Says Troops Are Expected.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 23.—Speaking before a wildly enthusiastic America First rally here tonight, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh declared the British had lost the war and warned they were continuing the battle only because they expect the arrival of an American expeditionary force.

There was rioting outside the meeting hall when prowar groups attempted to picket the gathering.

Defying a police order against picketing, a file of 10 men and a girl leader marched down the street carrying placards reading: "Maintain the British Blockade" and similar slogans. As the group approached the hall, Manhattan Center, it ran head-on into thousands of antiwar enthusiasts, who were trying vainly to get into the meeting. A slugging and kicking rampage followed. The parade was soon dissolved.

10,000 Hear Warning.

A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 heard America's famous flyer in his solemn warning that this country was on the verge of war, but that it could not win even if it plunged into the conflict. Forty-five hundred crammed into the auditorium, 2,500 were seated in another hall just above and 3,000 persons braved a driving rain to listen to the speeches via loud speakers outside.

The huge turnout pleased America First committee leaders, who have had tough sledding here against the propaganda campaign in this war conscious city. Other speakers included Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.]; Kathleen Norris, the novelist, and John T. Flynn, economist and head of the New York chapter of the committee.

Chairman Flynn introduced Lindbergh as one of a rare breed of most courageous men, "a teller of truths." The crowd stood on its feet, cheered, and waved American flags. The tall, slim aviator smilingly waved his hand in recognition of the ovation. He wore a rumpled blue suit and no vest.

Interventionists Assailed.

Lindbergh assailed the interventionists, the war promoters, as the real "defeatists" in this country. He declared that every small nation abroad which had hearkened to its interventionists had gone down to defeat one by one because of lack of information of the true situation and unpreparedness.

It was the interventionist minority in America, "loud, powerful, and influential," which was attempting to undermine democracy by plunging the nation into a war which 80 per cent of the population, or more than 100 million, opposed, according to Lindbergh. The America First committee, he said, was formed by the people who would have to do the paying for and the dying in the war the interventionists were promoting.

He pleaded for this country to follow its own destiny, its own way of life and civilization.

Practical Viewpoint Discussed.

In his speech Lindbergh stated at the outset he proposed to discuss the war issue from a practical viewpoint. Ideals were important, he said, but if a nation is to survive in this hostile modern world, "its ideals must be backed by the hard logic of military practicability."

The famous flyer expressed his belief it would be a world tragedy if the British empire collapsed, and added that this conviction was one of the main reasons which impelled him to oppose the war before it was declared, why he had constantly advocated a negotiated peace.

"I did not feel that England and France had a reasonable chance of winning," he declared. "France has now been defeated and, despite the propaganda and confusion of recent months, it is now obvious that England is losing the war. I believe this is realized even by the British government.

"But they have one last desperate plan remaining. They hope that they

SCOOTER RIDER'S JOB JUST A PIPE!

Mr. Wilkening Tootles Merrily Along.

H. H. Wilkening. That's his job, ranging on his scooter thru the labyrinth of 7½ miles of water mains now being completed at the new Kankakee ordnance works south of Joliet, where the government will soon be manufacturing TNT. He's the chief inspector.

The mains are only 42 inches in diameter, but that's enough when you're on a foot power scooter. As long as Wilkening doesn't forget to keep his head down, he has three inches of clearance. He rarely gets his hat knocked off.

He Just Keeps Rolling Along.

All day long Wilkening scoots along, looking over the pipes to see that they are in line and properly joined and examining the lining to be sure it's properly applied.

You think Wilkening isn't happy about his scooter? Say. Before he thought of it—and he's been in this kind of business for ten years—he had to crawl thru mains, resting five to ten minutes after each 150 feet. It used to take him four hours' to travel 2,000 feet. Now he can do that in six minutes.

His scooter has three wheels—rubber tired but without white sidewalls. He's proud to say it uses little oil. And tho he pushes it along with a foot, it's even easy on shoe leather.

He uses his right foot, but the left, he believes, would be almost as good.

Darkness Doesn't Bother Him.

It's black as pitch in the mains, but Wilkening isn't afraid. Some fellows would whistle to keep their spirits up, but Wilkening thinks that's silly.

Curves were a problem until he learned where they all are. Now he just turns on his flashlight when he reaches one and scoots on. The light's a help, too, in making inspections.

About the tootling: That's important down there in the dark where he might run over a workman. And so the superintendent always feels relieved when the scooter man telephones: "Scootling. Tootling. Ting-a-ling. Wilkening."

Cleaning Firm Driver Slain; Murray Humphreys Held

A cleaning and dye house driver—the father of four small children—was fatally clubbed by two young hoodlums in the Englewood Cleaners, a shop at 1745 West 63d street, yesterday. The victim was Anton Gorzak, 34 years old, 4938 South Hermitage avenue. He died in the Southtown hospital five hours after the beating.

Police said the murder was the most deliberate of such crimes since the ball bat slayings of Lloyd Rourke, a laundry truck driver, in 1938, and Marinus Hvid, a garage owner, in 1939. Neither of these killings has been solved.

Order Quiz of Humphreys.

Late last night Assistant State's Attorney Francis McCurrie and Sergt. George Barnes of the police labor detail, ordered Murray Humphreys, an old Capone lieutenant, brought in for questioning.

Humphreys has been a figure in the cleaning business, and according to McCurrie and Barnes, his wife, Mary, owns a 49 per cent interest in the Klever-Shampay cleaners, 4633 Cottage Grove avenue, whose affairs are being scrutinized as a result of Gorzak's murder. Gorzak was employed by the Republic cleaners, 1823 South Cicero avenue, Cicero.

Humphreys was ordered held at the detective bureau overnight when he refused to say anything other than that he holds no stock in the Klever-Shampay company, but knows the two brothers who are part owners. Mrs. Humphreys, who admitted holding stock in the company, also would give little other information. She was released after questioning.

Business Transferred Week Ago.

The Klever-Shampay company, McCurrie said, formerly handled the business of the Englewood Cleaners, but a week ago Abraham Rubin, the shop owner, transferred his business to the Republic plant. Yesterday Gorzak called at Rubin's place for clothing.

Almost immediately two unidentified young men, both well dressed, entered the shop. One brandished a gun and shouted: "Everybody lie down; this is a stickup." Gorzak and Rubin promptly obeyed. So did Philip Cloutier, 523 Bowen avenue, a colored shop employé. The gunman turned to his companion, pointed to Rubin, and said: "Don't hurt this man, but take care of the driver."

The second man produced a wooden club, about 18 inches long and nearly two inches thick, and struck Gorzak on the head. He followed this blow with eight or nine others until the first man called out: "Quit."

Strikes 3 More Blows.

The club wielder struck Gorzak three more blows. Then the two hoodlums drove away in a car operated by a third man.

Gorzak, before dying, told police he had no enemies, and that he had been a member in good standing of the Laundry and Dye House Drivers' union for 15 years.

Assistant State's Attorney McCurrie, centering his inquiry on the transfer of Rubin's business from the Klever-Shampay company to the Republic company, questioned two officials and an employé of Klever-Shampay. They are Sam and Manny Ginsberg, also known as Gaines, and Charles Berndle, 951 West 50th place, the driver who lost the Rubin account.

Missile Hurled at Shop.

Rubin told McCurrie that the evening of the day he switched cleaners he heard a noise outside and found that a piece of asphalt had struck just below his shop window, apparently having been thrown from a passing car.

Sidney Kramer, president of the Republic company, Gorzak's employer, announced he would insist on a solution of the crime. "It's terrible that a driver should be murdered for a $25 a week account," he said.

McCurrie said an inquest would be held at 11 a. m. today in the chapel at 1734 West 48th street, and that after the inquest all witnesses, including Humphreys, would be brought to the state's attorney's office for further questioning.

Gorzak is survived by his widow, Bernice, three sons, Robert, 13 years old; William, 12; Anton Jr., 10; and a daughter, Joan, 15 months old.

Demands on Turkey?

LONDON, April 24, Thursday (AP).—The Daily Herald today quoted foreign diplomatic circles as saying Germany has demanded from Turkey complete military control of the Bosporus and Dardanelles in exchange for a portion of Greek Thrace. The paper said Turkey was reported being pressed for an immediate reply, adding:

"According to the London report, the soviet government was informed of the German demand and it proposed to Berlin that Germany and Russia should share control of the straits.

"This proposal was at once rejected by the Germans. If this report, of which no confirmation can as yet be obtained, is true, it would account for the hurried German landings on the Greek islands of Samothrace and Lemnos off the mouth of the Dardanelles. It also would account for the rather menacing attitude of the Nazis toward the soviet union at the moment."

(Maps on pages 4 and 5.)

BERLIN, April 23 (AP).—Germany's military spokesmen announced tonight the virtual conquest of Greece, claiming the surrender of Hellenic armies of 250,000 men and the annihilation of a British rear guard at Thermopylae, gateway to Athens.

The wehrmacht—literally armed forces—was reported to be approaching Athens after breaking thru the pass where the Spartans of Leonidas perished to the last man.

[One Italian report said the Germans were within 35 miles of Athens when the British began mass embarkations at various ports, abandoning heaps of material.]

Seek to Spare Athens Itself.

There were indications that the Germans hoped to take the Greek capital by total capitulation or armistice, and to spare it from bombardment. It is being said in Berlin that much of Athens' modern architectural beauty was due to the German architect, Schaubert.

However, the air force late today was pounding Piraeus, Athens' port, to halt British withdrawals by sea.

A correspondent asked authorities this evening: "Has Athens fallen?" The answer was: "At this moment we do not know. Military developments are faster than the information service coming to Berlin."

But, the spokesman added, both Athens and Piraeus now have lost virtually all military value for the allies.

British "Trying to Escape."

Soon after the surrender of from 16 to 18 divisions of the Greek armies of Epirius and Macedonia, one German military spokesman said:

"It is the last act; the conquest of all Greece is practically effected."

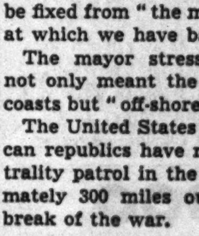
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 23.—The conquest of the Island of Crete, emergency haven of King George II. of Greece and his government, is the only major problem left to the German armed forces in the Balkans, a military spokesman said tonight.

Part of the British expeditionary force which the Germans said had fled from the battle in Greece already has reached Crete, simultaneously with the refugee king. German battleplanes, quick to take up the chase, have pounced upon the island with severe air attacks, hitting a powerful British warship sheltering in Suda bay. British forces occupied Crete last fall when they went to the aid of the Greeks against the Italian invaders.

Canada Views Plan as Step to Convoy Duty



Mayor Fiorello La Guardia.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 23 (AP).—Defense of North American waters up to 1,000 miles off the Canadian and United States coasts both in the Atlantic and Pacific is provided in plans of the United States-Canada permanent joint defense board, the American chairman, Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, declared here today.

La Guardia flew to Ottawa today, fresh from conferences with President Roosevelt in Washington, D. C., yesterday, and flew back to New York this afternoon.

The Canadian Press said some dominion quarters tied the defense statement with an earlier remark by La Guardia to interpret it as a forecast of United States convoy duty half way across the Atlantic.

A Line Gives the Answer.

As he arrived to address a St. George's day luncheon of the Canadian Club and Canadian federation of mayors, La Guardia was asked if he could give any indication of how far the United States would go in convoying war supplies bound for England.

"Watch my speech today," he replied. "There will be a line in it that will give you the whole answer."

At the luncheon he said:

"Off-shore defense, as we understand it, is to defend our shores at three hours' distance from the farthest point of either the Canadian or the United States coast.

"And when I say three hours I mean three hours by airplane doing 333 miles an hour. That is our St. George's day message to the people of England."

Emphasizes the Distance.

The Canadian Press said La Guardia would not amplify the statement but emphasized later that the "333 miles an hour" was "very important."

He would not say specifically whether the limit might be measured from Newfoundland, where the United States has a defense base less than 2,000 miles from the Irish coast, but he said the Atlantic coast limit would be fixed from "the most eastern point at which we have bases."

The mayor stressed that defense not only meant the North American coasts but "off-shore defense as well."

The United States and other American republics have maintained a neutrality patrol in the Atlantic approximately 300 miles out since the outbreak of the war.

RELIEF FOR BRITISH SHIPS

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—The United States navy, it was believed in informed quarters tonight, plans to establish a patrol of the North Atlantic halfway to Great Britain on the main route of British supply ships.

A statement of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, chairman of the American-Canadian defense board, that plans provided for the defense of North American waters up to 1,000 miles off the United States and Canadian coasts was interpreted here as meaning that British and Canadian naval convoys on this side of the Atlantic would be largely or entirely dispensed with.

The recent acquisition of American defense bases in Greenland and the decision of the American government to take over the protection of that Danish colony appear to fit into a general plan to relieve the British shipping emergency.

Perhaps an Air Patrol.

La Guardia's statement was believed here to mean that the United States would establish a naval and perhaps air patrol of the Atlantic waters extending out to the limits of the western hemisphere, which includes Greenland.

Altho this patrol was not expected to be strictly an American convoy of British supply ships, it would tend to serve an identical purpose in keeping German submarines away from the convoy routes. British naval vessels could take up the convoy service at a point about midway across the Atlantic.

Naval quarters here, commenting on the interpretation made in Canada that La Guardia's statement meant the United States would convoy British supply ships halfway across the Atlantic, said there was "nothing in it."

It was noted, however, that 1,000 miles off the North American continent was approximately half the distance between Newfoundland, where the United States already has established defense bases, and the British Isles.

SIGN ARMISTICE TO END FIGHTING IN NORTH GREECE

Truce Concluded in Salonika Villa.

(Maps on pages 4 and 5.)

BERLIN, April 23 (AP).—An armistice between axis forces in north Greece and Greek armies of Epirus and Macedonia took effect at 6 o'clock tonight.

While the terms called for unconditional surrender and internment, it was indicated no prisoner would be held long. Certain districts in Greece will be specified in which Greek soldiers, after surrendering weapons and promising not to resume the fight, will be permitted to move about at will.

That arrangement was described as carrying out Adolf Hitler's assurance the war in Greece was not directed at the Greek people but had the sole object of driving the British from the continent.

Terms Signed in Villa.

The armistice terms were signed in a villa on a hill overlooking Salonika, Greece. The villa is the headquarters of the staff of Field Marshal Sigmund List, commander of the German southeastern armies.

The final terms were agreed upon there after preliminary conferences with Greek officers yesterday at Larissa and Janina.

Germany was represented at the negotiation by Artillery General Alfred Jodl, who flew to Salonika from Hitler's field headquarters with the Fuehrer's suggestions for concluding hostilities in northern Greece. These suggestions were accepted by the Italian and Greek representatives.

Lauds Bravery.

Lieut. Gen. Ferrero represented Premier Mussolini and the terms were accepted for the Greeks by Gen. Tsolakoglu, commander of the armies of Epirus and Macedonia.

Gen. Jodl, speaking for the German high command, said the bravery of the Greek soldiers was thoroly appreciated. Gen. Ferrero made a similar comment and Gen. Tsolakoglu expressed thanks for the treatment accorded the prisoners.

Greek Officers Retain Swords.

ROME, April 23 (AP).—Greek troops of the armies of Epirus and Macedonia became prisoners of war tonight and all their arms, war materials, and landing fields went to the German and Italian armies as spoils of war. The Greek officers, however, were allowed to retain their swords in recognition of the "courage shown by Greek troops on the battlefield."

Terms of the truce specified that Greek officers should see that hostilities cease immediately; that destruction of materials and roads be stopped; that departure of ships from ports and all air traffic in Epirus and Macedonia be suspended and that all Italian prisoners of war held by the surrendered Greek army be handed over to Italian troops immediately.

ALLIED FORCES 'INTACT'

ATHENS, Greece, April 23 (AP).—British and Greek troops fought desperately and unequally against the German steamroller north of Athens tonight after the entire northwest Greek armies collapsed and King George II. and his government hastily abandoned Athens for the Island of Crete.

British and Greek headquarters reported intact their vastly outnumbered troops who had been holding Thermopylae pass and the Locris mountains 100 miles to the north, but their exact disposition was not revealed.

Athens Remains Calm.

Athens had alarm after alarm as German bombers attacked targets near the capital, but despite this and the huge clouds of smoke rolling over the area of the Acropolis and the news of the government's departure, the public remained calm. All civil government functions were carried out in a normal manner.

[The Athens radio still was sending normal commercial and government messages at 11 o'clock last night, Chicago time. At that hour it was 7 a. m., Thursday, in Athens.]

Swarms of German planes attacked Piraeus, port of Athens, and nearby areas, and the ministry of home security acknowledged that "considerable" damage was done to ships and other objectives. Three German bombers were shot down by Greek antiaircraft fire.

W-G-N DECLINES TO HELP DEFEND BIG RADIO CHAINS

Resigns from Newspaper Station Group.

New York, April 23 [Special].—An announcement here today that a group of newspapers operating radio stations had formed a committee to present the case for such joint ownership to the federal communications commission was followed almost immediately by a statement that radio station W-G-N was withdrawing its support from the committee.

E. M. Antrim, assistant secretary of W-G-N, said in his letter of resignation from the group that there was not sufficient assurance that the proposed $200,000 fund to be raised by the radio owning newspapers would be used exclusively to prepare and present the merits of joint ownership. The communications commission has ordered hearings on that subject.

Harmful Tieup Foreseen.

The action announced by Antrim followed reports that the newspaper owned stations unwittingly might be drawn into a harmful alliance with the big networks, the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system. Such a tieup, it was said, probably would benefit the big chains, who are under investigation by the FCC on charges of monopolistic practices. Rumors were current that the chains face an adverse FCC opinion, probably within the next week or two.

The thought was expressed in entertainment circles that the newspaper owned stations would do themselves no good in refuting monopoly charges against themselves by a hookup with the chains. It was asserted that the chains, on the other hand, may hope to benefit from the "fine record" of the newspaper owned stations.

Antrim Explains Position.

Antrim, in his letter of resignation to Harold V. Hough, of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, chairman of the newspaper radio committee, expressed confidence that the FCC has not prejudged the issues involved, and said the facts should be presented "without regard as to whether such facts and arguments help or hurt the cause of other radio interests before the commission."

Appointment of Sidney M. Kaye, vice president and operating head of Broadcast Music, Inc., as assistant counsel for the newspaper radio committee was widely taken to substantiate reports that the committee was inclined to join forces with the broadcasting chains. Kaye had represented CBS before joining BMI, rival music pool set up by CBS and NBC to combat the monopolistic practices of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers [ASCAP].

Letter of Resignation.

Mr. Antrim's letter to Mr. Hough follows:

"I hereby resign as a member of the newspaper radio committee. I am further authorized to state that W-G-N, Inc. cannot support, or continue to be represented in, the committee.

"Our reason for this action is that developments to date indicate to us that there is not sufficient assurance that the large fund of $200,000 to be collected from the newspapers will be devoted exclusively to the preparation and presentation of the case on behalf of newspaper ownership of broadcasting stations on the merits of the issues involved, and that, there is not sufficient safeguard against intermingling of these issues with other and unrelated issues and activities in which the newspaper group, as such, have no interest. We believe that the course indicated by these developments will seriously prejudice the interests of the newspaper group by linking its fortunes with those of other groups having entirely separate problems.

"As has been repeatedly stated by our representatives, particularly at the meeting held in New York on March 28, 1941, we believe that the issues involved in newspaper ownership of broadcasting stations have not been prejudged by the federal communications commission, that the facts and arguments bearing on these issues should be gathered and presented exclusively on the basis of their merits, without regard to whether such facts and arguments help or hurt the cause of other radio interests before the commission, and that with such preparation and presentation the newspaper group should be able to convince the commission not only that there is no basis for any charge of monopoly against newspaper owners of stations, but also that such ownership has served, and will continue to serve, the public interest."

Debate Crisis

SYDNEY, Australia, April 23 (AP).—Australia's advisory war council discussed in secret session today the crisis growing out of developments in Greece, developments which brought mounting criticism from labor.

Before the session opened the council's labor members said they would insist on a "full inquest" into the Greek expedition in which Australian troops participated. After the day's discussion no statement was issued by the council.

Attack on Cabinet Seen.

Labor party leaders said a meeting of the party's executive committee was unlikely, and this was interpreted to mean the probable rejection of a proposal for a national war government urged by Prime Minister Menzies in London yesterday. Political circles also saw in the statement the likelihood of a Labor party attack on the government at a special session of parliament called for May, probably May 7, to examine the war situation.

H. E. Holt, minister of labor and national service, declared Australia's war effort "will fall tragically short of its best until our strongest national government is formed."

War Council Assailed.

He also criticized the war council, declaring that "despite strenuous labor efforts, highly important cabinet decisions were delayed weeks, even months, because of the shuttling back and forth between cabinet and council." He added:

"As long as the present political setup exists the administration of the most resolute minister will be marked by a degree of hesitancy, obstruction, indecision, and delay."

Navy Minister W. M. Hughes contended "the position is not as bad as after the collapse of France. The Germans are going on, but how near are they to stopping?" He referred to the German army's ever lengthening lines of communication.

Menzies Explains

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lieut. Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey.

LONDON, April 23.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, commanding the Australian forces in the middle east, has been appointed deputy commander in chief for British forces in the middle east.

This announcement was made by R. G. Menzies, Australia's prime minister, in a broadcast from London to Australia. Altho admitting that the outlook in the middle east is dark, Menzies insisted "we are determined to hold our own and may well win a notable victory." He appealed for political and national unity in Australia "while the battle rages."

Explains Secret Move.

He made the broadcast to explain why Australian imperial forces were sent to Greece without the Australian advisory war council having been consulted by the war cabinet. This omission has stirred criticism at home.

"To desert the Greeks just as the Germans were about to attack them would have been one of the infamies of history," Menzies declared.

The question of aiding the Greeks was discussed, he said, at the first war cabinet meetings he attended in London and was the subject of extensive communication between the governments of the United Kingdom and Australia and New Zealand.

Advised by Generals.

Advice was obtained from generals on the spot, "notably Sir John G. Dill, chief of the imperial general staff, and Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander in chief of the middle east."

"We all came to the conclusion," Menzies added, "that, tho assisting Greece with soldiers was a hazardous undertaking, it was one which had some real prospects of military success."

He declared heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans in Greece by Australian and New Zealand troops, and warned that "we cannot win the war without losses. By the last analysis the only means of winning it is killing Germans."

JAPAN WARNED: AUSTRALIA WILL FIGHT IF PERILED

New York, April 23 (AP).—In an implied warning to Japan, Richard G. Casey, Australian minister, said tonight that his country and neighboring New Zealand would fight bitterly for their freedom "if the dark forces of aggression venture to spread into the peaceful waters of the Pacific."

These British dominions, Casey said in a speech before the Australian and New Zealand societies of New York, are of greater significance than is normally realized in this country.

Navy to Use NBC Official to Handle Radio Matters

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—Frank Mason, vice president of the National Broadcasting company, will be brought into the navy's public relations division May 1 to handle publicity matters pertaining to broadcasting.

BILL OF RIGHTS SHRINE BACKED BY PUBLISHERS

New York, April 23 (AP).—The American Newspaper Publishers' association today adopted a resolution indorsing the creation of a national shrine to the bill of rights on the village green of historic St. Paul's church at East Chester, N. Y., and commended the project "as worthy of the moral and financial support of its membership."

It was there that John Peter Zenger, in 1733, defied the authority of the colonial government by daring to print forbidden news and was sustained by the royal court.

The resolution stated that "the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, the right of equal suffrage, and the equal administration of justice were all established on the American continent" as a result of incidents on the village green which Zenger reported.

CROAT REGICIDES ASK FRANCE TO SET THEM FREE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 23 [via Berlin].—As the Croat free state was proclaimed, a move was launched in Paris to free three Ustachi, or Croat separatists, who are serving life terms in French prisons. They are Mio Kraji, Stepan Ivan Raitch, and Zvonimir Posposhil, who were convicted of complicity in the assassination of King Alexander I. of Jugo-Slavia and the French foreign minister, Louis Barthou, at Marseilles in 1934. A plea for their release was filed with the minister of justice by Georges Desbons, who, in behalf of the Pittsburgh [Pa.] Croats association, defended them at their trial. He told the minister of justice the men were not terrorists but patriots and, since Croatia had won independence from the Serbs, there was no reason why they should be held.

FEDERAL PROBE OF BANKRUPTCY CASES OPENED

Woll Pledges Thoro Scrutiny of Records.

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, announced last night the beginning of an investigation into the disposal of millions of dollars in assets dispersed thru the liquidation of bankrupt properties in federal District court. Woll said he had ordered auditors and other agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to inquire into the administration of 2,529 pending bankruptcy cases.

Altho Woll spoke guardedly concerning the scope of the inquiry, he asserted he intended to follow it wherever it led.

"I intend to start with the office of the referee in bankruptcy," he asserted, "and follow whatever leads develop. If it becomes necessary to inquire into equity receiverships, reorganizations of railroads and utilities companies, or even the traction situation, I shall not hesitate to do so."

421 Large Cases Pending.

Among the bankruptcies pending are 421 large ones. These include six railroads, 85 large corporations, and 330 smaller concerns. The other 2,108 cases consist chiefly of small personal bankruptcies.

Woll's announcement came despite reports from Washington that Chicago politicians were attempting to smother the investigation, and that their efforts had included an appeal of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Rumors of the United States attorney's intention to probe into the bankruptcy situation have been current since Harry Dubia, a professional trustee in bankruptcy, was indicted April 8 on charges of embezzling $21,232 from the funds in his care.

Wants Case Reassigned.

The investigation of Dubia's accounts was made by the FBI at Woll's request and agents have continued to work quietly among the other records in the referee's office since then.

Yesterday Judge William H. Holly ordered the Dubia case referred to the executive committee of the court for reassignment. He said it would be impossible for him to escape criticism if he heard the case since he had approved the appointment of Dubia in some of the bankruptcies in his own court.

Since most of the other judges also have approved Dubia as a bankruptcy trustee it is expected that a judge from another district will be called in.

Woll said yesterday that evidence uncovered in the Dubia case had prompted him to order the broad inquiry.

Integrity Necessary.

"The bankruptcy law makes it very important," he said, "that referees, receivers, and trustees should be men of integrity, since there is no provision for periodic examination and audits of their accounts."

Woll said he had consulted with judges of the court before he had decided to open the investigation and that he had determined to go ahead after receiving assurance of their co-operation. He emphasized that his inquiry would be free from political purpose or influence.

Since 1933 rumors of bankruptcy "rings" and other irregularities in the administration of bankrupt estates have resulted in investigations here by two committees from the national house of representatives. Both, it is said, had a strong political flavor.

Fee Approval Withheld.

The first committee, organized shortly after the first New Deal congress convened, investigated charges that three judges were favoring a single law firm with bankruptcy fees and business.

The investigation lasted more than a year and then died. Three years later Judge John P. Barnes withheld approval of a $3,000 fee for Attorney Tom E. McKeown in a bankruptcy case. McKeown had been chairman of the house committee sent to make the investigation.

That same year Judge Barnes began a one man campaign against exorbitant fees in bankruptcy work and asked that the Chicago Bar association investigate the work of 13 attorneys engaged in bankruptcy and receivership litigation. Nothing came of this inquiry.

The second investigation was headed by Congressman Adolph J. Sabath [5th]. It was directed chiefly at reorganization proceedings. It died after a few hearings here in 1936. The department of justice took no active part in any of these investigations.

Since then rumors of political favoritism, padded fees, and misappropriation of funds in the administration of bankrupt estates have continued.

URGE CONGRESS TO DECLARE U. S. OPENLY AT WAR

Interventionists Want Armed Force Used.

New York, April 23 [Special].—The extreme interventionist Fight for Freedom committee tonight reiterated its advocacy of the immediate entrance of the United States into the combatant end of the European war.

This committee, whose membership includes the country's foremost war mongers, dispatched telegrams to every member of congress calling on them to declare a state of national emergency.

The telegrams sent to Washington bore the signatures of the Rt. Rev. Henry W. Hobson of Cincinnati, O., bishop of the southern Episcopal diocese, active chairman of the committee; Francis P. Miller, a member of the Virginia state legislature, vice chairman of the committee; Wayne Johnson, treasurer, and F. H. Peter Cusick, executive secretary.

"Hitler has declared war on democracies. We are at war now. The purposes of the lend-lease act can no longer be made effective," the telegram said. "Catastrophe is at our door. We believe this country must now declare a state of national emergency which shall include use of our armed forces under our own flag to control the whole north Atlantic sea, severance of diplomatic relations with the aggressor nations, the apprehension of fifth columnists, the convoy of food and materials to the fighting forces of democracy, the use of the American navy and air force under our own command, and the full use of the power and majesty of the United States to preserve the freedom of the United States and of freemen everywhere who are fighting for us."

Pay Day Three Weeks Late at Camp Forrest

Camp Forrest, Tenn., April 23 (AP).—Payday was late this month for most of Camp Forrest's soldiers because pay clerks—practically all of them drafted less than two months ago—were unfamiliar with army bookkeeping, Maj. J. C. Kovarik, finance officer, declared today.

"Every enlisted man and officer however has been paid for March, except two or three whose pay vouchers were made out incorrectly," he added.

Payday originally was scheduled April 1 for all.

72% FAVOR MORE DAYLIGHT TIME IN SOUTH SIDE POLL

Alderman Douglas Bares Straw Ballot Result.

A straw poll in the 5th ward Saturday and Sunday showed strong support of the proposal pending before the city council to extend Chicago daylight saving time thru October, Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th] disclosed yesterday. Of 2,880 straws, 2,126 were in favor of the proposition and 754 were against it.

Projected to 10,100 votes on the basis of the various precincts in the ward, the poll showed 7,201, or more than 72 per cent of the straws, supporting the proposal for extra hours of daylight in the fall, with an opposition total of only 2,899.

"Are you in favor of extending daylight saving time thru the month of October?" was the question on the ballot. Voters were required simply to answer "yes" or "no."

Measure Before Council.

Results of the poll were announced as the city council received from the judiciary committee the proposed daylight saving extension amendment introduced originally by Ald. John J. Duffy [19th] and Ald. John J. Grealis [44th]. As returned to the council without committee recommendation the measure specifies that the extension shall not go into effect until 1942 and then only if approved in a referendum.

Ald. Grealis had recommended at the committee's meeting on Monday that the city be given a chance to try October daylight saving this year after which the voters could decide whether to continue the plan. Surveys have shown that the extra daylight in the fall would reduce traffic accidents, cut light bills, promote health and give workers added time for healthful out-of-doors recreation in the mild autumn season.

Order Amendment Published.

As had been expected, the council yesterday deferred action until its next meeting and ordered the measure, which is in the form of an amendment to the existing daylight saving ordinance, published in the council journal to give the members a chance to study it.

Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th] suggested that a definite date be set for further consideration at which time, he urged, the council should resolve itself into a committee of the whole to discuss the matter. Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] advised Lindell to wait until the measure is called up in the regular order of business at the next meeting.

Ald. Douglas was among group of aldermen who announced that they were going to sample public opinion in their wards and would be guided by the wishes of their constituents.

Yesterday he indicated, however, that the poll had not changed his stand on the ordinance in its present form, which will prevent the residents of the 5th ward as well as all other Chicagoans from enjoying the extra hours of sunshine during Indian summer this year.

Those who remembered his numerous declarations that he would follow the sentiment of his constituents as indicated by the poll thought at first the alderman was joking. But Douglas was emphatic. He said he would vote for the pending ordinance which delays the extra daylight time until October, 1942.

The council yesterday received two petitions and a letter urging passage of the daylight time extension and one letter opposing the measure. One of the petitions, signed by over 75 property owners on the south side, noted the increased opportunities for householders to work on their lawns and gardens. The other petition was signed by 40 factory workers.

18 YEAR OLD MAYOR RULES CITY AS PART OF YOUTH PROGRAM

Today's events will include hobby shows, recreational projects and parades in the public schools and youth centers.

A GREEK TRAGEDY: VICTORIES OVER ITALY WIPED OUT

Nazi Thrust Spoiled Plan for Albanian Offensive.

The following dispatch is from Daniel De Luce, Associated Press correspondent who left Greece in a fisherman's boat last week-end and sent from Turkey the first indications of the extent of the British disaster in Greece.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE.

SMYRNA, Turkey [Izmir], April 23 (AP).—To 8,000,000 Greeks the German victory in Greece is as tragic as any ever conceived by their great playwrights of classical days, Euripides, Aeschylus, and Sophocles.

The German intervention, the Greeks feel, snatched away at the last moment a victory won by blood and pain over the Italian legions who swept in from the north last fall.

Every Greek regimental headquarters on the Albanian front from Chimara to Pogradetz had planned the spring offensive which was to have shoved the Italians back out of Albania.

"Everything Into It."

"We will throw everything into it, all our men up to 40, all our guns," Greek commanders told me before Germany marched.

Thousands of wounded in base hospitals prayed for speedy recovery so they could fight in the "last battle."

Twelve divisions of the finest Greek fighters—hardy mountaineers of Epirus and Peloponnesus and tough Crete islanders—were ranged along the crescent shaped front for an all-out attack expected to sweep the Italians from Tepeleni, Berat, and Elbasan.

They looked forward to the zero hour, but the offensive was stillborn.

Heart broken generals tore up their plans when Adolf Hitler launched his men and machines across the Jugo-Slav frontier. Sensing the Jugo-Slav collapse before it occurred, the Greek commanders foresaw the impossibility of maintaining their northwestern line and they gave the order to withdraw.

Some Remain to Fight.

Not all obeyed. The brilliant Major Maniatakes stayed with a suicide squad in concrete blockhouses the Greeks had built beside Lake Ochrida and calmly awaited the enemy advance over a field planted with 3,000 land mines.

Two nights earlier, in stockinged feet to avoid noise, he had escorted me to within 200 yards of Italian trenches and joked about the "surprise party" that awaited them.

On heights overlooking Tepeleni, husky Evzones reluctantly shouldered dismantled light artillery, and with downcast eyes joined the Greek columns that marched painfully toward the rear.

Koritza and Argyrokastron, twin symbols of Greek military prowess, were abandoned without a shot in a withdrawal executed with the precision of a peacetime maneuver—but with far deeper emotion.

Curse Hitler and Mussolini.

"If we live will those devils send us away to slavery in Italy and Germany?" they asked.

There was no collapse of morale. Commanders who could easily have fled to the coast and embarked for islands protected by the British fleet stayed with their troops to the end.

Volunteer nurses remained at field hospitals until the last wounded man was safely moved to the rear.

The devotion to duty seemed to be in direct proportion to the growing disaster.

spokesman said, "and what remains of the Greek action is an energetic pursuit of the British, who are desperately trying to escape."

British losses in this "pell mell retreat" already are approaching those of Dunkirk. Stukas continue to hammer all remaining roads of escape and are swarming on those harbors left to the British.

A conservative estimate showed that 152,000 tons of British ships already had been sunk off the harbors of Greece—among them transports fully loaded with British troops. Moreover, the luftwaffe is pursuing those ships which have gotten away toward Africa and "getting them."

Many Ships Damaged.

In addition to ships sunk, 37 were damaged extensively and many of them put in a foundering condition. The high command claimed that seven British ships of 37,000 tons were sunk Tuesday in Greek waters and a dozen others damaged by bombs.

Dienst aus Deutschland, the well placed commentary service, said the encirclement and surrender of the Epirus and Macedonian armies was catastrophic for the remainder of the Greeks in the field; that the axis now has no opponent of noteworthy fighting power on the peninsula.

The British rear guard stand at Thermopylae was termed an effort to win time for the bulk of the British forces to reach ports and embark for Africa.

BRITAIN PLEDGES JUGO-SLAVIA AID TO REGAIN POWER

King Peter and Ministers in Middle East.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23—Jugo-Slavia has joined the growing list of exiled government's which Britain has pledged to restore to power. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced the pledge in the house of commons today and said that King Peter II. and his government who were "forced by enemy action" to leave their country are established in the middle east.

He did not disclose the location of the refugee government, but Peter and his ministers are reported in Jerusalem or Egypt.

The Jugo-Slav president of the council on April 21 gave Britain assurance of his government's intention to stand faithfully by the British government as an ally.

The British government, Eden said, "for its part declares that it is its firm intention to fully restore the independence of Jugo-Slavia. Meanwhile the Jugo-Slav government may count on the fullest possible measure of help from the British government in the prosecution of the struggle against the common enemy."

Subjected to Questioning.

Eden was subjected to several questions on his near east tour, and the indirect suggestion was made that he was "hypersensitive" in handling the problems.

The press, also, is asking questions about the apparent barrenness of Eden's tour.

"What is the story of Eden's many conferences in the near east, with their announcements of universal harmony, and apparent absence of results?" the Evening News asked.

The Daily Mail in an editorial headed "Too Late," said Eden was given the task of consolidating Turkey, Jugo-Slavia, and Greece but "failed in his mission."

"That is the criticism now—not that we should have withheld support from Greece but that our effort, both diplomatic and military, was too feeble, too late."

Aware of Menace in Iraq.

To questioners in commons, Eden replied that he was well aware of the potential menace of any German infiltration into Iraq [Mesopotamia]. British troops were dispatched to Iraq recently.

Sir Henry Morris-Jones, Liberal Nationalist, asked:

"In regard to German agents already in Iraq, will Eden see that no kid glove foreign office hypersensitiveness is shown? Will he see that they all are cleared out, bag and baggage?"

"I do not know whether Sir Henry is applying these gentle epithets to me," Eden retorted. "If so, I can assure him that they will have no place in any action we may take where we have the authority and ability to take it."

Lord Moyne, leader in the house of lords, denied the "persistent rumor" that Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, British commander in chief, had "suffered curtailment of his powers of direction in the middle east and the Balkans."

King Receives Churchill; Discuss War Situation

LONDON, April 23 (AP).—King George received Prime Minister Winston Churchill in audience today at Buckingham palace. It was understood Churchill gave the sovereign a detailed report on the war situation.

Greek Refuge and Next German Objective

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Island of Crete, new seat of Greek government and fourth largest island of the Mediterranean sea, lies about 75 miles from the nearest mainland point of Greece and approximately 250 miles from Libya.

A mountainous country whose snow capped, lofty peaks rise almost as a wall from the sea, Crete is a natural fortress and in mythology the birthplace of the ancient Greek God Zeus—the god of thunder and ruler of the skies.

The island is approximately 160 miles long and varies from 7⅛ to 35 miles in width. Since 1912, when it was ceded to Greece by Turkey, it has been administered as a province of the Greek government. Its population, once mainly Moslem but now almost entirely Greek orthodox Christian, exceeds 300,000.

The island's history has been marked by violence, especially while it was under Turkish rule. From 1821 thru 1896 there were almost annual insurrections which culminated in a general rebellion in 1897.

NAZIS RESTRICT SENDING OF NEWS TO AXIS LANDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 23.—Foreign correspondents here today received official warning not to pass news of certain persons to newspaper men of other axis lands.

The prohibition applies to information concerning the whereabouts or movements of Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, the foreign ministers of Italy and Germany, the foreign minister of any third power who may be dealing with the axis chiefs, and military commanders of high rank.

A similar order governing dispatches sent to countries not affiliated with the axis has been in force since the beginning of the war. Correspondents who violate the prohibition will be subject to prosecution under espionage laws or expulsion.

TELLS HOW 1,000 TONS OF SHELLS BLASTED TRIPOLI

British Declare Axis Base Ruined by Fleet.

[An eyewitness picture of the British Mediterranean fleet's shelling of Tripoli is given in the following article. The action took place on Monday morning, but the dispatch was delayed in transmission.]

BY LARRY ALLEN.

Capt. Perry Parmelee, United States Marine corps observer.

WITH THE BRITISH BATTLE FLEET BOMBARDING TRIPOLI, Monday, April 21, Delayed (AP).—Battleships, cruisers, and destroyers of this fleet fired more than 1,000 tons of high explosive shells into Tripoli before dawn today in a vastly destructive bombardment which caught the Germans and Italians so unaware that they first mistook it for an air raid.

Fleet officers said this was the heaviest assault of its sort in naval history, certainly it was among the most spectacular. They described as "highly effective" the attack on the last strong Italian base in Africa.

Officers declared this base was so heavily hit and had so many wrecked ships in harbor that it would be difficult to use it as a headquarters from which to send axis reinforcements to the army pressing against Egypt.

Guns Roar for 42 Minutes.

For 42 minutes the 15 inch, 6 inch, and 4.5 inch shells roared over the old Moorish walls, crushing buildings like eggshells, striking seven axis ships, which were severely damaged and possibly sunk, setting fire to the railroad station, the power plant, underground oil depots, naval headquarters, and piers. Casualties must have been heavy ashore. The British suffered neither damage nor casualties.

[An enemy air formation attempted to attack the British fleet en route to its home base. Fighter planes shot down one and perhaps more of the attackers and the fleet arrived yesterday at Alexandria, Egypt, without damage or casualties.]

The German-Italian error of believing this was an air raid was understandable, for the naval attack was ushered in by a 90 minute bombing by waves of RAF planes.

Aboard the most powerful battleship in the Mediterranean fleet, I stood on the signal deck and then on an emergency conning tower, watching the heavy antiaircraft guns of Tripoli spout flame in trying to drive off the bombers.

Scores of Bombs Explode.

A single searchlight reached up to try to spot the British planes while scores of heavy bombs exploded hoarsely and with white flashes along the Tripoli harbor line. Fires sprang up. Some of the ground guns fell silent.

The bombers gave Tripoli one last dose of explosives, then released countless incendiary bombs and flares, and flew away.

While all this was going on, the fleet, its units shadowy and mysterious against the background of the predawn darkness, maneuvered quietly thru calm seas and around mine networks until it reached point-blank range.

Suddenly at just 5 a. m. there was a mighty flash of yellow flame from the 15-inch rifles of the adjoining flagship. Shells seemed to leave all eight of the big guns simultaneously, to burst on the fort barracks and warehouses ashore.

Vessel Shudders and Jerks.

A few seconds later the guns of our ship roared similarly as the vessel shuddered and jerked. My eyes cleared just in time to catch the flashes of the 4.5-inch guns.

Over the city, the fleet air arm hurled more flares to maintain the illumination started by the flares and fires of the RAF.

For 20 minutes the naval bombardment continued, the warships constantly shifting position as they steamed past the harbor. Then the whole fleet executed a turn and returned to rake the port again.

The coastal guns suddenly started firing toward us for the first time. The shells, apparently 6-inchers, whizzed harmlessly overhead.

On the bridge Capt. Perry Parmelee of Flint, Mich., United States marine corps observer, watched calmly.

He and Lieut. Col. Walter Farrell of San Diego, also a marine, and Lieutenant Commander Stedman Teller of the United States navy were official observers of this attack, the first sea bombardment of Tripoli since the United States cleaned out the Barbary pirates in the war of 1801-'05.

SECRETARY KNOX CRACKS DOWN IN CENSOR PROGRAM

Hugh C. Robbins. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox today cracked down on violators of his voluntary censorship program under which he has suggested that the press and radio refrain from publishing movements of British warships in American ports.

On the secretary's complaint, the civil aeronautics administration ordered Hugh C. Robbins, Mineola, N. Y., pilot, to show cause why his license should not be revoked for violation of air rules in flying a newspaper photographer over the British battleship Malaya when the vessel put into New York harbor for repairs recently.

Recall Previous Explanation.

Knox complained against the flyer within a week after he had publicly acknowledged that ineffective liaison work between the British and the United States navy was responsible for the publicity given the battleship on its arrival.

The complaint also came within a week after President Roosevelt assured newspaper editors gathered in convention here that the administration would not attempt to abridge freedom of the press or freedom of speech in the present world crisis.

Silent on Policy Question.

Administration officials were silent when asked whether the move against the pilot indicated that the administration has adopted a policy under which it will seek to curb the press and speech indirectly by exercising various intimidatory powers.

Donald H. Connally, director of the CAA, said that Robbins had violated three standard provisions of civil aeronautics regulations and also a special CAA order forbidding all civil aircraft—with the exception of regular scheduled commercial transport flights—from flying over New York harbor on the day that Malaya came into port. Existence of the special order has not been previously disclosed to the public.

Mexico Renames Orinoco, Confiscated German Liner

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, April 23.—The 9,660 ton German liner Orinoco, seized with 11 other German and Italian vessels early this month when evidence of sabotage was found aboard the ships, today was rechristened the Tabasco in honor of the state of Congressman Calcaneo, author of the confiscation scheme. The government is taking bids from private merchant lines for operation of all the vessels. The government would retain a controling interest in the boats and pay for them after the war from its share of the profits of operation.

FALL FROM PORCH KILLS WOMAN.

Dubuque, Ia., April 23 [Special].—Mrs. J. C. Hostetter, 61, wife of a delicatessen operator, died today of injuries received yesterday when she fell 15 feet from the back porch of her home.

BRITISH FORCES TAKE OFFENSIVE ON LIBYA FRONT

Begin Small Attacks from Tobruk and Sollum.

CAIRO, April 23 (AP).—The empire forces in Libya "generally speaking" now are taking the offensive against the Germans and Italians, authorities here said today as British general headquarters announced the capture of 447 Italians in a sortie by Australians from the besieged port of Tobruk.

A small scale British offensive also is in progress around Sollum, farthest point of the axis advance just inside Egypt, it was revealed. Meantime, Italo-German action was declared to be limited to the bombing of British positions, and small patrol activity.

Claim a Successful Landing.

Countering previous Italian claims, the British announced that a raiding party landed at Bardia, Libya, 75 miles east of Tobruk, last Saturday night, destroyed important objectives and reëmbarked with the loss of only 60 men captured.

Whereas the Italians reported that the landing had been frustrated, the British claimed to have dynamited an important bridge, left a dump of valuable stores burning fiercely and rendered four defense guns useless. The "major part" of the raiding party was declared to have returned to its base.

Prepare Way for Haile Selassie.

Preparations for the entry of Emperor Haile Selassie into his former capital of Addis Ababa, when he fled from the advancing Italians in 1935, were speeded as mopping up operations proceeded in Ethiopia.

The Italians were putting up a fight around Dessye, but it was expected they soon would have to reckon with a problem of supply. Heavy rains already have started in the south.

SEE VICHY MOVE TO CO-OPERATE MORE WITH NAZIS

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, April 23.—A further extension of the working arrangement between the Germans and the French was generally accepted tonight as the certain outcome of another visit which Admiral Jean Darlan, second man in the Vichy government paid to Paris today.

There were reports that encounters between Darlan and the French politicians on the other side of the demarcation line and with the Germans may provide something of the sensation. Interviews on Darlan's schedule may not all be in Paris, and it is conjectured that he may have a meeting with Hitler.

What appears certain is that Darlan is going to do some sharp bargaining with Otto Abetz, Hitler's ambassador in Paris, and the exchanges seemed likely to concern German concessions of a material nature in return for greater French collaboration and adherence to the German "new order."

The question of former Vice Premier Pierre Laval's return to the government is posed, but it does not seem assured that he will choose to come back at this time.

SLAIN EDITOR'S RIVAL SUBMITS TO A LIE TEST

Philip D'Andrea, publisher of L'Italia, Italian language newspaper, submitted yesterday to a lie detector test in connection with the murder last week of John F. Arena, editor of the rival Italian language newspaper La Tribuna.

Arena formerly was editor of D'Andrea's publication. Later he and D'Andrea waged a verbal war against one another in their papers, and each filed damage suits against the other.

D'Andrea was given a series of eight tests, which took two hours, Lieut. Charles Egan of the state's attorney's police said the lie detector indicates D'Andrea was not telling the truth in his answers to several questions concerning Arena. This was indicated by variations in D'Andrea's blood pressure. Asked about the reaction, D'Andrea said: "Well, why shouldn't my blood pressure go up?" and recalled the personal feud between them, according to Lieut. Egan's report of the test.

TORPEDO SINKS BRITISH ARMED MERCHANT SHIP

LONDON, April 23 (AP).—The 16,644 ton armed merchant cruiser Rajputana has been torpedoed and sunk, the British admiralty announced tonight. Casualties were admitted, but the number was not stated.

The Rajputana was a P. and O. passenger vessel operating between London and the far east—Yokohama and Hongkong—before the war.

The Rajputana was a sister ship of the armed merchant cruiser Rawalpindi, 16,697 tons, which was sunk on Nov. 23, 1939, off the coast of Iceland by the German pocket battleship Deutschland, with a loss of 265 lives.

Sunk in South Atlantic.

New York, April 23 (AP).—Marine sources said today that the 8,124 ton British freighter Malancha had been torpedoed and sunk in the South Atlantic and that 38 of its crew members had been saved.

Chinese Hero of Doomed Chapei Battalion Is Slain

Hsieh Chin Yuan, commander of the so-called doomed battalion which held the last Chinese position to fall to the Japanese in Chapei in 1937, was stabbed to death and his second in command, Maj. Zaung Kwansz, was seriously stabbed in the International Settlement internment camp today. They have been in the camp since 1937.

SOUTHWEST AREA OF BRITAIN RAIDED FOR THIRD NIGHT

A SOUTHWEST AREA OF ENGLAND, April 24, Thursday (AP).—A heavy German attack in this bomb damaged section of England killed at least 12 persons early today, but grimy air raid workers said it was a "flat failure." [Censorship prevented identification, but the story indicated Plymouth had its third straight night of raids.]

Workers said almost all of the many bombs fell on ruins of buildings previously "blitzed." Lady Astor, American born member of parliament and mayoress of Plymouth, visited the area at the height of the raid. Bodies of eight persons were taken from one back yard shelter which was blown intact 30 feet to the top of a house. German planes also were over East Anglia and northeast England, but only slight damage was reported there thus far this morning. British planes Tuesday night bombed the German naval base at Brest.

It was disclosed yesterday that many windows on the first and second floors of the American embassy in London were smashed by concussion from large high explosive bombs which fell near by in a recent raid.

Italians Hoist Their Flag on Two Jugo-Slav Ships

New York, April 23 (AP).—The Italian radio today reported from Milan that the Italian flag has been hoisted on two Jugo-Slav steamers which had been operated in the service of Switzerland between Genoa and New York. The steamers were listed as the 2,819 ton Dubac and the 1,397 ton Una.

BRITAIN'S SECOND NEW BATTLESHIP IS IN COMMISSION

LONDON, April 24 Thursday (AP).—Britain's second new battleship, the 35,000 ton Prince of Wales, sister ship of the King George V., which took Lord Halifax to the United States, is now in commission, the Press association reported early today.

Three other battleships were laid down with the King George V. and the Prince of Wales. They were named the Anson, Beatty and Jellicoe.

The British have 14 other battleships and battle cruisers in service, or a total of 16 capital ships. Only one battleship, the Royal Oak, has been acknowledged lost. She was torpedoed at Scapa Flow by a German submarine shortly after the war began.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TURKS PREPARE, BUT HOPE TO FIND PEACE WITH AXIS

Watch Bulgaria's Course as Key to Future.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 23 (AP).—Turkey prepared tonight for any eventuality, guarding against attack by the axis even tho it was declared such a development was not expected at present.

There was no official comment on reports that Germans have seized Greek islands close to Turkey, but officials in Ankara said their policy still is peace if possible and war if Turkey's independence is threatened.

Removal of many civilians from Istanbul as a precaution is getting under way and some wooden houses regarded as fire traps are being demolished.

Bulgaria's Stand Watched.

Foreign circles here held that Bulgaria's ambitions will be the determining factor in the Turkish attitude. They agreed that Turkey would fight rather than surrender any territory to give Bulgaria an outlet to the Aegean sea, and would not give up control of the Bosporus and Dardanelles straits even if confronted by a German ultimatum.

Von Papen in Germany.

BERLIN, April 23 (AP).—Authorized sources today revealed that Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, is in Germany, but they declined to say anything about the status of Turkish-German relations. A London report that Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's deputy, had gone on a special mission to Spain was flatly denied.

Guard Union, Says Stalin.

MOSCOW, April 23 (AP).—In his first public address since the present war began Josef Stalin, leader of Russia's millions, reminded a Kremlin audience last night that Nikolai Lenin, founder of bolshevism, had "taught us to guard this great union."

Argentine Senate Votes $152,000,000 for Defense

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, April 23.—The senate today authorized the expenditure of 152 million dollars to modernize army equipment. Of this 7 million dollars is for the purchase of airplanes.

Bills authorizing expenditure of 90 million dollars to build factories to produce military equipment and 12 million dollars for urgent naval needs still are before the chamber.

A light musical and comedy show will be presented on the broadcast of In Chicago Tonight over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system from 7:30 to 8 o'clock this evening.

Bonnie Baker, songstress with Orrin Tucker's orchestra, appearing at the Aragon ballroom, will sing several songs of the type that have made her famous. Miss Baker rose to popularity a season or two ago when she revived, "O, Johnny, O."

The Mills brothers, four experts in close harmony; Andy Andrews, comedy singer; John Hoysradt, master impressionist, and Harold Stokes and the W-G-N orchestra, and the W-G-N chorus, directed by Bob Trendler, will round out the cast. William A. Bacher will produce the show.

BRITAIN GIVEN 20 TORPEDO BOATS FROM U. S. NAVY

Ships Either Delivered or on Their Way.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced today that twenty American navy torpedo boats are already in British hands or on their way to Great Britain,

A year ago a surreptitious attempt by President Roosevelt to transfer the same vessels to the British flag was balked by an indignant senate. Today news of the accomplished transfer passed without comment.

The transfer was effected under the dictator powers granted the President in the lend-lease act.

Carry Four Torpedo Tubes.

The "mosquito boats" as they are known in the navy, are about 70 feet long and carry four 18 inch torpedo tubes and can discharge depth charges against submarines. They recently were completed at a cost of $225,000 each. Improved models, which will carry 21 inch torpedo tubes, are on order.

Knox reported that as a result of conversations between the President and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada, Canadian shipyards may take over construction of "mosquito boats."

The Secretary said the President has the power under the lend-lease act to purchase any small craft Canada may make and turn such vessels over to Britain, Mr. Roosevelt made plans to pay Canada for part of her contribution to the war as a British Dominion in conversations with Prime Minister King in the Roosevelt family home at Hyde Park, N. Y., last Sunday.

Refuses to Discuss Details.

Knox said negotiations are in the preliminary stage and refused to discuss details of the American plan to help Canada aid Britain.

The Secretary said that another need of the British is for long range anti-aircraft guns. He described the American all-purpose 5 inch gun as the best in the world against airplanes.

He acknowledged that the American navy lacks these weapons, but intimated that those in manufacture will be turned over to Britain because her need is greater than the American navy's.

In a summary of ordnance activities during the first nine months of the current fiscal year, Knox disclosed that 1 billion 75 million dollars has been expended or committed to contracts. By June 30, this total is expected to pass the billion and a half mark.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23.—Brighton and the surrounding region, an area embracing a population of 300,000, had a milkless day today, despite the food ministry's plea to milk distributors not to deprive their customers of an entire day's supply each week to achieve the one-seventh cut in sales ordered by the government. Food officers and dairymen Friday will discuss means of preventing a repetition of the Brighton muddle.

1,000 AIRPLANES MADE IN U. S. AND CANADA JOIN RAF

Reserve Is 100 Per Cent, Says Beaverbrook.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23.—Almost 1,000 warplanes built in the United States and Canada already have been turned over to Britain's Royal air force, Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production, told the house of lords today.

Lord Beaverbrook.

The flow of aircraft, he added, is increasing steadily, and Britain has increased her reserve of five operational types until she has a plane in storage for every one in operation—a "100 per cent reserve." It is hoped to increase that figure, he declared, to 200 or 300 per cent.

Since last fall only one of "a great many machines" flown across the Atlantic has been lost, the minister stated, and in March Britain produced two and one-half times as many fighters, bombers, and other operation types of planes as she did in March, 1940.

Losses in Convoy "a Drain."

He admitted there has been "a steady drain on our shipments by sea of aircraft from America due to losses in convoy" and said a lag existed in the supply and manufacture of raw materials in this country.

Beaverbrook said the American engine was as "good as any others in the world." To facilitate engine manufacture in the United States, Britain, he said has embarked upon a one engine program. She also is sending all types of operational planes and several types of engines to America, presumably for experimental purposes.

"We shall one day certainly reach the supply I was authorized by the United States to promise just six months ago."

Ocean Ferry to Be Extended.

Scoffing at German reports that the trans-Atlantic air ferry is being discontinued, he said that it will be extended and that fighters, as well as bombers, will be flown to England.

Beaverbrook said German claims "to have caused disaster to our aircraft industries had turned out to be nothing at all," because plants had been spread over wide areas.

He admitted an equipment shortage exists, particularly in guns, radio apparatus, and navigational lights, and called for greater drive and energy to overcome the difficulties here.

BILL TO AUTHORIZE INCREASE IN NAVAL PERSONNEL SIGNED

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed into law today a bill increasing the authorized enlisted strength of the navy from 191,000 to 232,000 and empowering the President to increase it further to 300,000 whenever a sufficient emergency existed.

The measure permits a increase in the marine corps enlisted strength from 27,497 to 46,400, with an emergency maximum of 60,000.

The navy commissioned officer strength would be increased from 7,562 to 12,760 and that of the marine corps from 1,512 to 2,552.

5 EVANSTONIANS PICKED TO MAKE FREEMAN PROBE

Mayor S. G. Ingraham of Evanston named a nonpartisan committee of five citizens yesterday to investigate the character and fitness of William O. Freeman for the job of police chief.

The five are Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president emeritus of Northwestern university; Dr. James A. James, dean emeritus of the graduate school of the university, and Ralph Shanesy, William MacDonough, and John S. Burchmore, lawyers.

Freeman, who headed the Evanston police department from 1927 to 1939, was appointed to his old post a week ago. Mayor Ingraham on Monday night deferred council action on the appointment because of what he called rumors against Freeman. Mayor Ingraham said the citizens' committee will try to discover the source of the rumors.

PUBLIC HOSTILITY TO U. S. CONVOYS JOLTS PRESIDENT

It Explains His Concern Over People's Reaction.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—The reason for President Roosevelt's anxiety about the state of public opinion, which he has expressed at his last two press conferences, was disclosed today by well informed congressional sources. The President has been advised by the administration leadership that neither congress nor public opinion would approve the use of American warships in convoying munitions to England.

The popular opposition to convoying is reflected in the mail received by senators and representatives, which has increased greatly since the British reverses in North Africa and in Greece. Members of congress have noted in their correspondence of the last few days an increasing sentiment against any move toward involvement of the United States as a shooting participant in the war.

People Appraise Situation.

There is a spreading conviction that regardless of England's chance of survival, Britain cannot defeat Germany, not even with the help of the United States. Appraising the military probabilities in this manner, the people are turning away from the Roosevelt policy of underwriting a British victory at any cost. They are demanding in far greater numbers than ever before that the United States stay out of a seemingly hopeless fight in Europe and get ready to defend the western hemisphere against all contingencies.

The great majority of letters to congressmen now are concerned with the burning convoy issue, and the ratio of opposition to convoys is overwhelming. The case of Senator Harold H. Burton [R., O.] was found to be typical of a number of so-called middle-of-the-road senators. Over the week-end, according to his office force, he received 1,000 letters, only 17 of which favored using American warships on convoy duty.

Opposed to Participation.

Senator Burton voted for the dictator British aid bill but is opposed to American intervention as a shooting participant in the war. Other senators who have taken about the same position on the war issue and whose mail on the convoy question is running in approximately the same ratio include Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.], Francis T. Maloney [D., Conn.], and Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.].

Altho the most informed congressional leaders believe the President will act without consulting congress, they believe that he is hesitating in the hope that the public mind can be conditioned by propaganda and alarming statements to acquiesce in the convoy step when it comes. Thus they explained Mr. Roosevelt's statement at last Friday's press conference that the people are not taking the war seriously enough, and his statement yesterday that the people should not descend to the depths of despair because of the British defeats in Africa and Greece.

ENGLAND MAKES ARMS AND SHIPS AT HALF U. S. COST

Extravagance and High Wages Add to Price.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—The United States is paying two or three times as much for ships and guns, which may be loaned or leased to Great Britain, as the British are paying for the manufacture of practically identical weapons in embattled England.

The higher costs in America are attributed to higher wages paid labor, which make everything in this country more costly, from raw materials to tools to finished product.

Poor Planning Boosts Cost.

The heavy cost of misdirected effort due to poor planning and organization also adds to the price of American arms. Still another factor is the heavier cost of raw materials which this country must import from British sources.

At the end of the war—if Britain is a victor—she may be able to replace worn out and destroyed American arms she borrowed with weapons which cost her but a fraction of what they cost the American people.

Table of Comparisons.

The comparative costs of ships and weapons in Britain and the United States is shown in the table which follows. English price costs have been translated from the pound sterling at its present value of approximately $4.

WAR SHIPS.	Cost in Britain.	Cost in America.
Battleship	$32,000,000	$*70,000,000
Carriers	14,000,000	43,000,000
Cruiser	8,000,000	19,000,000
Destroyer	1,800,000	5,000,000
Submarines	1,400,000	3,000,000
OTHER WEAPONS.
Bombers	300,000	*400,000
Fighting planes	52,000	*75,000
Tanks [medium]	60,000	100,000
A. A. gun [light]	12,000	20,000
Searchlight	6,000	25,000
Mach gun [light]	400	750
Mach gun [heavy]	1,400	1,600
Field piece	6,000	25,000
Rifle	35	80 to 120
Bomb	180	500
Bomb [armor p'g]	400	1,200

*Minimum; some are higher.

Military experts say that in some of the articles listed the wide variance in cost may be explained by a difference in type, but for the most part the weapons cited are of comparable design.

May Return Obsolete Weapons.

Experts recognize that after the war—if Britain is successful—the bottom will fall out of the arms market and any new weapons the United States may get in return for those loaned or leased will be as obsolete for any future war as those of the world war are today.

Britain will be able to unload a portion of her arms on this country in payment for worn out or destroyed American weapons. It may be that she will be able to sell others to this country as she and France did at the close of the world war.

The British and French unloaded several thousand 75 mm. howitzers which they knew at that time would be obsolete in the next war.

BRITISH AIR RAID SHELTERS, VICE IN THEM SCOLDED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 23. Criticisms against the construction of air raid shelters and the morals of those using them were voiced in the house of commons today. Ellen Wilkinson, parliamentary secretary for the ministry of home security, asked whether the cost of demolishing and reconstructing defective air raid shelters would be borne by the government.

"The home office," she said "is considering what should be done with certain contractors" who took advantage of a relaxation of building restrictions which allowed lime mortar to be used during the cement shortage. However, she insisted reports of defective shelters are greatly exaggerated.

A home office spokesman described as "greatly exaggerated" charges made by the public morality council that shelters are being used for "improper purposes."

Olson, who lived at 8221 Laflin street, was a witness in a recent jury fix case which involved an election fraud.

CONGRESS FIGHT OPENS TODAY ON NEW TAX RATES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—A battle between congress and the treasury over increased income tax rates will begin tomorrow with the appearance of Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. as the first witness at the first open hearing held by the house ways and means committee considering methods of raising 3½ billion dollars in new revenue.

The committee's experts have drafted a schedule of proposed tax increases that would be considerably easier on the low and middle income groups than the program proposed by the treasury. Substantial increases were recommended by the congressional revenue raisers, but they are far less drastic than the treasury suggestions, especially on incomes up to $25,000 a year.

Goal of Both 3½ Billions.

Both the treasury and the committee have set as their goal the raising of approximately 3½ billions, making a total of 13 billions to be paid in taxes next year. This will leave a deficit of about 6 billions to be raised by borrowing.

In lieu of the stiff surtaxes on lower incomes advocated by the treasury, the committee experts proposed that new luxury and nuisance taxes be levied and that the estate taxes be raised steeply. The latter taxes would be greater in most cases than even the British wartime estate taxes. For example, on a $60,000 inheritance the beneficiary now pays $660. Under the committee plan, the tax charged would be $4,480, compared with $4,320 British taxes. On a $200,000 estate, the committee tax would be $50,205, compared with $20,460 current tax, and $33,600 British taxes.

Advocate Lower Surtax.

Under the income tax rates proposed by the committee experts, a surtax beginning at 6 per cent on the first $1,000 of surtax income would be imposed. However, $2,000 would be the allowable deduction on surtax income. The treasury proposed a 11 per cent surtax on the first dollar of income after the present allowable deductions are taken.

Under the rates proposed by the committee staff, a married couple with $3,000 income would pay a tax of $97 next year compared with $152 under the treasury proposal. The present tax on such a couple is $31.

The committee experts estimated that their proposals would raise approximately 1 billion 100 millions more from income tax sources, compared with 1 billion 517 millions estimated from the treasury suggestions.

San Diego, Cal., April 23 [Special]. —New flying boats of the Catalina series are rolling off assembly lines of the Consolidated Aircraft corporation here. After test flights they are expected to be delivered to the royal air force coastal command or flown to the far east. The British say the ships' long range will fit them for convoy duty in the Atlantic.

BRANDS BRIDGES 'GREATEST' FOE OF LABOR CAUSE

CIO Leader a Communist, Witness Asserts.

San Francisco, Cal., April 23 [Special].—"Harry Bridges is the greatest enemy the labor movement ever had," a government witness declared today at the deportation hearing against the alien California CIO director.

The witness, Robert Wilmot, former Portland, Ore., communist, testified in the proceedings before Examiner Charles Sears that he considered Bridges "too dictatorial" and charged that "attempts are made to frame people who disagree with him."

Warned to Silence.

Wilmot completed his testimony today and was followed on the stand by Richard St. Clair, a former guard at San Francisco communist headquarters, who swore that the Australian born water front labor leader conferred there with communist party leaders and that other communists told him:

"Yes, Bridges is one of us, but keep your mouth shut about it."

Defense attorneys asked Wilmot if he hadn't been outsted from the WPA project for excessive drinking and if Bridges hadn't told him he'd have to stop drinking if he wanted to continue as editor of the Labor New Dealer.

"The communists had me kicked off the WPA project," insisted Wilmot, and he denied Bridges had rebuked him for drinking.

St. Clair, now employed as a laborer in Los Angeles, was the government's 15th witness. He testified Bridges made several visits to local communist headquarters while he was a "$5 a week" guard and errand boy there in 1936. In May, 1936, St. Clair said, Bridges conferred for two hours with William Schneidermann, No. 1 California communist and other party members.

Tells of Red Meeting.

St. Clair said Bridges arrived with Henry Schmidt and John Schumacher, maritime labor figures, and "sat around a table with Schneidermann, Elmer Hanoff, and Lawrence Roth," who have been mentioned previously in the hearing as communists.

During cross-examination Richard Gladstein, of defense counsel asked St. Clair to tell how the men were seated. St. Clair began drawing a map of the room and designating where the various conferees sat. He glanced at Bridges as he drew the map and said:

CHARGES LEWIS HURLED INSULT AT ROOSEVELT

Quoted as Saying: "He Must Crawl to Me."

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Representative Clare E. Hoffman.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—The house was told today that a violent and insulting challenge has been flung at President Roosevelt by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, as a result of the President's call to the soft coal industry to resume operations pending a settlement of the striker's demands.

Lewis was quoted by Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], as telling his associates: "The President will have to come to me crawling on his stomach before I accede to any of his requests."

A report to this effect has been circulating in the capital and several statesmen have attributed the origin of the story to the White House itself which presumably was informed of Lewis' defiant declaration.

Need Law for Men Like Lewis.

Hoffman and other advocates of legislation to cure the strike evil in industries affecting the arms program cited the alleged Lewis remark as evidence of the need for an act outlawing shutdowns which hamper armaments production.

"The President and his mediation board may hope to end these strikes by persuasion," Hoffman declared. "But a law is needed when you are dealing with a man like Lewis, once the President's warmest supporter."

The house rules committee listened all day to proponents and opponents of the Vinson bill which establishes compulsory mediation of labor disputes that might impede the arms program. It deferred until tomorrow a decision on giving right of way to the legislation next week. Democratic leaders have conceded that the committee will send the measure to the floor for debate and a vote beginning Monday.

Weakness of System Cited.

Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], of the naval affairs committee, sponsor of the bill, argued before the rules committee that the administration's failure to send the soft coal shutdown to the mediation board demonstrated the major weakness of the President's system of reducing arms production stoppages.

"Under the present system," he noted, "the only disputes that can go to mediation are those which Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins certifies. It's a pertinent question why the coal strike has not been certified. We all know that John L. Lewis has said he won't sit in mediation and if the strike were certified it would immediately blow up the mediation board and show that it has no power."

[Secretary Perkins early this morning turned the coal dispute over to the Defense Mediation board. Details in business section.]

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] attacked the Vinson bill as "a circuitous, cumbersome, and unexpeditious approach" to the difficulty of labor disputes in arms industries. He called for a simple and direct approach to the problem and announced he would offer a substitute measure.

AFL Opposes Vinson Bill.

George Meany, AFL secretary, told the committee that his organization was "absolutely and unalterably" opposed to the Vinson bill.

"If congress can compel persons to work for 25 days against their will it can compel them to work for 25 months or 25 years," he declared.

"Congress is making the draftees work for a year," remarked Representative Leo E. Allen [R., Ill.]. "What difference is there?"

SEAMEN DRUNK AND MUTINOUS, SAYS SKIPPER

New York, April 23 [Special].—Nine seamen aboard the American export liner Siboney were charged today with misconduct that amounted to mutiny at a hearing conducted by the Bureau of Marine Investigation. The seamen pleaded not guilty.

Capt. Wenzell Habel, master of the Siboney, presented the charges. He said the men refused to man their positions and let go the lines in the port of Lisbon at the scheduled sailing time on March 17.

In addition the master and the chief officer said the liner was delayed in sailing for New York for 35 minutes and that some of the crew were unable to respond to orders because they were under the influence of liquor. Recent disclosures showed that American ships are being manned by inefficient, surly, and insolent seamen.

UNION, BUILDERS FORBID STRIKES ON DEFENSE JOBS

A resolution forbidding strikes by union bricklayers and masons on any national preparedness project here was passed yesterday by the joint arbitration board of the Associated Builders and the Bricklayers and and Masons union, local No. 22.

H. M. Stanton, secretary of the builders, said the board also revised the rules concerning union apprentices for the purpose of encouraging youths to become bricklayers and masons. The union has 8,000 members and the Associated Builders is composed of 300 contractors. They agreed to extend their present wage pact to May 31, 1942, with an hourly wage of $1.70.

CLOSE HEARINGS ON HARVESTER PLANT UNIONS

Hearings to decide on employes' bargaining agencies at the McCormick and West Pullman works of the International Harvester company were closed tentatively yesterday by R. J. Denham, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations board. Today he will conduct a similar hearing at the company's plant in Milwaukee.

Federal industrial unions of the American Federation of Labor claim majorities of the 6,400 employés at McCormick works and the 2,300 employés at West Pullman. The Farm Equipment Workers Organizing committee [CIO] also asserts it has such majorities and it was indicated elections will be held to settle the question.

The McCormick works was closed for three weeks last month by a CIO strike, marked by violence. The tractor works was shut down for nine weeks in a similar strike.

GMC-CIO DISPUTE PUT IN HANDS OF SPECIAL BOARD

Detroit, Mich., April 23.—Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner today appointed a special commission to mediate a contract dispute between the CIO automobile workers and General Motors corporation and called for the resignations of two members of the state labor mediation board.

The governor accused the two members, Walter Moers and Arthur E. Raab, of obstructionism and said they had acted prematurely in demanding a 30 day strike notice from the union. This they deny and accuse the governor of prolabor activity.

The union, which is taking a strike vote in 61 General Motors plants thruout the country, is demanding a 10 cent an hour wage increase, union shop recognition, and a revised shop steward sytem.

SURFACE LINES TRACKMEN ASK WAGE INCREASE

The executive committee of the tracklayers, construction and repairmen's union local 1009, announced last night that the union had voted to terminate the present agreement with the Chicago Surface lines on May 31, and to demand a new contract. Among the demands are a 14 cent an hour increase in pay, two weeks instead of one week vacation, adjustment of hours, and inauguration of a pension system. A. F. Obrill, secretary, said that about 1,200 men would be affected.

WORK FOR PEACE ANOTHER MONTH, WIN—WHEELER

Sentiment Against War Growing, He Says.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., April 23.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] today said that he believed if the warmongers could be held at bay for another month the United States might be safe from involvement in the European war.

Resting at the home of his daughter in Milwaukee after a meeting last night which drew a record crowd of 13,000, Wheeler said that public sentiment had swung enormously against war. He added that he did not believe that the President, convinced of this fact, would dare plunge the country into the conflict.

"Many Afraid to Speak."

"Because the administration has tried to browbeat and intimidate people to keep them from expressing antipathy to war by intimating they are pro-Nazi or anti-Semitic, many have been afraid to speak out," he said. "I find that the people are gaining courage and are beginning to realize that the administration measures are not peace, but war measures.

"The war mongers are becoming frantic," he said, "and are no longer hiding behind the peace slogans. They have given up the mask of measures short of war.

"They are no longer trying to answer argument with argument, but are resorting to a contemptible smear campaign."

Requests Radio Time.

Before leaving for Minneapolis, where he speaks tomorrow night, Senator Wheeler sent telegrams to the Mutual Broadcasting system, the National Broadcasting company, and the Columbia Broadcasting system, asking for an all-chain hookup.

He recalled that this courtesy had been extended to Col. William J. [Wild Bill] Donovan when the latter returned from the Balkans as an observer for President Roosevelt, and asked for the same arrangement. Senator Wheeler said he would like the all-chain broadcast either on April 27 in Chicago, or on April 30 in Boston.

CLEAN PAST WINS THEATER ROBBER SUSPENDED TERM

An exemplary previous record and some excellent character witnesses yesterday won a six month suspended sentence for Francis Berry, 31 years old, 6041 Sangamon street, when he was arraigned before Judge Justin F. McCarthy in Felony court on a robbery charge.

Berry was caught a few seconds after robbing the cashier of the McVickers theater, 25 West Madison street, of $101 Monday night. He was intoxicated at the time, was unarmed, and had $84 of his own money in his pocket. W. H. Moore, theater manager; the girl cashier, and the doorman who caught Berry, all asked leniency for him. Moore said he felt Berry's clean record and his family obligations entitled him to mercy.

Judge McCarthy said he would entertain a motion for probation May 2, when a report from the probation department will be heard. Judge McCarthy said he granted the suspended sentence because of the host of reputable business men who testified to Berry's character. Berry promised to quit drinking after Judge McCarthy told him he was lucky he hadn't been shot.

'AMERICA FIRST'S 70 ILLINOIS UNITS TO HEAR WHEELER

All 70 chapters of the America First committee in Illinois, as well as several in Indiana and Michigan, have announced their intention of sending delegations to hear a speech by Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] Sunday at the Chicago arena, Erie street and McClurg court.

This announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, national vice chairman of the committee, who will preside at the gathering.

An overflow crowd is expected and plans have been made to carry the speeches outside the arena over a loud speaker system as was done last week when Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, speaking at a similar America First rally, urged the nation to unite for peace.

Veterans of three wars will act as a guard of honor for the senator, who is on a nation-wide speaking crusade seeking to arouse Americans against involvement in foreign wars.

Charge Dismissed

HERTA WEINTRAUB.

Disorderly conduct charges against Miss Herta Weintraub, 20 years old, 5130 Sheridan road, were dismissed yesterday by Police Magistrate Elmer J. Tone of Morton Grove. Miss Weintraub, an Austrian refugee, and Martin Weinberger, 38, of Minneapolis, an interior decorator, were arrested a week ago in the latter's parked car by Deputies Francis Dalton and Edgar Ward of the sheriff's police, Morton Grove district.

Police testified that they heard a shot and found Weinberger with a gun. Lieut. Henry Andell of the Morton Grove sheriff's police said Miss Weintraub told him that Weinberger had intended to kill them both, and that Weinberger said he intended to kill himself because of inability to obtain a divorce and marry Miss Weintraub.

Yesterday, however, Miss Weintraub told William Rotchford, assistant state's attorney, that on thinking it over she was certain that Weinberger, who aided her and other refugees to reach this country, had no wish to harm her. A charge of assault with a deadly weapon against Weinberger will be heard next Wednesday. He is free on bond.

JUDGE WONDERS IF JOE'S ALONE IN MILK TRUCK

The question of whether Joseph Michalik has a woman companion, not his wife, in his closed milk truck when he is making deliveries intrigued Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday. Mrs. Anna Michalik, 2904 North Monitor avenue, who has a separate maintenance bill pending against Joseph, said she was certain he was not alone on his route.

Attorneys Joseph H. and Norman Becker, counsel for Michalik, said they were just as sure Michalik was a lone wolf.

Mrs. Michalik can search the truck at any time," Norman Becker said.

"We don't want to delay the deliveries," Judge Desort remarked. "The milk must go thru."

Michalik, who lives at 6506 Belmont avenue, was not in court and the judge ruled he must appear next Monday on a contempt citation for being $70 in arrears in alimony to his wife.

"If he's not here," Judge Desort said, "I'll send a tow truck to bring him in with his milk truck."

M. L. ROTHSCHILD FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

Civic, Business Leaders Praise Merchant.

Funeral services for Maurice L. Rothschild, president of the State street clothing store bearing his name, will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in the Gold room at the Drake hotel. Burial will be private in Rosehill cemetery.

Civic and merchant leaders yesterday paid tribute to Mr. Rothschild, a major figure in the Chicago business world for almost 40 years. He died earlier in the day in Michael Reese hospital, where he underwent a major operation on April 10. He was 76 years old.

Praised by City Council.

The city council, by a rising vote, adopted a resolution presented by Mayor Kelly mourning Mr. Rothschild's death. The resolution recited his contributions "to the development of Chicago thru his uncommon energy and his ability to translate his faith in Chicago into enterprise that benefited thousands of our citizens." A copy of the resolution was ordered forwarded to his family.

The State street council announced that its membership, consisting of business leaders on the street, would be present in a group at the funeral.

Mr. Rothschild was born at Nordstetten, Germany, on April 30, 1864, and came to this country at the age of 14. His first job in Chicago was a handy man in a West Monroe street clothing store. Later, after working for a Springfield clothing merchant, young Rothschild went into business for himself.

Sells from Covered Wagon.

He stocked a covered wagon with clothing and made his way into the Kansas cattle country. Then he opened a shop in Seneca, Kas., and soon a second one in Sabetha, Kas., 18 miles away. He commuted between the two towns, operating both stores. Prospering, he opened a clothing store in Minneapolis in 1887 and another in St. Paul in 1892.

It had been his boyhood ambition to own a State street store in Chicago. He chose a neglected corner at Jackson boulevard and State street, and while friends and competitors scoffed he built his eight floor store there in 1906.

The Rothschild home is at 2031 Sheridan road, Highland Park, but he and Mrs. Rothschild spent much time at the Drake hotel. She is the former Hulda Bloom, whom he married in 1927. His first wife, Gusta Morris, daughter of Nelson Morris, died in 1922. Mr. Rothschild had no children.

125,000 ADDED TO CIVIL SERVICE BY F. D. R. ORDER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Approximately 125,000 jobs were blanketed into the civil service today by President Roosevelt by an executive order issued under the authority of the Ramspeck Act which extends the merit system.

The order placed thousands of government lawyers under civil service, thus applying the act for the first time to members of the legal profession. The order will enable thousands of new dealers to keep their jobs in future administrations.

In signing the order Mr. Roosevelt issued a statement in which he said:

"For the first time in the history of this government the greatest possible opportunities are now open for the development of a broad merit system which will further encourage men and women of outstanding ability to enter the government under conditions which will offer them fair and equal opportunities to build satisfactory careers."

'Bet on America' Watchword of Great Merchant's Career

"I'll bet on America!"

Maurice L. Rothschild said that when he came to Chicago as an immigrant boy from Germany. He was still saying it when the illness which brought his death yesterday ended his career as one of the great merchants of the nation.

"I'll bet on America!" He did that every day of his life, in the opinion of three men who recalled forgotten stories of Mr. Rothschild's colorful career after his death, and stories that never before were told. They are David Mayer Jr., vice president of the Rothschild stores; Ben Dimskie, secretary and controler, and Samuel B. Steele, Mr. Rothschild's intimate friend.

The panic of 1897 was at its worst. There was a run on Minneapolis banks. It was nearly impossible to cash checks. Mr. Rothschild put 20,000 silver dollars in the window of his Minneapolis store. Upon the window he placed these words: "There's plenty of money. We'll cash your checks."

Hundreds came to get the silver dollars for their checks, found that there were more dollars where those came from, and forgot their fears. Confidence was restored thru Mr. Rothschild's confidence. The bank run was halted.

◆

Mr. Rothschild believed that individual enterprise was the cornerstone of America. He encouraged his employés to make their own decisions. His rule was: "Don't be afraid to make mistakes. But don't make the same one twice." Another was: "Go as far as you want to. When you've gone too far, I'll tell you."

◆

In the early years of this century, Mr. Rothschild was an enthusiastic horseman, often driving his own harness horses in races. Before one big race, his driver said Mr. Rothschild's horse could not win. But the stable boy said he could. Mr. Rothschild sent the stable boy in to drive, told him, "You'll win because you have confidence." The boy brought the horse across the finish line a winner.

◆

Ten years ago a strike threatened the entire Philadelphia clothing industry. Mr. Rothschild was called in because of his record for fairness to his own employés and his insistence that there are always two sides to every dispute. He settled the strike between trains.

◆

Mr. Rothschild overheard a customer say the green hat he had bought was a good one but that friends had joked about its color until he threw it out the train window on the way to California. "Give this man a new hat," the merchant told the clerk. "He didn't get his money's worth."

◆

Seldom were unsatisfactory employés dismissed in Mr. Rothschild's stores. He found them a place where they were satisfactory. No more than half a dozen were fired in 30 years.

◆

Men were out of work, building was at a standstill, when Mr. Rothschild decided to build a 13 story addition to his Chicago store. "I'll build, make jobs," he told labor leaders, "if you will pass the work around." Contractors objected. But he insisted, and the work was divided among many men.

◆

"Forget the word 'I,'" the merchant always told his employés. "It's 'We' in this store, for you and me both."

Mr. Rothschild went to his vault at the time of the bank holiday in 1933. He took out $2,000,000 in government bonds and told a great Chicago bank, "You may use this—without security."

PARLEYS DELAY LEGISLATION ON SUPERHIGHWAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Cook county's toll superhighway bill, stalled on the floor of the house since it passed first reading on March 20, continued to be enmeshed today in a shuffle of lobby negotiations among county, Chicago city hall, and state house representatives.

After this afternoon's session, Representative Edward J. McCabe [D., Chicago] announced that he will introduce a series of amendments tomorrow providing for a two man authority, one to be appointed by the mayor and the other by the county board, empowered to issue bonds for construction of toll roads in Chicago and Cook county. As the bill now stands, the superintendent of the Cook county highway department would be the road building authority. The authority could build inside Chicago with council approval.

The county-city hookup is a substitute for another proposal which failed to win Gov. Dwight Green's approval. That proposal would have created a five man road building authority with three members appointed by the governor.

U. S. NAVY BLIMP CRASHES CLOSE TO FOREST FIRE

Lakehurst, N. J., April 23 (AP).—The navy blimp L-1 was forced down and slightly damaged today one mile from a raging forest fire. The crew had been directing fire fighters.

The fabric of the blimp was torn and the cabin bent in the forced landing. Trucks took the cloth and the cabin to Lakehurst, about four miles away, while the crew returned in automobiles.

Lieutenant Commander George F. Watson of the naval air station said the skipper decided on the landing when the blimp failed to maintain adequate gas pressure rather than attempt to fix it in the air.

The crash of the L-1 came 13 days after its sister ship, the L-2, was wrecked in a crash on the reservation. Lieut. Henry F. Burfeind was in command in both instances.

PLUNGES 70 FEET TO DEATH.

James Quinn, 40 years old, 2833 Washington boulevard, a structural ironworker, fell 70 feet to his death yesterday from the roof of a building on which he was working at the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, Corliss avenue and 103d street.

U. S. IS SWINGING AWAY FROM WAR, SEN. NYE ASSERTS

Week's Events in Europe Turn Tide, He Says.

New Haven, Conn., April 23 (AP).—Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota told a peace rally of Yale students today that the last week of the European war marked "a turning point in American thinking and leadership."

Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

"During the last week an awakening was felt on every hand and there is now a much better than even chance to keep America out of war," Senator Nye told the group of more than 600 undergraduates and a sprinkling of men and women graduate students.

Previously, he asserted, "there was little more than no chance" of avoiding American participation.

Nye charged that "the same blueprints of propaganda, the same charts, the same appeals to the American people are being employed" to assure American participation in the present war "as were employed in 1917."

More American Thinking.

From now on, he said, there will be "much more American thinking in America than European thinking. There will be much more consideration of the future of our own country than of the future of Europe."

He charged that "the causes for which we allegedly fought in the last war have not been won, and broken homes, broken hearts, broken debts and broken obligations have been the result."

"The republic is still threatened because of the burden of the inheritance from that war."

Opened Way to Isms.

"If we had minded our own business in 1917," Nye asserted, "none of the isms would have swept the continent of Europe, breaking down parliamentary governments."

"If we do permit ourselves to be fooled again in the same way, the shame will not be on any European cause, but upon this generation of Americans who let themselves be played upon in an emotional way."

Referring to the transfer of destroyers and passage of the British aid bill, Nye said that the "challenge to the people of the United States today will be their expressing a determined stand that that is as far as America will go, and no further."

RUN OVER BY BUS; DIES.

John Honan, 68 years old, a retired grocer who was run over by a Surface lines bus on March 22, died yesterday in St. Anne's hospital. Police said Honan, who lived at 5219 Potomac avenue, fell as he was boarding the bus at Central avenue and Division street.

PICKETS ROUTED AT LINDBERGH 'NO WAR' RALLY

10,000 Hear Warning of British Scheme.

may be able to persuade us to send another American expeditionary force to Europe, and to share with England militarily, as well as financially, the fiasco of this war."

Col. Lindbergh said he did not blame England for this hope or for asking our assistance, but that it was now known the British declared a war "under circumstances which led to the defeat of every nation that sided with her—from Poland to Greece."

"We know that in the desperation of war England promised to all these nations armed assistance that she could not send," he went on. "We know that she misinformed them, as she has misinformed us, concerning her state of preparation, her military strength, and the progress of the war."

Propaganda Replaces Truth.

In time of war, the flyer asserted, truth was always replaced by propaganda.

"But we in this country have a right to think of the welfare of America first," he declared, "just as the people in England thought first of their own country when they encouraged the smaller nations of Europe to fight against hopeless odds."

Lindbergh said he had been forced to the conclusion that America could not win the war for England, regardless of how much assistance we extend to her.

"I ask you to look at the map of Europe today and see if you can suggest any way in which we could win this war if we entered it," said Lindbergh. "Suppose we had a large army in America, trained and equipped. Where would we send it to fight? The campaigns of the war show only too clearly how difficult it is to force a landing, or to maintain an army on a hostile coast.

Convoys Won't Win War.

"Suppose we took our navy from the Pacific and used it to convoy British shipping. That would not win the war for England. It would, at best, permit her to exist under the constant bombing of the German air fleet.

"Suppose we had an air force that we could send to Europe. Where could it operate? Some of our squadrons might be based in the British Isles; but it is physically impossible to base enough aircraft in the British Isles alone to equal in strength the aircraft that can be based on the continent of Europe."

These suppositions were based on a fully armed country, Lindbergh added. He pointed out the United States today has only a one ocean navy, an army untrained and inadequately equipped for foreign war, an air force deplorably lacking in modern fighting planes.

The Real "Defeatists."

The answer of interventionists to these facts, the flyer noted, was that the antiwar forces were defeatists undermining democracy and giving comfort to Germany by talking about our military weakness. But it was the interventionists who were the defeatists, Lindbergh maintained.

"I say it is the interventionist in America, as it was in England and in France, who gives comfort to the enemy," declared Lindbergh. "I say it is they who are undermining the principles of democracy when they demand that we take a course to which more than 80 per cent of our citizens are opposed.

"I charge them with being the real defeatists, for their policy has led to the defeat of every country that followed their advice since this war began. There is no better way to give comfort to an enemy than to divide the people of a nation over the issue of foreign war. There is no shorter road to defeat than by entering a war with inadequate preparation.

"Every nation that has adopted the interventionist policy of depending on some one else for its own defense has met with nothing but defeat and failure."

Then the famous flyer stated his policy or creed for the welfare of the country. He said:

"There is a policy open to this nation that will lead to success—a policy that leaves us free to follow our own way of life and to develop our own civilization. It is not a new and untried idea. It was advocated by Washington. It was incorporated in the Monroe Doctrine.

"Under the guidance of this policy the United States became the greatest nation in the world. It is based upon the belief that the security of a nation lies in the strength and character of its own people.

Reversing the Procedure.

"This policy recommends the maintenance of armed forces sufficient to defend this hemisphere from attack by any combination of foreign powers. It demands faith in an independent American destiny. This is the policy of the America First committee today.

"It is a policy not of isolation, but of independence; not of defeat, but of courage. It is a policy that led this nation to success during the most trying years of our history, and it is a policy that will lead us to success again."

Lindbergh declared that virtually every difficulty we would face in invading Europe becomes an asset in defending America.

"Our enemy, and not we, would then have the problem of transporting millions of troops across the ocean and landing them on a hostile shore," he maintained. "They, and not we, would have to furnish the convoys to transport guns and trucks and munitions and fuel across three thousand miles of water.

"Our battleships and submarines would then be fighting close to their home bases. We would then do the bombing from the air and the torpedoing at sea. And if any part of an enemy convoy should ever pass our navy and our air force, they would still be faced with the guns of our coast artillery, and behind them, the divisions of our army."

Denies War Is Inevitable.

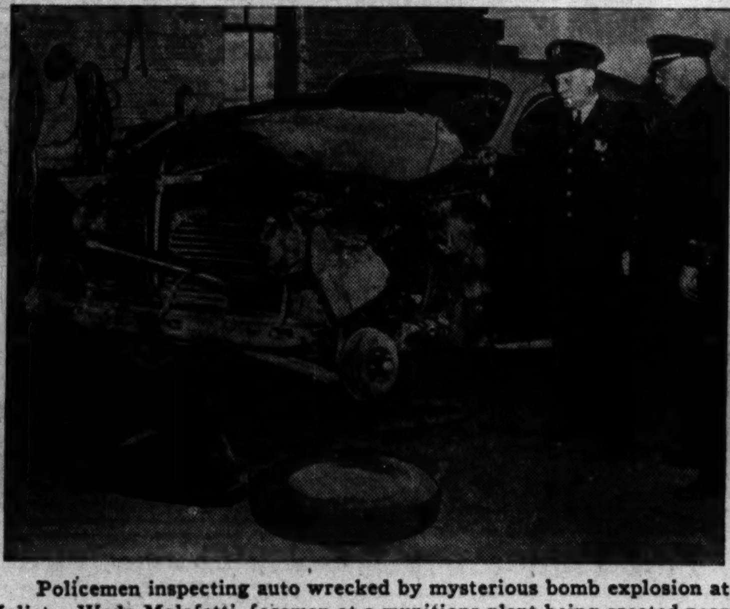
War was not inevitable for the country and such a claim was "defeatism in the true sense," Lindbergh contended.

"The time has come when those of us who believe in an independent American destiny must band together and organize for strength," he continued. "We have been led toward war by a minority of our people. This minority has power. It has influence. It has a loud voice. But it does not represent the American people."

The majority of the people of the country—people who have no influence or power, citizens who have to work so hard at their daily tasks that they have no time to organize political gatherings—are opposed to entry in the war, according to Lindbergh. They relied on their vote, but found it was forgotten after the political campaign, he said.

It was for these people, "the true strength of our country, the people who must do the paying and the fighting and the dying if this country goes into the war, that the America First committee was organized." Lindbergh declared the time to act had come.

Munitions Worker's Car Bombed



Policemen inspecting auto wrecked by mysterious bomb explosion at Joliet. Wedo Malafatti, foreman at a munitions plant being erected near Joliet, was injured. He said a blast hurled him into the street when he turned ignition key.

[Associated Press Photo.]

Seek Motive

The Joliet police were striving last night to discover a motive for the bombing and serious injury of Wedo Malafatti, also known as Frank Dalton, a subforeman employed in the construction of the new Kankakee munitions plant in Will county.

The bomb, made of several sticks of dynamite, was placed under the hood of Malafatti's car and exploded when he turned the ignition key. He had just left a rooming house at 108 East Washington street, Joliet, to go to work. The explosion hurled him from the car and he suffered a broken ankle and other injuries. The automobile was wrecked.

Malafatti, who is 47 years old, is a member of the structural iron workers' union. He told police he had had no trouble at the munitions plant, knew of no personal enemies and could offer no clew to the bomber. Formerly a resident of Johnston City, Ill., Malafatti had lived in Joliet since 1923. Until recently he was on WPA.

PLAN FOR ACTION ON REDISTRICTING KILLED IN SENATE

Downstaters Hold Fast to Defeat Proposal.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Senator Barr.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Any slim hopes that the general assembly might reapportion the state's legislative districts this session, and give Chicago added representation at Springfield in accordance with its population were dashed by the senate today.

Voting strictly along Cook county-downstate lines, the members, by a count of 31 to 19, killed a house resolution calling for appointment of a commission to study the vexatious problem of reapportionment and report back with a plan for its solution. The 31 were downstaters.

Senator Barr Wields Ax.

Senator Richard J. Barr [R., Joliet], white haired dean of the legislature, wielded the ax on the resolution. It had been approved by the executive committee a few minutes earlier, but Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago], the minority leader, started fireworks when he proposed an amendment that the committee be instructed to bring back a reapportionment plan calling for 26 districts in Cook county, which now has 19, and 26 downstate.

"I wonder if we hadn't better kill both the amendment and the resolution?" suggested Senator Barr in his customary mild tone.

Green's Message Read.

Ward protested, and, producing Gov. Dwight Green's inaugural message, read the passage recommending that since no redistricting has been made since 1901, despite the constitutional provision that one shall follow every 10 years, the assembly reapportion under the present law, or suggest a constitutional amendment for some other "equitable" plan.

Barr replied that no state with a large city such as Chicago permitted the city to control its legislature.

When the roll was called sectional lines held as they always do, and the subject was killed—for another two years.

A start was made late in the day on the subject of congressional redistricting with the house apportionment committee hearing first witnesses in behalf of the Luckey bill to establish 13 Cook county districts [now 10] and 13 downstate [now 15]. Another hearing will be held Tuesday.

VILLA PARK CIVIL SERVICE ELECTION RESULT IN DOUBT

Eight days after voting on a proposition to place the five man police force of Villa Park, in Du Page county, under civil service, citizens of the village were still uncertain yesterday as to whether the proposition had carried.

On April 16, the day after the voting, local newspapers announced that an unofficial count showed the proposition had won, 1,219 to 996.

But Monday night, when the village board was to make the official canvass, the tally sheets for one of the five precincts could not be found. Yesterday Thomas A. Matthews, village attorney, said the sheets probably were in a large bag which also contains returns on the election of village officials. A court order to open the bag will be sought within a few days, he said.

Driver Fined

MRS. NONIE HORVATH.

Mrs. Nonie Horvath, 25 years old, 300 West 74th street, was fined $10 for reckless driving and another $5 for lacking a driver's license when arraigned in Safety court yesterday before Judge Jay A. Schiller.

Mrs. Horvath drove into the rear of a police car last Thursday glancing off into the show window of an auto repair shop at 428 North Sacramento boulevard. She explained that another car hit her before the actual unpleasantness started.

Two men charged with driving while intoxicated got County jail sentences. They are Charles Sturnfield, 35, of 2651 West 15th street, 10 days; and William Plunkett, 35, of 9236 Winston avenue, 20 days. Sturnfield lost his driving privilege for 30 days, Plunkett for a year.

WITHDRAWS BILL FOR TAKING IHSA AUTHORITY AWAY

Springfield, Ill., April 23 (AP).—Representative Warren Wood [R., Plainfield] said today the Illinois High School association has agreed to reconsider its ban against state high schools competing in national band concerts and also has consented to study proposals that high school athletic officials have a greater voice in control of interscholastic sports.

As a result of this "gentlemen's agreement," Wood withdrew a bill by which he proposed to transfer the IHSA's authority to the office of the state superintendent of public instruction.

Wood said he filed his bill originally because of complaints about the state association's restrictions against band competitions and its supervision of basketball tournaments and other sports events.

Maj. Stainhower Named Recruiting Officer Here

Maj. Earl E. Stainhower, head of the army recruiting office in Peoria, became director of the Chicago recruiting station yesterday. He succeeded Maj. Taylor W. Foreman, who has been on sick leave.

ABORTION PLOT CHARGE IS FILED AGAINST PIQUETT

Louis Piquett, disbarred attorney, was booked yesterday by the Central police on charges of conspiracy to commit abortions. The action was taken after attorneys appeared before Chief Justice James F. Fardy in Criminal court seeking the release of Piquett and four other persons arrested Tuesday night in the police investigation of a local abortion ring. Piquett later was released in $8,000 bail.

Piquett and Frank Senft, 7701 East End avenue, were seized in a physician's office at 190 North State street, where police also found records now being scrutinized by Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Papanek. The writ in Senft's behalf was withdrawn at his request and he was returned to the custody of Papenek, who will question him further today.

How to Build Self-Confidence

by DALE CARNEGIE

How can self-confidence be developed? A good answer lies in our vast air-training program.

Almost every student pilot does better work after his first solo flight than before. True, he may not have learned anything new during those ten minutes alone in the air, but he has acquired something vitally important: confidence.

And how has he acquired it? By doing the thing he feared to do until he had a record of successful experience behind him.

I have used that principle to help twenty thousand men and women acquire self-confidence in public speaking. No matter how frightened they were at first, I kept them practicing before small groups until they had behind them a record of successful experiences.

Another method is to concentrate on things you are naturally good at. Neither Abe Lincoln nor Thomas Edison had more than a few months' schooling; yet they both developed self-confidence by capitalizing on their natural abilities: Lincoln on his stories and speeches; Edison on his inventions.

Self-confidence is bred largely through a knowledge of past successes. By doing things at which you are most apt to be successful, you will gradually feel more confident and more at ease* with people.

Why does a Golf Ball bounce?

EVER notice that a golf ball, when you drop it, bounces higher than something hollow, like a tennis ball?

Know why?

It's partly because of internal pressures, which also have so much to do with Buick's extra FIREBALL power.

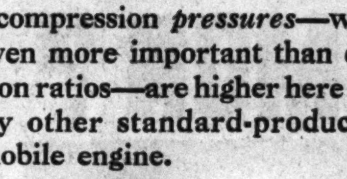
When flattened against a hard object, like a sidewalk, they come back harder, with more push, and so the ball bounces higher.

A similar thing happens inside a Buick FIREBALL straight-eight cylinder.

Fuel compression pressures—which are even more important than compression ratios—are higher here than in any other standard-production automobile engine.



So when the spark jumps in the tightly-packed, fuel-fat ball of gas-mixture at the top of the stroke—the Buick piston goes rushing down with more push, more shove, more power than the same amount of fuel gives up elsewhere.

What that means is pretty important if you go for life and action and thoroughgoing competence in your cars.

It's important if you're interested in thrift—for every Buick engine travels farther per gallon this year than the same-size engines did last year, while Compound Carburetion* with Buick FIREBALL design gives as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon.

In fact, if you're buying any car this year, it's pretty important to see and drive a Buick before you're through; it's Number One in smart engineering as well as Number One in solid, rock-bottom, all-round VALUE!

SLUSH RECORDS DESTROYED, SAYS WOMAN WITNESS

Guard Charges Frauds in Civil Service Tests.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Miss Pauline Rithmiller, bookkeeper, testified this afternoon that records of the 2 per cent slush fund were destroyed by the Democratic state central committee after the November election. She was a witness before a legislative committee investigating civil service malpractices under former administrations.

The session also was marked by a Menard prison guard's charge of cheating and fraud at a 1939 civil service examination in the prison chapel and by a verbal clash with threats of violence between the committee chairman, Representative Robert J. Branson [R., Centralia], and Senator A. L. Marovitz [D., Chicago], a minority member.

Glad to Pay, She Says.

Miss Rithmiller, now secretary to Arthur Sullivan, chairman of the Democratic central committee, testified that while she kept the records for the 2 per cent club it was a happy organization, with state employés welcoming an opportunity to share their pay checks with the campaign kitty.

"The donations were all voluntary," she said, responding to preliminary questions. "I kept an individual sheet in the books for each contributor and would note his donation each month as it was turned in. Some department heads furnished lists of their employés with their donations, while other contributions were received from individuals, personally and by mail."

"Were any of the contributors civil service employés?" Chairman Branson asked.

"I don't know," she replied.

"Did any one check your books to see who had failed to pay?"

"No."

Questioned About Records.

"Where are your records of the Illinoisans [2 per cent club]?" she was asked by Chauncey H. Jenkins, attorney for the investigating committee.

"They have been destroyed."

"Who destroyed them?"

"I turned them over to the Democratic state central committee," she replied, "and they destroyed them after the November election."

She named T. P. Sullivan, parole supervisor under the late Gov. Henry Horner and acting head of state police under Gov. Dwight Green, as one of the collectors for the 2 per cent club who mailed donations to her.

Bert Davenport, a guard at Menard penitentiary, gave another picture of the collection of 2 per cent from state employes' pay checks for the Democratic slush fund.

"We were told by Deputy Warden Brownie Robinson that we paid or else," said the guard. "We were told to kick in at the front office or look for another job.

Says Some Had Answers.

"I took a civil service examination in November of 1939 with about a hundred others in the old chapel at the prison. We sat around big tables and helped each other with the answers. Some of the men had lists of the correct answers."

"Who had the key answers to the questions? Name them," Marovitz demanded.

"I absolutely refuse to answer," the guard replied.

"This man should be cited for contempt or his testimony should be entirely disregarded," said Marovitz as Branson pounded with his gavel.

"I won't sit here and disregard a criminal charge without that charge being pursued."

"You'll preserve order or I'll have the sergeant at arms remove you," said Branson.

"I don't think he'll do it," the young senator replied.

"I'll help him," said bald and short Branson.

Identifies List of Collectors.

Another witness, Alvin Skoog, a general insurance agent, identified a list of about 100 state employés, mostly minor executives, as the names of persons for whom he wrote surety bonds as collectors for the 2 per cent club. This is the same list that was part of the evidence in a circuit court suit, later dismissed, asking for an accounting from high Horner appointees who headed the club.

After several more witnesses had testified about making contributions to the 2 per cent fund the committee chairman announced the inquiry would be continued tomorrow in Kankakee.

Study Needs

Qualifications for and opportunities offered by every job within each of America's 26 leading industries will be studied by 26 committees composed of Chicago's leading business women. Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, chairman, announced these plans of the executive women's committee yesterday at a Youth week luncheon in the Merchandise Mart.

This is the first step in a program to set up a job placement service for high school girls and young job hunters.

The first job clinic will be opened within two months, Mrs. Zinser assured the 38 outstanding high school girls and their mothers, who were guests at the meeting. The basic aim of the committee, she added, is to coördinate industry's job requirements with the preparation given by educational institutions.

SENATE PASSES GREEN'S OIL, BEER AND LIQUOR TAX

House Expected to O. K. Cigaret Levy Today.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sen. Arnold P. Benson.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Gov. Dwight Green's oil, beer, and liquor tax bills passed in the senate today. Tomorrow the house is expected to approve the administration's cigaret tax bill, then both chambers will get busy on other measures with the prospect that the governor's entire program will be adopted within two or three weeks—perhaps earlier.

Under the bill the tax on beer would be increased from 2 to 4 cents a gallon and that on hard liquors from 50 cents to $1 a gallon.

Altho the 3 per cent levy on oil production received the almost unanimous vote of 47 to 1 in the senate—with Minority Leader Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago] the lone dissenter—two hours of debate and parliamentary squabble preceded the roll call.

G. O. P. Votes as a Unit.

However, Majority Leader Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia] wielded the Republicans as a unit whenever they were needed and only at one point was he outflanked. Senator Ward admittedly had control of the situation when, just before roll call, he cited the rule that a bill may not be voted upon unless it has been placed, in amended form if it has been amended, on all members' desks.

Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, president of the senate, acknowledged that Ward's point was well taken and it looked for a moment as tho the roll call would have to be postponed until next week, since amendments adopted yesterday had not been printed.

"O, well, I'll withdraw my objection," Ward said, tolerantly. "Call your bill." His was the only tally against it.

Amendment Opposed.

The row preceding passage came on a motion of Senator A. L. Marovitz [D., Chicago] to return the measure to second reading and strike from it an amendment adopted yesterday which permitted oil companies to keep their production records outside the state if they had out of state headquarters.

Marovitz argued that with the records out of Illinois the state would be at a disadvantage in collecting the tax. Eventually Director of Finance George B. McKibbin was called in and he said the administration felt it had sufficient power without the amendment to collect the tax since it could suspend the operation license of any oil producer who failed to coöperate.

Marovitz asserted that it seemed to him this was a great favor to "big business," which drew this retort from Senator Earl B. Searcy [R., Springfield]:

"Some of you [addressing Democrats] have been trying for eight years to bat the brains out of business. We are trying to give an element of accommodation to the men who are going to pay this tax."

Eventually a roll call showed 27 Republicans voting to allow records to be kept outside the state and 19 Democrats opposing them.

They take the "skunk" out of gasoline

Gasoline has an odor you wouldn't like. It comes from "pro-knock mercaptans"—bad, bad molecules—and chemically is the same odor that gives the skunk his reputation. But nobody could get rid of it, except by covering it up with a "doctor treatment"—which removed the odor, but not the drag on engine performance.

Now, at Shell's "University of Petroleum," they have found a way to take the pro-knock mercaptans—and their engine drag—out of Shell Gasoline. This is Shell's Solutizer Process (Patent No. 2,149,379).

Science "hit the jackpot" with NEW Solutized SHELL

• Shell scientists found how to make glycerine, synthetic rubber, fertilizers—even TNT—from petroleum. Now they've "hit the jackpot" with the new Solutizer Process.

New Shell Gasoline has not only been solutized, but thermal conversion makes it extra rich in iso-compounds—similar to iso-octane, first produced commercially by Shell scientists to give America 100-octane aviation gasoline!

Save Our Republic

THE CONQUEST OF GREECE.

George II. of Greece has withdrawn his government to Crete. Another ruler is without a country and another country is about to be incorporated in Hitler's new Europe, in spite of the obstinate and valorous resistance of its people. The pattern of military action in Greece was the pattern of that in Jugo-Slavia. It is the pattern which was shown to the world first in Poland and has appeared in each of the successively conquered countries.

If the French and the British behind their fortifications could not resist the Nazi formations of which they had knowledge and for which they had been preparing, it could not be expected that either Serbs or Greeks had the slightest chance of avoiding the fate of the others.

When the Greeks took up arms against Mussolini last October it was thought that they had made the decision of a brave people, and against Mussolini the decision was not unwise. The Greek army was competent against the Fascist legions and drove them not only out of Greece but out of a great part of Albania. With British navy and air assistance Mussolini's Roman empire was being pounded to pieces.

Herr Hitler's craftiness was well revealed by his long inaction in the period in which he allowed Mussolini to demonstrate how incompetent he was and how futile the Fascist state as a military power was and would be without the support of Nazi divisions. Whatever jubilation may be feigned in Rome as Greece falls must be tainted with a conscious humiliation and sickened with the knowledge that Italy's place in whatever arrangements Hitler makes may be even less consequential than that which France may obtain.

Adolf no doubt will deal politely with Benito in public and for the sake of the axis prestige will assume that his brother dictator is a real one and not a phony. That will not deceive even the Italian people who discover that the submission they gave to Il Duce led them under Nazi control. The pretense of full partnership will hardly bear up against the actualities of Italian submission to decisions made by the Fuehrer.

If Hitler could obtain full French coöperation in his schemes for European union dominated by Germany, he probably would pay little heed to any demands Mussolini might make for rewards at the expense of the French empire. It is likely that what the French lose in any peace terms dictated, if they are, in the end, by Hitler, will be lost to the Nazis and not to the Fascists.

The British empire alone has been able in any field of action to put up a fight against Hitler's forces. The British have not yet obtained an equality with the Germans in the air, much less a supremacy over them, and Nazi air dominance added to the apparent superiority of its armored forces has made the land encounters of the two armies unbalanced in favor of the superior hitting force. Apparently the weapons to smash a Nazi drive have not yet appeared in the opposing armies. Until they do it is obviously hopeless to try to stop this military power on the continent of Europe, where sea power cannot be brought into action. Until people learn that Hitler cannot be defeated except by an armament comparable with or superior to his own, the succession of events will be one tragedy after another.

If there is no lesson for us in these events, our experience will be that of the others. These experiences, indeed, reëmphasize the valor and determination with which the British are holding out in their own island. There Hitler has been stopped thus far. It is his one failure to date, altho it is the objective which, if he could win it, would end the war in that part of the world.

The Nazi high command may not have made as yet an attempt which would expend all their forces in one great effort to conquer the British at home. If they haven't, it is because the high command has not yet seen the probability of success which would be worth the risk of a major setback, the first real defeat suffered by Hitler since the attack on Poland.

The world opposed to Hitler is not yet prepared to meet him in fields of action where he chooses to operate. America certainly is not ready; it is little better prepared than Jugo-Slavia. If its troops were sent against him, they could expect no better success with the equipment available than has been the lot of the other armies.

WORSE THAN FLOODS.

A plan to authorize a quarter of a billion dollars' worth of flood control projects has been indorsed by the responsible heads of the army engineer corps in their testimony before the flood control committee of the house. It is not clear how much, if any, of this work is to be undertaken at once, but the argument in behalf of the scheme suggests that the projects for the most part are not to be constructed until after the war is over, when they are to serve as a "cushion against unemployment."

The pretense is that the authorizations will not interfere with present war efforts, but that is not true. If the so-called cushion is to be ready when the war is over plans must be drawn while the war is on. That means that the time and energy of a great many engineers will be devoted during the months to come to surveying flood control sites and designing flood control works.

The army engineers have no time to waste on such exercises. Like all their brother officers in the army, the engineers face the stupendous task of scrapping much of what they knew about war, learning a whole new system of tactics and strategy, and teaching it to a new army. There is no service in the army which has so much to learn as the engineers. The safety of the country demands that they confine their attentions for the present to the problems of war. The republic has survived floods and unemployment, but it may not survive an incompetent army.

"STRIKE A BLOW."

Today a nation wracked by apprehension of war can see, if it seeks them, certain parallels between contemporary actions and those in another crisis, in 1861, when the nation hung on the brink of civil war.

Because the civil war was fought, it has come to be regarded, mistakenly perhaps, as inevitable. Yet to the very day that the confederates opened their batteries on Fort Sumter, powerful forces worked for peace. Abraham Lincoln was at the heart of that effort. Altho he was determined to preserve the Union, he hoped to preserve it without bloodshed. Whether his great political talent might have accomplished that end it is useless to speculate, because the issue was forced by those who thought they saw an advantage in bloodshed.

The confederacy that was formed at Montgomery, Ala., did not embrace all the slave states, or even all the south. It included only the seven cotton states of the deep south. Virginia hung back. Its state convention debated secession, but repeatedly voted against it. The other middle states, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Arkansas, likewise took no action to leave the Union.

In these circumstances the retention of Fort Sumter, in the harbor of Charleston, became a test both of the power of the federal government and of Lincoln's intentions in dealing with the secessionists. When delegates from the Virginia convention, men anxious to preserve the Union but still ready to leave it if force were used against the seceded states, visited Lincoln in the White House, he told them that he would willingly order the fort evacuated if Virginia would remain in the Union.

In the confederate cabinet Robert Toombs of Georgia, who had also loved the Union, warned that an attack on Sumter would be suicide, and would arouse the whole north. But from a balcony in Charleston Roger A. Pryor, a recent congressman from Virginia, told a cheering throng: "Strike a blow. The very moment that blood is shed old Virginia will make common cause with her sisters of the south."

When the final demand for surrender of the fort was made on its commander, Maj. Anderson, he told Gen. Beauregard's emissaries that if he did not get supplies for his half starved garrison within three days he would surrender the fort. But the batteries opened fire within an hour, Pryor refusing huskily the honor of firing the first shot. His prediction proved correct. Virginia left the Union within three days, the other middle states following, and the Lost Cause was launched.

Today the war mongers in Washington and elsewhere are seeking, as was Pryor, to strike a blow. The engine they seek to use is the convoying of ships thru the war zones. They have no doubt that it will mean war. Their leader, President Roosevelt, said when the dictator bill was pending that convoying meant a shooting war, which was what he wanted to avoid. He might have added that he was pledged to avoid it.

Unlike the firebrand Pryor at Charleston, these old men who are bawling for war will have no opportunity to fire the first shot. That shot, if it comes, will be fired by some young gunner's mate, perhaps from a midwestern farm, in defense of his own life and those of his shipmates. All the old men want is to put him where he will have to shoot.

The people of this country, five out of every six of them, have said that they do not want to go to war. If they want their wish respected, they must prevent the men in Washington from betraying pledges to avoid war. Convoys will strike or be struck the blow that leads to war. If the 83 per cent would avoid war they must avoid striking the blow.

COMMENDABLE MODESTY.

Gov. Green's name is not to appear on highway signs in Illinois. He has told his director of public works, Mr. Walter A. Rosenfield, that the welcoming signs at such places as the entrances to the state parks are to be welcoming signs and not political advertisments. The governor takes the position that he doesn't want the taxpayers to provide him with what amounts to personal advertising.

This act of self-denial is altogether creditable, the more so because it is unusual in the recent history of the state. Your ordinary politician seems unable to resist the temptation to shout "I done it" at every opportunity. They are eager to take credit not only for public works built in their own administrations but for all public works in sight. They grew the trees at the White Pine forest, planted the grass in the parks, and built Starved Rock with their own hands, or so their signs are intended to suggest.

Gov. Green's modesty is refreshing. We have no doubt it will be greatly appreciated by at least the more intelligent among the voters and taxpayers.

ONE YEAR OF SMOKE ELIMINATION.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

One year ago today the board of aldermen adopted the St. Louis smoke elimination ordinance.

Since then more than 100 cities in the United States and Canada have taken up its study in an effort to cleanse their air as thoroly as St. Louis purged its skies of soot and grime.

And it is a thoro job that has been done here. Weather bureau figures, which hardly give the smoke ordinance the benefit of the doubt, indicate that, in the five winter months from Nov. 1 to March 31, there was a 72 per cent reduction in the total amount of St. Louis smoke. Of the 28 per cent that remained in the atmosphere, much was blown across the river from the east side.

Even more important is the weather bureau's record that 96.4 per cent of thick smoke was eliminated. Further, the remaining 3.6 per cent did not result in even one of the midnight noons that once were so familiar to all of us.

The record speaks for itself. There are aspects of the smoke problem that still present difficulties. But these are minor things. The great frontal attack has been a success. And it is a success that St. Louis will not surrender.

Today it pauses to remember the work of Chairman James L. Ford Jr. of the Smoke Elimination committee and all the others who coöperated in the winning of this great achievement, and it repeats its pledge to carry on.

Speaking of Thermopylae, here is the classic epitaph to Leonidas and his 300 Spartans who died there to hold the pass against the Persian multitudes:

"Stranger, bear this message to the Spartans, that we lie here obedient to their laws."

Lord Byron's verses in "Don Juan" might have been written with contemporary events in mind:

Earth! Render back from out thy breast
A remnant of our Spartan dead!
Of the three hundred grant but three,
To make a new Thermopylae!

Samothrace, Greek island in the northern Aegean said to have been occupied by German troops, is associated with one of the most famous statues in the world. This is the Victory of Samothrace, popularly called the Winged Victory, found there in 1863. It is now in the Louvre. It commemorates a naval battle between Greeks and Egyptians in 306 B. C.

Photographs or plaster casts of the Victory of Samothrace may be found in thousands of American schoolrooms.

For 24 centuries the pass of Thermopylae has been a symbol for the spirit of freedom dauntlessly facing overwhelming tyranny. The literary allusions to it are countless. George William Curtis, American journalist and man of letters, put the matter thus:

"Every great crisis of human history is a pass of Thermopylae, and there is always a Leonidas and his 300 to die in it, if they cannot conquer."

IN KENSINGTON GARDENS.

Brave little Pan in Kensington gardens,
Play on your pipes all the darkening day,
Children and beasties are listening, trusting,
Play on your pipes, little Peter Pan, play.

Dance, little Pan in Kensington gardens,
Dance to your music, merry and gay,
Death has a dance that is sadder and older,
So dance for the weary who pass your way.

Hold your head high, tho the storm threatens near,
Facing your laughter, soon will go slinking
Back to the shadows, the dread hounds of fear.

Brave little Pan in Kensington gardens,
The world has a bitter old Piper to pay,
But keep your hands steady, your reeds sweet, unbroken,

A Boy's Dream of Saturday Night.

Saturdays were indeed the red-letter days of my boyhood. For it was on Saturday that I received my weekly allowance—the munificent sum of 25 cents. To be sure, it never lasted beyond sundown, but Saturday's delights more than repaid for a humdrum week of school.

For one thing, there was the Saturday afternoon "nickel show"—the old Coronado, on Vincennes avenue near Bowen. Here, reinforced with a bag of assorted "lickrish sticks," jaw-breakers, and a particularly gluey variety of gumdrop sold at 20 for a cent, we watched the latest instalment of the movie serial. First, "The Million Dollar Mystery," with, as I remember, James Cruze and Marguerite Snow. Later, the blonde Kathlyn Williams in "The Adventures of Kathlyn"—a tantalizing succession of rascally oriental potentates, tiger traps, villainous slave dealers, and hairbreadth escapes.

Finally, the ice cream soda—a special 5 cent "junior size" featured by a neighborhood confectioner, often shared among three or four shock-haired boys, each with his straw deep in the creamy foam. And, treasure for surreptitious reading during the coming week, the newest dime novel—something along the line of "Fred Fearnot Balks the Diamond Thieves, or Outwitting the Dastardly Smugglers." A Cardinal at the Window.

It was a rare experience and one to be eagerly shared. There was the cool and soothing sound of rain at daybreak, then a soft raking of the screen at the open window. On the stone ledge outside appeared the head and crest of the male cardinal as tho he had just been peering in, and for more than five minutes he did sentry-go on that ledge, singing and whistling his whole glorious répertoire as he paraded. Never was there a more marvelous serenade, and never before have we known our pensioner of the feeding station and bath to be so confiding. S'Amuser.

It's fun to see new sights;
It's good to be in Tennessee
And watch the moon o' nights;
It's fun to drive thru Georgia
And see the road unwind
With bright red clay along the way,
Fried chicken on your mind.
White sand in Pensacola—
The beach has lots of room;
It's fun to lam thru Alabam',
That's where azaleas bloom.
There's fun in lovely New Orleans,
In Natchez, rich with lore,
Where mossy trees wave in the breeze,
And each tale calls for more;
But tho it's fun, vacationing,
The grandest thrill is when
Your trip is past and so, at last,
You're safe at home again!

BELL'S PALSY OR "REFRIGERATION PARALYSIS."

We are all subject to surprises —pleasant and otherwise. No one will fail to be startled should he awaken some morning with one side of the face flabby and useless. The characteristic weakness becomes apparent when the victim attempts to whistle. He just cannot pucker his lips.

What has happened? The facial nerve has gone on a strike. The usual cause is cold. Exposure, sitting in a draft, or taking a long ride with the breezes blowing in the car window may be responsible. Attacks have been reported following the employment of an ice bag to the neck in an effort to relieve tonsillitis. So close is the relationship to chilling that the condition has been called "refrigeration paralysis" altho its regular name is "Bell's palsy."

Apparently the circulation has been upset sufficiently to bring on swelling of the nerve as it leaves the skull. In consequence, the pressure against the bony rim of the outlet is such that the structure loses its vitality. We all know the effect of constriction. Pinch the end of a finger hard enough and numbness may persist for hours.

Fortunately, most cases return to normal, but several months may be required. Can anything be done to hasten repair? It seems reasonable to assume that measures which promote circulation to the area will be beneficial. If the congestion can be dispersed, power will be regained.

Most authorities agree that stimulating the nerve is not indicated. But dilating the capillaries, thus speeding up the carrying away of excess fluid from the part, will be of value. Stroking or gentle massage, while helpful in preventing atrophy, will not reach the deeper vessels and increase the blood flow. There is no objection, on the other hand, to applying electricity to muscles and "static wave current" has produced excellent results, with restoration of function within one month.

If the cause has been traced to the absorption of a toxin, there is no reason why galvanic stimulation for the purpose of exercising the muscles should not be used. However, we are more likely to encounter complete rehabilitation if pressure is removed promptly for, if long continued, it may lead to degenerative changes.

One of the most important considerations is the care of the affected optic. Because the patient cannot wink on one side, it is necessary to keep the eyeball well moistened and lubricated as the cornea [outer layer] may become dry. The sufferer is cautioned to move the lid over the ball at frequent intervals so that the surface may be bathed. A weak solution of boric acid will serve to wash away all débris. During the hours of sleep a bandage may be needed to keep the lid closed.

Chewing is always difficult, as a ball of food may accumulate within the flabby cheek. At mealtime, small morsels should be well masticated on the good side and then swallowed.

If proper electrical treatments are not available, it is usually wise to support the jaw so as to avoid stretching the injured structure. About 10 days after the onset, warmth may be applied and the ordinary bathroom coil [infrared lamp] will be useful. A heating pad is equally effective. Burns must be guarded against as the skin is abnormally sensitive.

Regardless of what is done, the tendency is for improvement to occur. In fact, recovery may take place spontaneously in from four to six weeks. This means that nature has reduced the swelling—unassisted.

CONVOYS.

Highland Park, Ill., April 21.—We are told by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, by the Lippmanns, the Luces, and the Bullitts, by a whole, noisy pack of minority, ex-officio war mongers that this country should "deliver the goods to Britain" without delay; that we should, if need be, fight to deliver them, and pay the full price of war, declared or undeclared. Our reward, if we win this war, will be a grandiose fulfilment of manifest destiny, an imperialistic control of the world by the "English speaking nations."

Well, suppose we decide to convoy merchantmen. What naval units could we use? The answer is destroyers. But can we transfer enough of them from our Pacific and Atlantic forces to do the job without seriously crippling the protection they afford our battleships and supply trains, and without hampering our naval training program?

During February and March there was a lot of talk about giving Britain 5 to 10 destroyers a month, manned by English sailors, for use as convoys. On April 5, 1941, the Saturday Evening Post published an article by Secretary of the Navy Knox opposing this. He said: "No navy ever has too many of these craft, and our own is now somewhere near the minimum requirement . . . Admirals consider a fleet unbalanced unless there are at least six destroyers per battleship in it, without counting those that must operate on detached duty. This is why I, as secretary of the navy, felt it my duty to oppose the suggestion of Feb. 12 that we turn over to Great Britain 5 to 10 additional destroyers per month." Since then, I might point out, a new battleship has been launched and another soon will be. Twelve more destroyers are needed for them.

If what the secretary says is true, and if our naval policy in the Pacific is to forestall Japanese seizure of our own Philippines and the Dutch East Indies' tin and rubber supplies, which the administration says we need, then how, on the face of it, can we convoy goods to Britain with destroyers, unless we are willing to forget that Japan possesses 126 destroyers in the Pacific to our grand total of 113 divided between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans? Curtis C. Rodgers.

TELEPHONE SERVICE.

Chicago, April 21.—At 6 o'clock Saturday evening our 9 year old son was struck by an automobile and rushed to the hospital. After doing everything humanly possible to insure our child's recovery my wife and I returned home. We had no telephone in our apartment.

From a pay station in a corner drug store I poured my woes in the ear of the traffic manager of the telephone company. This was about 10:10 o'clock. I explained my son's critical condition and asked if something could be done to have telephone service that night. At 11:20 o'clock a telephone company representative appeared at our door and apologized for not being able to arrive sooner. Twenty minutes later a telephone was installed and in working order.

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning our phone rang and a voice said: "This is the telephone company; how is your son this morning?"

We were thrilled to say he was then out of danger—but thrilled even more to realize that a large corporation has a heart.

OPPORTUNITY TO FIGHT.

Whiting, Ind., April 21.—I think every opportunity should be given those who are in favor of this country going to war to enlist in the Canadian army. So long as we are giving all material aid to Britain I can't see why those in favor of an outright war would object to enlisting.

HITLER IN EUROPE.

New York, April 18.—One argument of our remaining isolationists is that even if Hitler wins he will have his hands so full in Europe, that he will not be able to tackle us. This is wishful thinking. The little countries are under Hitler's heel completely even tho he is fighting the entire British empire. If Britain were defeated their chances of successfully revolting would be infinitely less and Germany could devote all her time to completing her work of conquest. And she is a thoro nation. Don't doubt it.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH TAXES.

Chicago, April 18.—After hearing so much about the lightness of the taxation in the United States in contrast to the heavy load carried by the people of Britain it is very interesting to learn, on good authority, that in 1938 only 21.7 per cent of the British national income went for taxes, while in this country we contributed 22.4 per cent, and this after five or six years of the much vaunted New Deal.

I wonder when the end of the rope will be reached—and what will be in the noose! Noel A. Dunderdale.

PROPERTY CONVEYANCE.

La Grange, Ill., April 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.] — About six months ago my wife passed away. We were buying a home in joint tenancy and I am still paying it off.

2. Heretofore we had believed that a joint tenancy contract could not be changed until both persons were signers.

I would like to know if that deed is legal and if the person holding the quitclaim deed [3] can force me to sell the house and divide the proceeds of the sale? J. A.

1. This destroyed the survivorship feature. Assuming that the deed was validly recorded during her lifetime.

1. The entering of a judgment on the verdict is a routine matter.

2. We are confident that a judgment has already been entered. Execution can issue on the judgment if that is what you mean to ask. The defendant's personal property exemption is $400 worth if he is the head of a family, otherwise $100 worth. His garnishment exemption is $20 a week as head of a family, otherwise nothing. CITY BANS LIQUOR SALE IN GROCERY AND DRUG STORES

New Ordinance to Become Effective Oct. 31.

The city council passed an ordinance yesterday which will prohibit the sale of alcoholic liquor in drug stores and groceries. The ordinance will go into effect Oct. 31. It received the unanimous approval of the 37 aldermen present when the vote was taken. Immediately after its passage it was signed by Mayor Kelly.

The ordinance, originally introduced by Ald. Benjamin A. Grant [3d], was recommended to the council for passage by the license committee, of which Ald. Thomas P. Keane [31st] is chairman. Representatives of retail liquor dealers, tavern operators, grocers, and drug store owners filled the galleries while the vote was taken.

First Law Called Too Vague.

The new ordinance repeals one passed two years ago. The old ordinance limited the sale of liquor to places where this was the "principal business." Test suits were immediately started when it was passed and Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court indicated to the city the law would be held invalid on the ground that it was "too vague."

The new ordinance prohibits the issuance of a liquor license for "the sale of alcoholic liquor for any premises wherein any commodities other than alcoholic liquors are to be sold [food and beverages for consumption on the premises and cigars and cigarets excepted]."

According to Martin H. Foss, assistant corporation counsel, who drafted the new ordinance, it is patterned after one used by the city of Joliet which is regarded as acceptable. The new ordinance specifies that it does not apply to lobbies, lounges, and parlors of hotels and clubs.

Never Became Effective.

The old ordinance was passed in 1939 but every six months the council amended it to postpone the date of its effectiveness. This was done because of the suspected invalidity of the ordinance, according to aldermen.

The last postponement made the old ordinance effective next Thursday. Ald. Keane explained that the new ordinance was rushed thru council so that the effective date of the liquor licensing change could be reset for Oct. 31. It was explained that the postponement means the city will collect license fees from all stores that sell liquor for another six months.

According to figures presented to the council by Ald. James J. McDermott [14th], 193 out of approximately 10,000 groceries in the city have liquor permits and 373 out of 5,000 drug stores have them.

APPELLATE BODY ORDERS DECREE FOR MRS. GARVY

The Illinois Appellate court ruled yesterday that Mrs. Frances Garvy acted in good faith in offering to return to the home of her husband, Dr. Andrew Cosmas Garvy, medical director of the state industrial commission, at 6000 Sheridan road. The court set aside the ruling of Judge Donald S. McKinlay who had dismissed Mrs. Garvy's suit for separate maintenance.

The Appellate court remanded the case to the Superior court with instructions to enter a maintenance decree and set an alimony figure. By this action, the high court reversed its ruling of 1935 when it denied Mrs. Garvy's previous request for separate maintenance and dismissed Dr. Garvy's divorce suit, holding that neither party was blameless. Both had charged desertion.

BOOKIE LICENSE POWERS SOUGHT FOR BIG CITIES

Measure Puts Control in Hands of Mayors.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Amendments which virtually rewrite the McGrath bill to license bookmakers in Illinois cities of more than 50,000 population were submitted to the house license and miscellany committee today by Representative R. V. Libonati [D., Chicago]. He said they were offered in behalf of Representative Leo D. Crowley [R., Peoria].

Only ten Illinois cities have 50,000 or more population. They are Chicago, Cicero, Decator, East St. Louis, Evanston, Oak Park, Peoria, Rockford, and Springfield.

The original measure was offered in the house last March 18 by Representative Emmett McGrath [D., Brookfield]. The McGrath measure proposed to put control of bookmakers under the state department of registration and education, while the Crowley-Libonati amendments would put control in the hands of mayors.

Backed by Kelly's Associates.

The amendments were said to have strong Chicago backing. While it is not sponsored by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, many of his political associates are reported to favor it as the solution of a local problem. Also said to be supporting its passage are wire service companies seeking a legal outlet in Illinois for their race news.

In 1935 the legislature passed a bill legalizing handbook betting under state regulation and Gov. Henry Horner vetoed it. Three years ago Mayor Kelly sponsored a Chicago ordinance for licensing bookies as agents of race tracks and the Circuit court held it was invalid.

The new regulatory plan contains numerous features not possessed by the unsuccessful measures. But probably most important, its proponents assert, is the fact that in addition to providing revenue to cities where it is used the plan would give authorities power to regulate a system of gambling from which millions of dollars are annually flowing into criminal channels.

Control Given to Mayors.

In giving permission to cities to license and regulate the business of bookmaking, the bill would designate the mayor of a city choosing to exercise this privilege as the local bookmaking control commissioner. He would have the power to issue and revoke licenses, to hear testimony relative to such action, and to administer oaths and issue subpenas for witnesses, books, and documents.

A license appeal commission would be created, its members to be the director of public safety, another representative of the state designated by the governor, and a third member named by the local mayor. The commission would be empowered to compel testimony under oath and force production of books and records.

Any five residents of a city could file a complaint against the possessor of a bookmaking license, under the proposed law. Such complaint would require a hearing. Recourse to the courts would be provided for to compel obedience to subpenas and the courts would review disputed acts of the appeal commission.

The 1935 handbook bill was favored by many civic leaders, including Frank J. Loesch, then president of the Chicago Crime commission, and Henry B. Chamberlin, operating director of the commission.

Not Possible to Prevent All Child's Fears

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"My little girl is, quite suddenly, afraid of her shadow. We can find no cause for it."

"My little boy is, out of a clear sky as you might say, afraid of the dark."

"My small daughter, for no reason that we can see, is terrified of wind."

Innumerable worries such as that come in to me.

Avoid gruesome fairy tales, books with grotesque illustrations, terrifying radio programs, management based on threats or fear, or any emotional situation that might generate insecurity. Avoid all these possible starting points to fear tho we may, still our small children are almost certain, at some point in their earlier growth, to show some sort of fear. For we cannot control all stimuli, all impressions that come to our children.

Nor can we always recognize what, at certain times in his life, will be a fear-starter. Often the most harmless thing will be responsible: The strange creak of a shutter, a "false-face," his father's suit back from the cleaner's, encased in its long paper bag and hung on the child's closet door. At certain times a small boy or girl reaches a moment in his development when the most unexpected object or event will cause fear to arise.

Again we have a corollary to act on after accepting the generalization. It is, study your individual child so that, first, you can avoid what creates fear in him; second, you will realize that at some point it may be inevitable; and third, suit your comforting or curing treatment to your individual child.

Shoppers Find Thrill in New Dress Material

BY REA SEEGER.

Nylon dress material is in and just in! Long rolls of the fascinating less-than-nothing stuff is causing no end of fuss and shopping comment. There are seven flattering shades that include beige, strawberry red, two shades of blue, light and navy, brown, black and a most effective pink. It's still exciting to touch and admire the amazingly filmy, sheer yardage that seems lighter than the most ephemeral foam imaginable.

Despite all this shadowy film weight, it is fully guaranteed to wear and wear and wear. It will make exceptionally sturdy daytime dresses to see you coolly and supercomfortably thru a sultry summer day. It will make the best of travel and tailored suits, either in two piece or companion dress and coat costumes, for it will pack and emerge without a wrinkle after the tightest squeeze in travel luggage.

Most of the yardage will go into fabulously beautiful dinner, evening or dancing gowns. Skirts that swirl in billowing shadow-circles will be made of record breaking amounts.

There are plenty of light colors; the pink and strawberry red are particularly beautiful under artificial light. The black and navy blue shades are flattering against the skin. The black and all the shades have that greatly desired dull or mat finish; no flashing highlights to distract the eye . . . and this means of course magic in slenderizing the figurelines.

Nylon will make some of the smartest of sheer fluffy blouses to wear with dress parade suits too. If you crave a new sensation, see this new contender for fashion excitement. It's worth every penny asked for the intriguing new idea!

Art Lovers' Evening.

An interesting visitor in town is pale haired, blue eyed, dynamic Mrs. Juliana Force, head of the Whitney museum in New York, whose absorbing interest for the last 30 years has been American art. Mrs. Force gave now famous American Artist John Sloan his first show. Twelve persons came during the three weeks of the show, and only one critic, a friend of her father who patted her on the shoulder and wanted to know why she was wasting her time thus.

* *

"Art is a gift, also a quest, and an achievement that must be earned by the artist," said Mrs. Force, in discussing the subject before members of the Society for Contemporary American Art at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Marx. She stood, a restless, energetic figure in a dusty pink dinner gown, wearing an aquamarine pendant that matched her eyes, a fine Bracque still life on the wall above the modern fireplace at her back; modern glass cases containing fine old Chinese sculpture and tomb figures on the wall to her right; a brilliant, magnificent Matisse, its blue green tones picking up the blue green marble top of the dining table visible thru the open door of the room to the left. A Picasso, a Rouault, and other art treasures adorn the apartment, as well as textiles and furniture by leading American artists and craftsmen. It offered a superb background for a talk on art, and for the informal discussion that followed, with such authorities as Daniel Catton Rich, Frederick Sweet, and Meyric Rogers of the Chicago Art institute participating. The purpose of the Society for Contemporary American Art is to stimulate the production and appreciation of art and to provide a fund which can be used by the Art institute of Chicago for the purchase of contemporary American painting and sculpture.

By Way of Report.

Manager John Servas of the House and Garden exposition had a call late Saturday night from a Texas woman who wanted to see his show before leaving on a Sunday morning plane for home. Servas, who was up until early Sunday morning, met the woman at 7 a. m., showed her thru the Coliseum, which doesn't open until 1 p. m. and gave her a personal tour thru the gardens. That's Servas.

Good Morning!

Every so often in the course of movie events there arrives a picture that engrosses, charms and inspires. An aristocrat of a picture and yet—one that has all the ingredients of popular appeal. "Adam Had Four Sons" is such a one.

Its center of magnetism is, unquestionably, Ingrid Bergman, who's good news in any movie. She is warm, eager, refreshing to look at. Self-effacing but with a royal dignity that makes her outstanding. A graceful and gracious woman who cheers the heart and soothes the eyes.

As the picture opens Emilie Gallatin has just arrived in England from France to become governess to the four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stoddard, a charming, well to do and devoted couple.

"We had not expected any one so young—nor so pretty!" says Mrs. Stoddard gently and appreciatively. . .

"She understands children. . . ."

You, accustomed as you are to triangle situations on the screen, think that you spy one just around the corner.

How wrong you are!

The story developments are so unexpected that I feel I should tell you little or nothing about them if you are to enjoy the picture as you should. I will say that the action carries the four sons from childhood to manhood; from playground to battlefield. [No, it is NOT a war movie.] Thru all the year the influence of a lovely woman broods over a motherless home and wards off danger from five helpless males.

When it must be met, in the person of an unscrupulous woman who would foul the Stoddard nest, Mademoiselle, with no thot of self, fights it bravely, and, tho she is unable to avert tragedy, brings order out of chaos and a new happiness to the household. . . . Molly Stoddard had known whereof she spoke when she said of Emilie Gallatin:

"I trust you."

The film doesn't let your interest lag for a minute. Miss Bergman's arresting performance is brilliantly flanked by the work of Warner Baxter [stouter, older, but swell as ever], Fay Wray, Helen Westley, Susan Hayward, and the young men who play the sons grown up.

Direction was alert and sympathetic and you'll love the scenery and the settings and the ever so human dialog.

See you soon.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., April 23.—One reason why Samuel Goldwyn wants Carole Lombard to play opposite Gary Cooper in "The Professor and the Burlesque Queen" is that he also wants Gregory La Cava to direct the picture—and he figures Lombard can persuade Greg to come on over. . . . They're keeping Alice Faye busy on the 20th lot. She's been given the lead in "Bowery Nightingale," a musical about the '90s, and shooting begins in mid-June. . . . They're plugging Stirling Hayden for the lead in "For Whom the Bell Tolls," claiming the fan demand is great. But I doubt it. Hayden is a big, handsome guy and a definite screen personality all right—but he's been in only one movie so far. Fans don't adopt people that quickly. . . . Melvyn Douglas is slated to be Greta Garbo's leading man in her new, untitled flicker. . . . So many optical and camera factories are doing defense work—building bomb sights and whatnot—that Hollywood's camera men are finding it increasingly difficult to get spare parts for their machines. And production of the revolutionary silent camera developed for the industry at the 20th-Fox shops is far behind orders.

Much of C. B. De Mille's "Reap the Wild Wind" will be shot under water, with the master himself—a veteran ocean bottom stroller—directing. Which brings up an anecdote in Bayard Veiller's autobiography, "The Fun I've Had."

In the old days at old Metro the studio had a picture that was so bad it couldn't be released. Veiller was ordered to fix it up—but not to spend more than $10,000. Veiller had heard that two brothers named Williamson had invented an underwater camera—so he proceeded to fix up the flop flicker by writing in a new finale: A horrific underwater battle between the hero and the villain.

"The villain, his suit punctured and his stomach ditto, floated to the surface," relates Veiller. "Then the hero staggered across the scene, ranged past fishes and still more fishes. Finally he staggered over to where the chest of gold ingots lay on the ocean floor and gloated. We couldn't see him gloat because he was in a diving suit, but a subtitle fixed that. This was the subtitle: 'Triumph at Last! Richard Moves Quickly Toward His Great Reward.'

"After a moment Richard threw open the lid of the chest of ingots. Surprise! Surprise! The property man had made the ingots of wood and gilded them—and when the chest was opened all the gold floated to the surface! And that was another thing I had to explain to the New York office."

The Letter Box:

From Chicago: "You state that on account of the war everybody is making military pictures. But the people do not want war pictures. Why does Hollywood persist in producing them? Over and over again I have heard people say they were avoiding all military movies and that they were completely thru with this horrible war propaganda. Will the producers never learn? ? ? ?"

From J. H. Komp, Kewanee, Ill.: "With millions of men, women and children playing golf, a golf movie should be very popular. There are the singers at the 19th hole; the foursome which is always fighting but ends up friends; the dubs, the pros, the lovers, etc. Take all these, mix well and photograph on a beautiful golf course and you would have a fair picture. Then add about four to six top flight pros to appear in various scenes showing how to make different shots and I am sure a picture could be made that would be seen by every golfer in the world."

Mebbe so—and one wouldn't have to hire pros, either. Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred Astaire, Ruby Keeler, Johnny Weissmuller, and many other stars are good tournament players. But a sports picture is a gamble, with football the safest bet because it is brutal and fast. Golf is the kind of game that induces suicide, not murder, and suicide doesn't rank anywhere near murder at the box office.

Don't Be Fat!

No Strict Diet Lists; No Strenuous Exercises; No Distasteful Drugs

IN EVERY section of the country today, women have marveled at the wonders of a safe, easy reducing method—which requires no strict diet lists; no strenuous exercises; no drugs. Increases energy as weight goes down. It's the identical method Dr. Damrau of New York used in tests among a group of intelligent and cooperative people who followed directions implicitly, and was responsible for an average loss in weight of 7 pounds per month.

Unbelievably Easy to Follow

All you do is mix ¾ glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ glass of water and drink before meals and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—which means you avoid overeating; thus reducing caloric intake considerably. Then this happens: First, this delicious drink satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to overeat fattening foods—but you never suffer a hungry moment. Second, the natural dextrose in Welch's is quickly consumed, and by this process not only aids nature in consuming excess fat but also increases your energy.

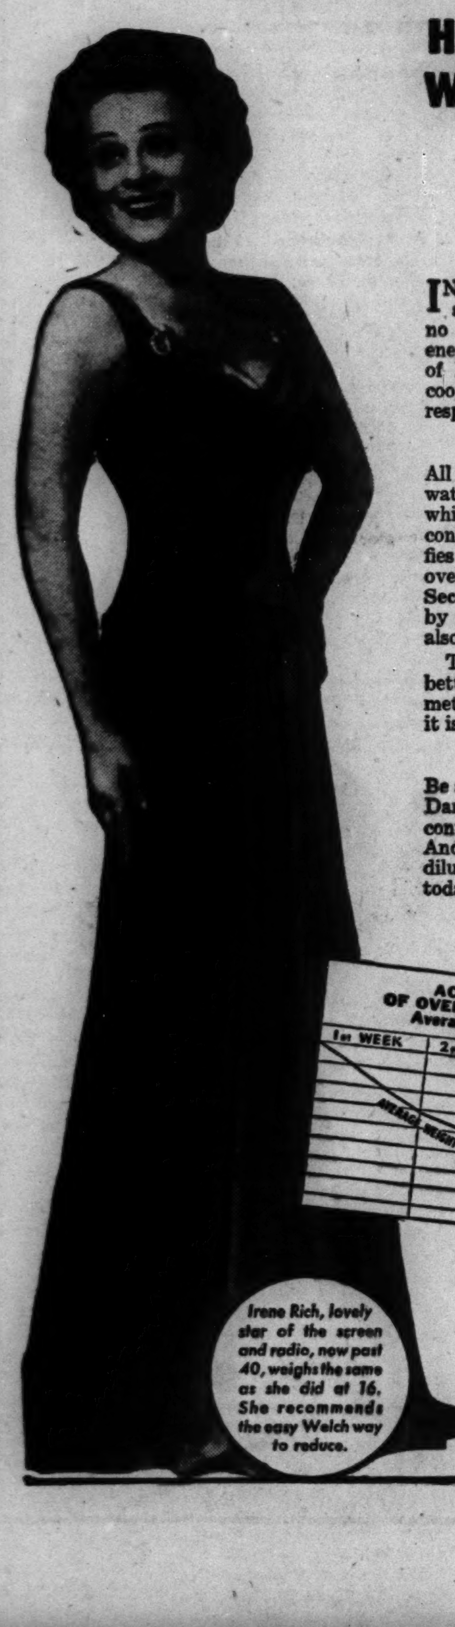
That is why weight is lost naturally; why you not only look better but actually feel better; have more energy. And this proved method is just as beneficial and effective for overweight men, as it is for overweight women.

Do This One Important Thing!

Be sure to use only genuine Welch's Grape Juice, selected by Dr. Damrau in his convincing test. Welch's is always full strength. It contains full measure of natural dextrose which is so important. And because Welch's is always full strength, it is delicious when diluted—very economical to use. Start this proved reducing method today and watch your energy go up as your weight goes down.

Sensational Facts About Amazing Welch Way to Reduce

Dr. Frederic Damrau of New York made a revealing test on a group of intelligent and cooperative people who followed his instructions implicitly. By following this simple, pleasant Welch Way to reduce, these people lost an average of 7 pounds per month. Chart at left shows actual weight loss registered. Sworn statement below verifies all claims made for this reducing method.



Irene Rich, lovely star of the screen and radio, now past 40, weighs the same as she did at 16. She recommends the easy Welch way to reduce.

Chicagoans Already Hearing Call of the Kentucky Derby

BY JUDITH CASS.

It seems as tho it couldn't be almost a year since Gallahadion won the 1940 Kentucky Derby, but it is; and a week from Saturday another 3 year old colt will race to fame at Churchill Downs in Louisville. Numerous Chicagoans are planning to go down for the running of the 67th Derby, and the reservations in the hotels in Louisville and nearby resorts indicate there will be a record crowd at the track that Saturday afternoon.

Some who will be there already have gone south to enjoy the golf and riding at French Lick Springs, and to rest up a bit before they go to Louisville for the spring classic. The Paul Walkers are departing today for the spa, and Col. Matt Winn, who never has missed a Derby in all the years since the first one, already is there. French Lick is only 56 miles from Louisville, so many who stay at the resort drive to the track every day during the spring meeting. Charles S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit, will spend next week at French Lick, and so will numerous other horse owners.

The Robert F. Carrs Will Depart on Thursday.

The young Robert F. Carrs are departing next Thursday to motor to Louisville to spend the long week-end with Mrs. Carr's grandfather, Col. Samuel A. Culbertson, at his home there. Mrs. Carr's brother, Samuel A. Culberton II., and his wife also will be there for the Derby and its attendant festivities. The Abner Stilwells are going south next week and will make French Lick their headquarters.

Stuyvesant Peabody is flying to Louisville just for the day. Mrs. Peabody, who usually accompanies him, is not going this year for she is leaving tomorrow with Mrs. Percy Ames to spend 10 days in Warrenton and Williamsburg, Va. They are flying to Warrenton where Mrs. Peabody's car will meet them. The Farwell Winstons, who almost always attend the Derby with Mrs. Winston's brother-in-law and sister, the Philip Nolands, who reside in Louisville, are not going this year. Mrs. Winston will arrive home Saturday from Washington, where she is attending the Red Cross convention. Late in May Mr. and Mrs. Winston will be going east to attend the graduation exercises at the Spence school in New York, where their debutante daughter, Dudley, is a member of the senior class.

Concert Tonight Stirs Memories of Earlier Days.

Tonight's postseason concert will mark an important first for the Chicago Symphony orchestra—the first appearance of Arturo Toscanini with the Chicago orchestra—but it also will call up memories from 33 years back. The program is a benefit for the orchestra's pension fund, which dates from two concerts given by the orchestra in 1908 under the direction of its chief, Frederick Stock. Later that year Isadora Duncan danced in two more pension fund concerts.

Under Toscanini's baton this evening the orchestra will play "Iphigenia in Aulis," to which Miss Duncan danced the story of the Greek maiden, Iphigenia, in 1908. The performance was, to say the least, controversial, for Miss Duncan appeared in "scanty" costumes which shocked symphony-goers of 1908. Critics informed The Tribune's readers the next morning that the dancer had appeared in a revival of Greek art of 2,000 years ago, but "she didn't appear in much else."

Knee Length Costumes Thrilled, Shocked Audience.

When Miss Duncan appeared in the knee length costumes against a woodland setting carpeted in velvet grass, the chronicler went on to say, there was an audible gasp from the audience and ushers were asked to "furnish opera glasses quick." And from the gallery some one remarked, "To think that my missus called me down once when she found a seat check for old Sam T.'s place in my overcoat pocket. And she made me come here!"

Col. and Mrs. Albert A. Sprague and the Frederick Stocks, who were present at the historic concert of Nov. 30, 1908, are among the boxholders for tonight's concert, as is Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, whose husband watched Isadora Duncan dance.

Romantic news from Orange, N. J., involves the name of Frank S. Bridges, son of Dr. and Mrs. Horace J. Bridges of Deming place. In the eastern city Mrs. Nicholas Henry Joralemon is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Nancy, to young Mr. Bridges, whose father is leader of the Chicago Ethical society.

The Charles Newell Fullers' first baby, a daughter, has been named Amy Peacock after her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Erskine P. Wilder of Winnetka. Tiny Amy, who was born on April 10, and her mother, the former Dorothy Wilder, returned to their Evanston home on Sunday from St. Luke's. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mrs. G. Patterson

Dr. Louis Finkelstein Welcomed to Chicago at Dinner, Reception

Nearly 500 civic and religious leaders of the city last night greeted Dr. Louis Finkelstein of New York at a reception and dinner at the Hotel Sherman. Dr. Finkelstein last year succeeded Dr. Cyrus Adler as president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, and is regarded thruout the world as one of the leading theologians and scholars of Judaism.

In his address Dr. Finkelstein related the traditional belief in one God to the present world conflict. He declared the present political world struggle is, in essence, a reflection of a deeper spiritual upheaval and that Jewish institutions of learning have an important part to play in clearing up confusion in many minds in regard to religion.

Rabbi Judah Nadich, assistant spiritual leader of Temple Anshe Emet, Pine Grove avenue and Grace street, presided. Greetings from the Chicago Rabbinical association were extended to Dr. Finkelstein by Rabbi Jacob Singer of Temple Mizpah, president of the association.

WEDDING

Flynn of North Francisco avenue, will be married at noon Saturday to Leo Thomas Hobbs in St. Sylvester's church, Palmer square and Humboldt boulevard. Her cousin, the Rev. Charles J. Heaney, will perform the marriage ceremony. Her sister, Miss Mary E. Flynn, will be maid of honor and two other sisters, Misses Jeanne A. and Anna Mae Flynn, will be attendants.

Two Week-End Hikes Are Planned by Prairie Club

The Prairie club is planning two hikes for this week-end. The first will be a six mile journey from the clubhouse at Deer Grove, near Barrington, on Saturday afternoon. The hikers will leave the North Western railroad station on the 1:33 p. m. train, returning in the evening after a redhot supper. On Sunday there will be a ten mile hike along the Des Plaines river. The hikers are to meet at the Union station at 8:50 a. m.

Business Men's Annual Concert Joyous Affair

BY EDWARD BARRY.

When the 100 men of the Chicago Association of Commerce Glee club gather on the stage of Orchestra hall once a year to sing for their relatives and friends, the atmosphere is always warm and gay and informal. Last night was no exception. Smiles of greeting and recognition passed back and forth between stage and house, and the singers were no more determined to do their best than the audience was to applaud and encourage them.

In keeping with the spirit of the occasion, Director Herbert E. Hyde scheduled a generous number of light and humorous songs. There was a diverting piece of Carolina mountain lore called "Black-eyed Susie," a rollicking sea song called "What Shall We Do with a Drunken Sailor?". These the glee club did with a est and sureness that strengthened their flavor and brought out every ounce of their merriment.

But the program was not given over entirely to these attractive trifles. Men whose interest in music is such as to induce them to give up an evening each week to rehearsal will want also an opportunity to acquiant themselves with some more serious songs.

Accordingly, the Association of Commerce Glee club worked out and presented a group of songs by Henschel, Schuetky, Mozart, and Handel. These were done with a fine solidity of tone. The singers' phrase lines were long and their use of nuance skilful.

◆

Mr. Hyde directed with the modesty and competence we always expect of him. The assisting artists were the cellist, Ennio Bolognini [who rose from a sick bed to fill his engagement], and the soprano, Marion Sanborn. Accompaniments for the glee club were supplied by William Sumner, pianist, and Robert R. Birch, organist. Mr. Sumner played Miss Sanborn's accompaniments, Alexander Joseffer, Mr. Bolognini's.

Babies of Chicago to Have Their Week Starting Monday

The Infant Welfare society of Chicago will conduct its 28th annual Baby week in conjunction with similar groups thruout the United States.

Baby week is principally educational, in that it seeks to call attention to the needs of babies. However, it has a special significance this year, according to Philip D. Armour, president of the Infant Welfare society, because at a time when the thoughts and energies of most of the world are bent on war or defense the importance of guarding the health of America's babies may be overlooked.

The society's work is supported by voluntary contributions. Its 1941 budget is $193,000. To care for a mother or child a year costs $12.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

When one of our favorite colognes popped up in a new package that includes an atomizer we were very pleased. We're firmly convinced that the way to use any fragrance—whether it's cologne, toilet water or straight perfume—is to spray it. The scent is diffused and the final effect is subtle, as it should be.

This cologne—and the fragrance that perfumes it—is rather unique. That fragrance is not new, but it's one of the most popular in the country. Year after year it rolls up more and more users. The reason: It's romantic without being the least bit obvious.

This is one of the scents you can't quite define. It has the sweetness of flowers and the lilt of champagne. The cologne is particularly nice to use as a daytime perfume; the scent is delicate but lasting and the fragrant bubbly liquid is just what you want for a rubdown or a refreshing pickup when your freshness has wilted.

The cologne is inexpensive, another endearing feature. If you believe as the Europeans do—or did, rather—that cologne should be used in lavish quantities, this one at its price will be one of your pets.

There's bath powder to match, by the way. The two are elegant trimmings to the kind of bath that makes you feel like an orchid.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

Selecting bedspreads for your own room is not much of a problem. You find you have a wide choice of styles, materials, and prices. But when it comes to buying a cover for your young son's bed, or one for your teen age daughter's, that's a different matter. He, of course, doesn't want anything with a flounce because that's on the sissy side, while she adores ruffles—the more, the prettier.

This spring one enterprising manufacturer gave a lot of thought to this very matter. The result is that there's now a ready-made bedspread any young boy will be proud to have in his room because it just couldn't belong to a girl; it's too masculine. Called Cattle Brands, the design for this bed cover was inspired by the ranches of the old west.

The background tone is a warm leather brown. The entire spread is divided into squares by scarlet, blue, and green bands that look like rope, and in each square is a famous cattle brand from some ranch of days gone by. There's the Lazy M, the Spider Web, the Square and Compass, the Three Bar S, the Lazy Moon, and the Y 4, to mention only a few. They are all worked out in white, which stands out nicely from the leather brown background.

◆

For your daughter's room there are some charming bedspreads from which to choose. Ruffled models are made of a brand new fabric that combines the crispness and sturdiness of organdy with the silky sheen of rayon. These are available in white only and they are as practical as they are lovely, for they tub like a handkerchief. You can buy matching curtains, too.

Striped chintz is used to make some of the gayest spreads we've seen. Deep flounces of embroidered batiste also enliven bedspreads for young girls' rooms this summer.

If you are clever with your fingers you can easily make your daughter a bedspread of the beautiful, light colored cotton taffetas so popular now. These come in soft pinks, in a delightful lime yellow, in pale blue, etc.

An enchanting duet for the subdeb's room consists of ruffled white draperies inset with a band of floral chintz where the ruffle ends, and a bedspread of the same, the floral chintz inset outlining the top of the bed and also the lower edge of the spread.

Here's a suggestion for gaining window beauty at low cost. Simply buy an inexpensive pair of ready-made white ruffled curtains and hang them at the window, using a roller shade of the brightest floral chintz you can find. The light shining thru the flowers does something for the whole room.

Any store selling the chintz will make the roller shade for you, or you can use any of your old rollers and apply the chintz with thumb tacks, yourself. Make a hem into which you can slip the thin wood slat at the lower end of the shade.

Does your daughter have a maple bedroom? The perfect spread for a maple bed is an old-fashioned quilt. If you have one put away in the attic, get it out. You can give it a pretty finish by making a deep flounce of plain white sheeting, or white chintz, or heavy sateen, attaching it to a wide band and slipping this between the mattress and the springs on the bed. The quilt hangs down over the top of this flounce and is made twice as attractive because of it.

This same treatment can be used on a mahogany four poster and has been handed down in some families for generations.

Protection for Wools

This new type of cedar chest is equipped with three drawers having small slots to allow the air to circulate. A single lock on the side of the case locks or unlocks these three drawers.

Beauty Added to Utility of Cedar Chests

A cedar chest of drawers, suitable for almost any room in the home, is now on the market. It fits perfectly into the needs of homemakers who have wanted full cedar chest protection in a decorative storage console.

The new decorator-styled chest is available in four designs and eight finishes: 18th century in Sheraton mahogany, or in bleached mahogany; streamlined modern in cordovan mahogany, striped walnut or bleached mahogany finish; early American maple, and Victorian, in walnut or mahogany.

The innovation, which is being called the "Stow-Away" is more than 80 per cent Tennessee red cedar. Government specifications for moth protective cedar chests call for 70 per cent cedar content. There are three drawers in the Stow-Away, and between the drawers the aromatic cedar vapor is permitted to circulate thru small slots. Another feature is that a single lock on the side of the case locks or unlocks the chest's three drawers.

The chest being made of cedar, the popular wood veneers are fused over it, to give the finishes most desired today.

Let Child's Fantasy Have Free Expression in Room Decoration

A baby's world begins to change about the time he starts to walk and talk. He comes to believe in the reality not only of the living people around him but also in the reality of his own playthings. When that happens it is the signal to start paying attention to his nursery. More than anything this room should be gay. You may paste circus poster animals on walls behind cutout wallpaper bars. Let the child's fantasy run wild without bounds. Pictures of birds, felt cutouts on the curtains, toy cabinets, blackboards—all assist indeveloping his self-expression.

'View' Rooms When Planning to Decorate

So you're planning to decorate!

If that's decided, you've probably inspected your rugs, draperies, and furniture for their part in your plans. You have a general idea of a final arrangement. And now you've come to the walls, the important background of your entire decorative scheme.

What patterns, what colors will be best for the walls? Here's one way to decide that problem. As professionals say, you can "view" your rooms. This merely means to consider adjoining rooms as an ensemble. Should they be tied together with harmonizing wall paper, or would a contracting effect be better?

"Viewing" may reveal the answer. Stand in your entrance hall and look at all the walls that you can see from that point. Do open doors and archways permit you to see the living room walls and beyond to the walls of the dining room, and possibly the sun room? What you can see constitutes your first room-view.

Does this first view suggest harmony, or contrast? If you favor harmony, you'll find that the new ensemble wall papers are pleasing. By color, or pattern, or both, these new ensemble wall papers are styled by the manufactuers to be used together.

But perhaps you prefer contrast. If you do, then choose wall papers with contrasting patterns and colors. For example: You can use one of the modern striped patterns in the living room and a contrasting flowered pattern in the dining room. Or, a formal all-over pattern in one room and a smart diagonal pattern in the room next to it.

The new wall papers provide you with an almost unlimited number of patterns and colors that can be adapted to your decorating plan. But first, it's wise to "view" your rooms. This fixes a clear picture of them in your mind. Then, when the sample books are before you, you'll find it easier to choose suitable patterns and colors to carry out the decorating plan most appropriate to your home.

Bottle Collector Has 8,000 Widely Varied Specimens

One of the most valuable assortments of bottles in the country is owned by Stanley Davis of Old Lyme, Conn., who spent seven years collecting his treasures, none of which is more than four inches in size. Some 8,000 specimens comprise his labors and range from models made in the shape of cherries and grapes to others that look like pistols and umbrellas. The smallest in Mr. Davis' collection is half an inch in height and holds only a few drops.

Keep Bed Soft, Room Quiet as a Beauty Aid

The simplest aids to beauty are often the most effective, but they're overlooked just because they are so obvious. If such fundamentals as sound sleep, outdoor exercise, and proper diet could be marketed in pretty pink jars at impressive prices, they might get the attention they deserve.

Take just one of these essentials to good looks—sound sleep. No amount of facial creaming or clever makeup will really conceal the inroads that insufficient or unsatisfactory rest makes on beauty. Circles under the eyes, tired lines about the mouth, and a pale, haggard appearance are the inevitable toll which sleeplessness takes from beauty.

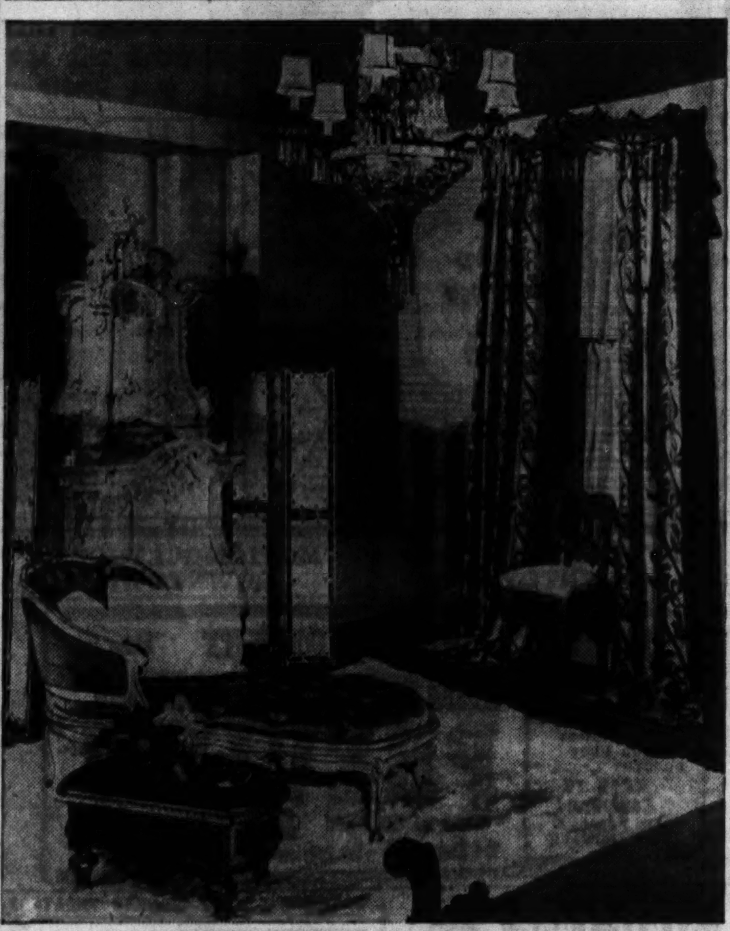
There's seldom any excuse for any woman not planning her time so she can get enough sleep to make her feel really fit next morning, beauty experts agree. Her duty to her good looks and general well-being doesn't stop there, for she must in addition regulate the quality of her rest.

Every seeker-after-beauty must see to it that she has a good bed and a quiet room for her hours of slumber. It's most important that she have a bed that encourages relaxation by its sheer comfort. That's why any woman who wants to get the most out of her sleep beauty treatment will check over the condition of the mattress, bedspring, and pillows on her bed at frequent intervals.

She will make sure the mattress doesn't sag in the middle or have lumps or depressions on its surface. She will look for broken or wobbly coils in the bedspring, for these are a menace to sound sleep, and she won't tolerate pillows that are flat and flabby with age.

The woman who sincerely seeks beauty and charm will discard outworn bedding as quickly as a straggly toothbrush or a jar of rancid face cream.

Decor with a Fantasy



[Damora Photo.]

New Kitchens Aren't Made to Come Out of

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

The old-fashioned phrase "come out of the kitchen" gathers antiquity every day. In fact, there is a definite trend back to those savory quarters, at least at most genial parties. This has caused the kitchen to become an important decorative problem in any home.

A group of charming sample rooms now on exhibit reveal how the problem can be solved with a lot of color and a little cleverness. Gone is the hospital and laboratory look of yesterday's all white kitchen. In its place has blossomed the gay, livable spot which relieves the dignity of formal dining and living rooms.

The wainscoting in the kitchen was a thin gauge linoleum of blue-gray, creating the basic atmospheric tone. Above, the wall was bright with a fruit and floral wall paper in soft blues, peach, apricot, buttercup yellow, and soft reds. The ceiling was beige outlined by a thin strip of colonial red molding. Yellow voile curtains framed the window and cherry red oilpaper covered the work table.

The wainscoting in the eating room was soft, colonial red and the wall is a repetition of the wall paper. A linen cabinet against one wall in the eating room is off white in contrast to those of clear white in the kitchen. The blue-green of the leaf motif in the paper is repeated in the molding and outlined panels of the off-white door. There are fine apricot voile curtains whose hem is detailed in soft blue ribbon at the windows.

Individual fruits, cut from extra wall paper, are pasted in a frieze on a wide, white strip which is outlined with a thin line of buttercup yellow close to the light ceiling. In one corner are rows of persimmon-banded shelves for a kitchen garden of numerous white and persimmon pots containing chives, mint and ivy. The table top is covered in terra cotta linoleum.

One kitchen in a cool summer mood uses aqua green, stark white, apricot, and mottled soft red for its color scheme. The walls are aqua, and aqua scrolled shelves flank white voiled windows above a silver topped sink. The aqua scroll work of the shelves is repeated in a tin valance above the windows and in the border of the curtains. The ceiling is an apricot tint and the floor is in a rubber tile of mottled red and white.

The Provincial and ultra modern styles are combined in perfect harmony in another attractive kitchen. Divided into eating quarters and kitchen proper, the room has blues, red, and white as its predominate accents.

A modern wall paper of vertical light blue and white stripes covers the eating room walls. Beneath is a burlap wainscoting of Copenhagen blue. An off-white door becomes a decorative feature with one of its panels papered in vertical blue and white stripes and the other with the same paper horizontally placed.

In the kitchen proper the same Provincial scroll frames over-range shelves between the cabinets. The walls are yellow glass and the light ceiling is rimmed with a butter yellow strip and gray molding. Blue accents are used in the canister set and accessories.

HOUSEHOLD FORUM
by Louise Bargelt

[Have you some favorite household help, something that lightens labor? Is there some convenience you could enjoy? We'll be glad to pass on your ideas to our readers. Address Louise Bargelt, The Chicago Tribune.]

Next summer if you catch plenty of fish but have no ice to store them in till you get home, try this method my husband used on our trip last year. He cleaned the fish as soon as he brought them in and hung them up to dry. Then we packed them in dry seed grass and during the day kept them rolled in a damp gunny sack. At night we would lay them out to cool and air. [We were told that willow boughs would be as good as grass seed to pack them in.] We got them home in good shape.—E. Martin, Chicago.

Wouldn't it be a good idea if a law were passed enforcing all car owners to keep a bulletin board installed in machine with record on it of all arrests and accidents they have had?—L. H. May, Chicago.

Here's an idea for laundering a tufted bedspread. Fold the two right sides together when you hang them on the line. The wind, blowing thru the spreads, will make the tuffs rub each other and fluff up the spread like new.—Mrs. C. R., Iowa.

I save all my small cloth sugar bags and use them to slip over the end of the broom in brushing dust from ceiling corners and walls. I keep 10 or more on hand and they come in very useful on weekly cleaning days.—Mrs. Marshall G. Simonds, Green Bay, Wis.

I use a bag made from transparent cellulose material instead of a regular paper bag when it comes to sugaring my doughnuts. You can see thru a transparent bag when you are "sugaring" sinkers and tell whether you have enough sugar on them.—Mrs. Paul T., Evanston.

Having suffered last year from a flooding basement the thought occurred to me more than once: Why won't they install remote control valves that drain off water into sewer line? Such a valve could be opened by a chain from upper stair hall. Then when all the water had drained off the valve lid could close and lock—as a seal against possible back flow.—Mrs. M. V., St. Louis, Mo.

If ever this summer you want to send a bouquet of flowers thru the mail, punch small holes in a raw potato. Then insert each stem in the potato separately to keep flower from wilting. Put in box and you will find the flowers will "take the trip" in better shape.

When leather belts in our family begin to show signs of breaking I reënforce them with adhesive tape on reverse side. I also use same type tape on wrong side of oil cloth table covers at the corners. This keeps oil cloth from cracking.—Mrs. P. W. Grenz, Chicago.

Now—please—your—idea.

Here Are Some Rules for Correct Hanging of Pictures on Walls

Pictures, if hung right, add warmth and intimacy to a room. Even the most formal of rooms often can stand a "lift" that comes with a decorative picture being properly hung. One decorator lays down the following principles—or tricks—that help the eye balance a picture:

Never hang pictures at uneven heights, like steps, except on a stairway. Try to group them in relation to the piece of furniture beneath. Height is determined in proportion to the room and the things in it.

Hard Case

SYNOPSIS.

A letter, whose address shows that Dave Coyle, notorious outlaw, is expected in Yellow Jacket, turns the town into an armed force, headed by Sheriff Beal. Dave diverts their attention by leaving cartridges warming to the explosion point in the blacksmith's forge while he walks in the postoffice and gets his letter from Carol McFee. While the hotel clerk has gone to the scene of explosion, Dave goes to a room in the hotel. He finds that Carol has mixed letters and he gets one intended for Will Usher in which Carol tells Will she is warning Dave against him. Carol, worried about the mixed letters, follows Dave to the hotel and tells him she needs his help in driving Wallace and his outfit off their ranch. Wallace has forged a deed and a bill of sale, claiming Carol's dad sold him the ranch. McFee is suing Wallace, but Wallace is bringing Sholto to the trial to testify as witness to the sale. Dave agrees to help, and Will Usher begs a truce and proposes that he and Dave kidnap Sholto, making Wallace pay a high ransom. Dave agrees thinking it will help McFee's suit to get Sholto out of the way. Well guarded Sholto is put in the baggage car to be carried to Santa Fe for the trial. Thinking they are at last safe, the sheriff and men engage in a poker game just as Dave appears in the baggage car and at the point of a gun demands Sholto, and escapes with him.

INSTALMENT X.

DOUBLE CROSSED.

Dave brought out some jerky and cold biscuits that Will Usher had provided in the saddle bags, and they wolfed down their supper, squatting by the narrow stream. Finished, Dave took out a sack of tobacco and handed it to Sholto. "Smoke?"

Sholto looked surprised, took the tobacco and rolled a cigaret. Dave waited until he inhaled, and, observing the deep luxurious mouthful of smoke the man dragged into his lungs, Dave said abruptly, "So Wallace ain't even goin' to pay you for lyin' for him."

Sholto looked at him coolly, and before he could speak, Dave said, "Don't bother to lie. I know McFee never signed the deed. But I didn't figure any man was sucker enough to stick his head out for nothin' like you're doin'."

He could see Sholto's face turn darker in the dusk, and he knew the taunt had struck home. But Sholto kept silent.

Dave said abruptly, "How's your wife?"

Sholto started so that he dropped the cigaret from his fingers. He picked it up, and slowly raised his head to look at Dave.

"I'm not married."

"You're a liar," Dave said flatly. "You like tobacco, but you don't carry it. I know the pants you're wearin' are two sizes too big for you, so they was given to you. I see your boots are rotten. You're broke. And if you're broke, its because Wallace ain't payin' you to lie. And if he ain't payin' you, it's because he's got somethin' on you. And if he had somethin' on you and was holdin' you a prisoner, you'd of been beggin' me the last four hours to let you loose. You didn't. That's because you're leavin' some one—a wife, mother, or kid—where Wallace can get back at them if you duck out." He added coldly, "How do you like that?"

Sholto was trembling a little now, but he said steadily enough, "It's your story." He looked closely at Dave. "Besides, what do you care? You ain't helpin' McFee, you said. You're just after money."

Dave said, "I don't love Wallace. Neither do you."

But Dave had got most of what he wanted. He was sure now that Sholto was being blackmailed by Wallace into perjury.

They set out again in the falling dusk, and this time Dave led the way. The Corazons were not really a range, but two heavily timbered mountains. With their far reaching foothills, their rough timbered slopes, and their rocky shoulders, they bulged as large as many ranges. Their two peaks, rounded and regular and matched, would have brought the name Squaw mountain or Sugarloaf from a Yankee frontiersman seeing them for the first time.

But a Spaniard had seen them first, coming on them in late afternoon when the heeled-over sun brought out every detail of the canyons. And from the flats, far out beyond Sabinal, the twin rounded peaks had seemed to be shaped like the top of a heart. The sun had touched the long slope of the canyons that met at a point in the foothills, and these slopes, taken with the peaks, had carried out the illusion of the heart. So he had named them the Corazon, the Heart.

It was for the point of this heart that Dave headed in the darkness, keeping to the streams which branched out from it. They climbed, hour after hour, the land lifting away from the foothills into the timber, and the stream growing smaller.

Finally, long after midnight, they came to the mountain meadow that Dave was looking for. It was an old line camp, abandoned these weeks since the herds had been driven down for fall round-up. In a short time, the snows would be here, but now it would be empty. Dave knew these things because he had to, because it was knowledge like this that let him live, and camps like this that housed him.

They crossed the long meadow in dry grass knee deep to horses, and pulled up in front of the line shack. It was dark, the door closed. Sholto off-saddled in silence and staked out their horses while Dave went behind the shack and picked up some lengths of wood. He came around, kicked the door open, and remembering where the stove was from the last visit, headed toward it in the dark.

He found it, laid the fire, found a match, and wiped it alight on his trousers.

He touched it to the shavings and watched them begin to burn. Sholto came in behind him, and stopped. Then Sholto said, "Dave."

He said it in a way that held a warning. Dave whirled, and then his downsweeping hand was arrested.

There, facing him, gun drawn, five other men backing him with drawn guns, was Will Usher.

"Well, Davey my lad," Usher drawled. "You did the job for me, all right."

Dave looked at him one brief second, and then his still face, its lips curled in contempt, settled into anger. "Put that thing down," he said softly.

Will Usher laughed. "I'm no woman, Dave. You move so much as a finger and we'll blow you through that wall."

He meant it, Dave saw. After lighting a candle on the table by Sholto, Usher skirted Sholto and edged closer to Dave, careful to keep himself out of the line of fire of his men.

For one desperate second, Dave was tempted to make his play. But the odds were too great, and Will Usher knew it.

Usher reached out, slipped Dave's gun from its holster, then backed against the wall. He was smiling, his face handsome.

"So this is the pay-off," he jibed gently. "Wild Davey Coyle, the man who couldn't be caught." He laughed softly. "A sucker's trap. It was so plain you didn't see it, did you?"

Usher only grinned, and Dave didn't like it. "And get only $50,000, when I could get $57,000?" he asked gently.

For a moment, Dave was puzzled, and then it came to him. Usher was going to collect $50,000 and ransom for Sholto. The $57,000 would be the reward money on him—Dave Coyle, wanted, dead or alive.

Usher saw that thought sink into Dave's awareness, and he smiled again. "So you were going to cut off my ears last night, Davey?" he drawled. "I'll cut off your ears tonight. That's how I'll collect my bounty."

He looked at Dave. Dave said, "Will, I thought you were smarter than that."

"Than what?"

"Than to try and kill me. Better men than you have tried."

Usher's face flushed, and his gun, which had been sagging a little, came up again. "All I got to do is pull the trigger."

Dave shook his head. His hands were on his hips, his face arrogant, his feet widespread.

"Sure it is. But you won't do it now."

"Why won't I?"

"Because you'll want to rub it in first. You'll want to see me beg. You'll want to see me sweat and start to shake. That right?"

For a split second, he wasn't sure whether Usher would pull the trigger or not. And then Usher said softly, "That's right, Davey boy. Maybe you better start beggin' now."

Dave had not had time to put the lid of the stove on, and now the fire was burning brightly, sending clouds of smoke into the room. Before he could answer Usher, Dave began to cough. He turned slowly, so that Usher would not be alarmed, and shoved the stove lid over the flames. But he still had a spasm of coughing, for he had been standing almost over the stove. Presently, he ceased, and Usher smiled. "Ready to beg, Davey?"

Dave shook his head and said hoarsely, his eyes watering, "I got a proposition to make to you, Will. But give me a drink of water, first."

Usher said, "Get him a drink, Sholto, from that bucket in the corner," without looking at Sholto, and then he sneered, "That's more like it, Davey. Beginning to crawfish, eh?"

Cookies have grown fancier and smaller since the last generation. Many of them are quite rich, and almost all of them are delicious. But they can't crowd the big, old-fashioned sugar cookie out of the cookie jar. After gorging ourselves with date-nut cookies, chocolate chip crispies, pecan bars or fruit filled bars over a period of months, we unfailingly return to grandma's favorite recipe and decide that, after all, there's nothing like a big, flat, yellow sugar cookie!

Sugar cookies are among the best of sweets for little children whose digestions shouldn't be taxed by the richer kinds.

Vanilla may be used as flavoring in this recipe in place of orange rind and juice. Use 1½ to 2 teaspoons. Or use a teaspoon of vanilla with ¼ teaspoon orange extract.

SUGAR COOKIES.
[About 5 Dozen.]

⅔ cup butter or margarine
1¼ cups sugar
2 eggs
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
Grated rind of 1 orange
1 tablespoon orange juice

Cream shortening and sugar thoroly. Add eggs and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and add orange rind and juice, and mix to a smooth dough. Chill. Roll on a floured pastry canvas or a lightly floured board, and cut with a floured cookie cutter. Sprinkle with sugar and place on a baking sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes.

Brown sugar may be substituted for white sugar with good results in almost any cookie recipe. Part brown sugar is used in this recipe, an old favorite.

BROWN SUGAR COOKIES.
[5 Dozen.]

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup white sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 eggs, beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla
3¾ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda

Cream shortening and beat in the sugar. Cream well together. Add beaten eggs and vanilla. Mix well. Sift flour, salt and soda, and work into the creamed mixture. Chill. Roll out to a fourth inch in thickness, cut out, sprinkle with sugar, and bake at 350 degrees about 12 minutes.

MAPLE SUGAR COOKIES.
[About 5 Dozen.]

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup white sugar
1 cup crushed maple sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons water
4 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

Cream fat well and beat sugar into it very thoroly. Crushed maple sugar should be sifted so that there won't be small lumps. Add beaten eggs and water. Sift flour and baking powder together and add gradually to first mixture, mixing well. Chill dough, roll it thinly, and cut out cookies. Bake on a cookie sheet at 350 degrees.

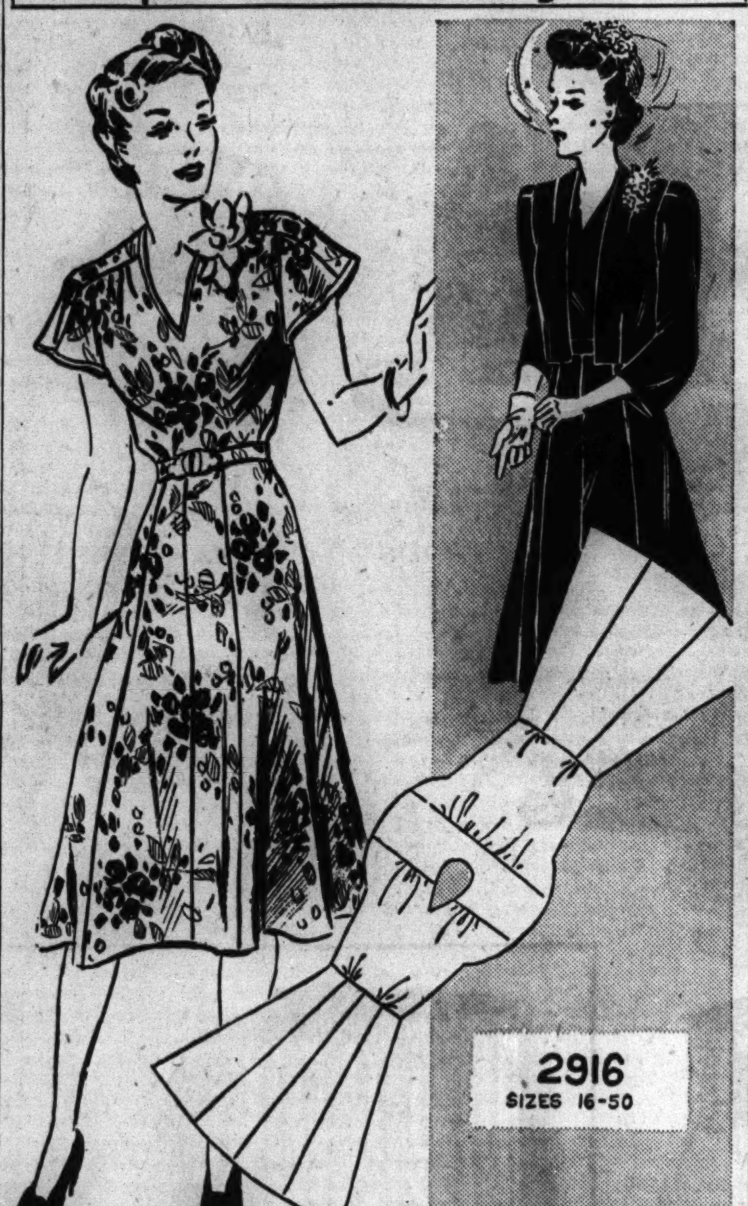
Simple and Becoming Frock



WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The diagram shows how simple this becoming frock is to make. Its paneled lines are flattering to mature figures, and this conspiracy for the slenderizing effect is aided by the kimono shoulders and the unadorned V neckline. Prints and plain shades make up equally well, and there's a pretty matching or contrasting bolero provided for, should you like a jacket.

Style No. 2916 is designed for size 16 and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inch bust measurements.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

There are comparatively few plays that "do not matter." Take today's hand, for example. West, a defender, vociferously argued that his play to a certain suit had "made no difference," but he was wrong, wrong to an extent that permitted the fulfilment of an otherwise doomed slam contract.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
5 no trump	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

The final contract was scarcely a thing of beauty; indeed, the odds against its fulfilment were at least 20 to 1. North, of course, was entirely to blame. His three heart jump take-out had represented every bit of his values, perhaps a bit more, and therefore his four no trump bid was distinctly out of line. He should have contented himself with a four spade bid over South's four hearts and left further action, if any, to his partner. However, to prove that the greatest odds may be overcome by a slip on the part of the enemy, the outrageous contract was fulfilled.

West opened the club jack. Declarer drew trumps in two rounds and then led a low heart toward dummy. West, laboring under the delusion that it did not matter which card he played, since his king was trapped anyway, tossed the king on the table. He quickly learned how erroneous his conception had been. Dummy's heart ace won and declarer promptly finessed against East's heart ten by leading the five spot and playing the eight from his own hand. When this card held, it was all over. The heart jack was cashed, dummy was entered with a club, and a diamond was discarded on the heart queen.

On the surface it does not seem to make any difference whether West plays the deuce or the king of hearts on declarer's first lead toward dummy. Actually there is an enormous difference. If West plays the deuce, dummy must play the queen [to shut out East's ten spot]; then the ace must be used to drop West's king. Now it is true that declarer's heart jack becomes high and that no heart trick need be lost, but it is more pertinent to observe that East's ten spot remains an impregnable barrier against the cashing of the heart nine.

Universal day.—Take it easy today. Don't go around trying to force yourself or your ideas on others.

May—For those in a two year the month of May offers a lull in the activities and they may even find that a little climax to their affairs will be felt at this time. They might feel a little let down or depressed if they haven't fortified themselves with rest. This whole year is not a time for them to take an active or public part in the life around them and this month especially calls for retirement from any high pressured activities. If the month is a little dull, don't worry. If a loss of something comes now take it philosophically. Patience, meekness, and a very willing attempt to coöperate are essential all year, and this month could prove worrisome or discouraging if you are arrogant, rebellious, or try to ride over any one or anything. Accept quietly whatever comes, and don't seek selfishly any gain.

Parents Should Teach Children Code of Morality

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

"What do you think, Miss Blake, of a woman and mother of a 15 year old [25 in actual sophistication] who says that one can begin to learn moral values at 37, which is the woman's own age. Somebody was calling this mother down for her laxness in her only child's training, the girl being permitted liberties that in her case, certainly may be entitled licenses. And that was the answer the person got who attempted to tell something to the mother.

"My theory is that if an individual doesn't know by 37 he never will. Just as a fool who cannot handle money at 35 never will be able to.

"I may be an old maid, and I was not the person who tried to talk to that young girl's mother, as I am not a busybody, but I feel keenly the menace attached to letting children know no privation. It is the bunk. It makes for weakened character, unable to deliver anything in a crisis. It makes hell-bent women bound to have what they want if every one else in the universe has to be pushed aside and trampled on. It makes women who will not live with their husbands but take their alimony and live and raise their children under the guidance of the current heart affair. Conscience, long buried under layers of conceit, has no voice or influence. It makes old women jealous and demanding of their sons, imperious and domineering while claiming to know what is best.

"It isn't only the woman referred to above, with the spoiled daughter, ruined I should call her, for she has no feeling, no mercy, no kindness, much less filial respect in her make-up. There are duplicates of her type to be met in a good many quarters. So I ask, Miss Blake, that you write a treatise on the subject with your good pen and wide influence.

"BEMUSED."

We think, Bemused, you've turned out a neat little treatise on the subject yourself.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

"Health preparedness depends on vitamins," say nutritionists who supervise the diets of our boys in camp. And your family need their vitamins, too.

One easy way to provide a day's quota of vitamin B_1 is to serve "MOR", the tasty new cured pork shoulder meat.

I CAN STAY OUT LONGER—WE'RE HAVING MOR FOR DINNER

"MOR" LEISURE TO ENJOY SPRING

Suppose you don't want to come in early from the warm spring sunshine to get dinner. Then try this "play-hookey" menu—"fixing time" 30 minutes!

Wilson's Certified Chicken Broth
Roast MOR and Sweet Potatoes
Canned Lima Beans in Butter
Spring Rhubarb Sauce Cookies

Remove MOR from the can. Place in an uncovered baking pan. Place halves of boiled and peeled sweet potatoes around the MOR. Sprinkle MOR and the sweet potatoes generously with a syrup made by cooking together ½ cup strained honey, ½ cup pineapple or other fruit juice, and 3 level tablespoons of butter. Bake in a 350° F. oven for 20 minutes, basting several times.

BREAKFASTS MEN GO FOR

Monotony has driven nations to war. Vary your breakfasts with delightful and savory surprises. For this Sunday's breakfast try fried slices of MOR and scrambled Clear Brook Eggs.

SEND MOR TO THE BOYS IN CAMP!

When you're packing cookies and candy for appetites made sharp with camp exercise, tuck in several cans of MOR. MOR needs no refrigeration. It's delicious by itself or between crackers. A favorite in camp from Maine to California.

MOR LUNCHEON DISH

Trim crusts from 4 slices of bread, cut each slice in thirds, toast and butter. Lay a slice of MOR on each slice of toast and place in a casserole. Cover with a white sauce. Sprinkle with grated Wilson's Certified American Cheese. Bake in a 350°F. oven for 20 minutes. Serve with a salad of grapefruit sections, watercress, and lettuce.

MOR is delicious sliced for cold cuts or sandwiches. It looks like spiced ham, tastes like it and is made by the makers of Wilson's Tender Made Ham.

REDS SWEEP CUB SERIES, 5-0; SOX LOSE, 13-5

WALTERS FANS 7 CHICAGOANS, YIELDS 5 HITS

Second Shutout by World Champions.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cincinnati Reds yesterday concluded their first visit to Chicago without as much as a Cub run to discourage their ambition for a third straight National league pennant. There were elements of tough luck for the Cubs in Tuesday's 1 to 0 defeat at the hands of the world champions, but yesterday the Chicagoans were just plain whipped, 5 to 0.

Bucky Walters was the winning pitcher and he held the startled Chicagoans to five hits, two of which were singles made by the first two batsmen, Stanley Hack and Rip Russell, at the very start of the game. Hack added a single in the third, Phil Cavarretta made a pinch single with two out in the seventh and Bill Nicholson doubled with two out in the eighth.

Walters Fans Seven.

For a time it appeared Bucky was bent on extending the Cubs' record as whiffers par excellence. With a string of 25 strikeouts in their last two previous games, seven Cubs fanned yesterday in the second, third, fourth, and fifth innings. After that Bucky realized he didn't have to bear down, and didn't strike out another batsman.

Paul Erickson was the losing pitcher in his first major league appearance as a starter. All five of the Reds' runs were made while he was pitching, but only the first two, which came in the first inning, were earned. Two errors by Bill Herman embarrassed the Zion City Swede in the late stages, tho nothing made any difference after the Reds had scored their first run.

As in Tuesday's shutout, the Cubs executed a few distressing fadeouts in the early innings, then subsided gently.

Waste Two Hits in First.

Hack opened the game with a single, but was picked off by Ernie Lombardi on a gummed up hit and run maneuver. Russell followed with a blooper into short right. Then Dom Dallessandro and Nicholson supplied easy outs.

And here was power: Lou Novikoff was hit by a pitched ball and Herman walked at the start of the second. Both advanced on a wild pitch, so this gave the Cubs runners on third and second with none out. Then Clyde McCullough was called out on strikes and Bill Myers fanned. Erickson flied out.

More power: Hack opened the third with a single. He got to second on Russell's infield out, stayed there on Dallessandro's tap to Bill Werber, and took his fielding position after Nicholson struck out.

Futility Parade Continues.

And still more power: Myers walked at the start of the fifth. Erickson fanned, but Hack walked. There was a wild pitch, so Myers got to third and Hack to second with one out. Russell fanned and Dallessandro flied to Jim Gleeson.

After the fifth the Cubs didn't give even the most optimistic of their 5,067 frost bitten constituents a thrill.

Erickson was wild at the outset and while he walked only one in the first inning, the fact the first three batsmen ran the count to three balls and two strikes made it necessary for him to toss in some cripples, which promptly were socked. With one down Lonnie Frey walked and went to third on Ival Goodman's single to center. Frank McCormick also singled to center, scoring Frey and putting Goodman on third. Goodman scored on Gleeson's fly to Novi-

Board's Decision Follows Re-examination.

Call Hank May 7

DETROIT, Mich., April 23 [Special].—Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers will be sent to an army training camp on May 7. A formal notice to report for induction on that date was mailed the slugger today by Wayne county draft board No. 23. By a coincidence his induction will be on the same day designated as pennant raising day at Briggs stadium, home of the Tigers.

Rigney's local board in River Forest yesterday announced he had been given a 1A classification in the draft, thus ignoring the recommendation of a Pasadena, Cal., board that he is unfit for service because of a chronic ear infection.

It is likely that Rigney will be in an army uniform before he gets an opportunity to pitch even one ball for the Sox in the American league race. John's number is 440 and men from his board holding numbers in the 600s already have been called for service.

Off Early in May.

Since the April quota is filled, it is believed the White Sox star will be listed among the next contingent early next month. Rigney, convalescing from a throat infection suffered several weeks ago in the Sox training camp at Pasadena, has been taking light exercise and was not expected to take his regular turn on the mound until the middle of May.

In announcing the board's decision, A. F. Seegers, chairman of Cook county board, No. 6, said:

"The reëxamination of Rigney was directed by the local board and was ordered in fairness to the public, to the selective service system, and to the man himself."

Officials of the White Sox would make no statement other than that "the rules are rules."

Amen, Jimmy!

In Detroit, where the Sox ended a series with the champion Tigers yesterday, Manager Jimmy Dykes was brief but to the point. He said:

"It's a heluva blow."

Rigney was given an examination last Friday by the medical advisory staff of his local draft board in the West Suburban hospital, and after results of the test were presented at a meeting Tuesday night, he was placed in 1A. Rigney is engaged to Dorothy Comiskey, treasurer of the White Sox. They planned to be married at the close of the 1941 baseball season.

As in several other cases involving athletes, especially baseball players, an exceptionally long period elapsed before a final decision was made. The River Forest board sent Rigney's draft papers to Sacramento, Cal., on March 9 with instructions that he be examined in Pasadena. It was learned that each spring, since 1937, Rigney had been treated for ear trouble by a Pasadena specialist.

The examining physician of the Pasadena board brought in another specialist when Rigney underwent his examination and it was announced he was suffering from perforation of the left eardrum, an ailment which apparently would gain him deferment of some sort.

All We Can Say Is You're Getting a Good Man, Uncle Sam

John Rigney, White Sox pitcher, who was given a 1A classification in the draft yesterday, and who probably will be called to service in May before he has a chance to pitch a ball in the American league pennant race. The River Forest board ordered a re-examination of Rigney after a Pasadena, Cal., board had recommended him for deferment. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

ONE MARK'S SAFE IN DRAKE RELAYS —THE BROAD JUMP

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., April 23.—The University of Texas, winner of five championships in last year's Drake relays, was the first major team to arrive for the 1941 games to be held Friday and Saturday. The Longhorns were closely followed by Wisconsin, which yesterday won a dual meet with Kansas.

Clyde Littlefield, Texas coach, realizes it will be unusual if his boys can match last year's performances, which included two all-time records. However, Littlefield has support in his contention that Texas has the best quarter mile relay team in its history. The Longhorns are consistently a winner in this event. With Lonnie Hill in condition, Texas' quarter mile team could break the record of 41 5/10th seconds which it shares with Rice institute. Texas made its record in the preliminaries in 1938 and Rice tied the mark in winning the championship from Texas the same year.

Owens' Record Out of Reach.

While Des Moines' relay fans are concentrating on possible team winners, the individual championships also are attracting unusual attention. None is more important than the running broad jump altho it is certain this record cannot be broken.

In 1935, Jesse Owens of Ohio State became the third man in history to better 26 feet. Owens jumped 26 feet 1¾ inches and a month later followed up this amazing performance with the world record leap of 26 feet 8¼ inches in the Western conference meet at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Outstanding contender for the championship is Louisiana State's Billy Brown, who holds two Drake broad jump titles and is the 1940 national collegiate champion. Brown won last year with a leap of 24 feet 1⅜ inches, but he has consistently exceeded 25 feet. He won the Southeastern conference championship last year at 25 feet 7 inches.

Other Strong Competitors.

Test Whirlaway and Our Boots in $10,000 Derby Trial Today

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—Our Boots and Whirlaway, two of the fastest and most aristocratic of the Kentucky Derby candidates, will match their speed over a distance of a mile and an eighth tomorrow in the Blue Grass stakes at Keeneland. Valdina Groom and Valdina Paul will complete the field of four which will go to the post in this $10,000 race which annually is one of the outstanding tests of Derby prospects.

This will be the first time that Our Boots and Whirlaway have hooked up for a speed duel on their home grounds since they ran in the Breeders' Futurity late last fall. On that occasion, Whirlaway was the winner by a length while another Kentucky horse, Blue Pair, was taking second place away from Our Boots by the margin of a head. But that was just one episode in the spirited rivalry between these two Blue Grass colts.

Both Training Well.

Since getting down to serious business this spring, both have indicated that they're going to be sharp horses on Derby day if they continue to train as well as they have been going. Whirlaway, owned by Warren Wright of Chicago, scored impressively in his first start of the Kentucky season a week ago Friday. Since then he has delivered some workouts that have been highly satisfactory to Trainer Ben Jones.

Our Boots, owned by Royce G. Martin of Toledo, whose Woodvale farm is located in the Lexington area, went thru a leisurely preparation in Hot Springs and came up to racing condition quickly after returning to Kentucky. In his first start of the year last Saturday he put on a rousing finish to win the six furlong Elmendorf purse.

Whirlaway and Our Boots are two of the outstanding juveniles of 1940 which have maintained a high position in the pre-Derby situation. Whirlaway was the leading money earning 2 year old and Our Boots was the winner of the Belmont Futurity, which automatically carries with it more prestige than victory in any other juvenile event.

Distance Test for Our Boots.

Neither of the other two starters in tomorrow's stake has been able to distinguish himself. Valdina Groom has often run in good company but has been unable to win anything of much importance. He took a lot of dust last Saturday to finish fourth in the race which Our Boots won. Valdina Paul was out last Wednesday for the mile and a sixteenth Rockwood purse but could do no better than finish fourth to Dandy Fox. If either of the Valdina farm representatives is able to outrun Whirlaway and Our Boots, the Middle West's program of major stakes will be starting with a tremendous upset.

Many horsemen will be watching the outcome of tomorrow's race with the idea of finding out how Our Boots will go at the longer distances. Of course, there is the possibility that even if he has it in him he may not deliver tomorrow because he may not be far enough along in his conditioning to be up to a mile and an eighth. Whirlaway has been racing more and running farther than his rival.

Black Raider Wins.

Bimelech was the winner of last year's Blue Grass stakes and subsequently he finished second in the Kentucky Derby and won the Preakness and Belmont stakes. In the preceding season the Blue Grass was won by Heather Broom, which ran third the following week in the Derby.

Calumet Farm will be seeking its second victory in this event. Bull Lea carried the familiar red and blue colors to victory in the 1938 running. Tho he failed in the Derby he went on to develop into a high grade handicap performer.

Black Raider, a speedy colt owned by Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Chicago, won the $2,500 Lafayette stakes today. This was the main event for juveniles during the Keeneland meeting. Taking the lead immediately after the break, Black Raider held command all the way. He splashed across the finish line five lengths in advance of Greentree stable's Fade. Another Milky Way horse, My Choice, was third. The time was :46 2-5.

TIGER HITTERS FIND ROOKIES TO THEIR LIKING

Make 14 Hits Behind Newhouser.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., April 23.—The White Sox devoted today's work to research in the pitching department, but there were no startling discoveries. Jack Hallett, Orval Grove, and Johnny Humphries, all newcomers, melted under the acid test as applied by the Tigers, who fashioned a 13 to 5 success for themselves in the series final as balm for the two-hitter tied on them yesterday by Bill Dietrich.

The confusion caused by the inelegance of their own pitchers wasn't the only disturbing factor encountered by Manager James Dykes' Chicagoans. Also present was one Harold Newhouser, a 20 year old southpaw, who, while not a sensation, at least was skillful enough to prolong the slump in which the choicest of Sox hitters have been languishing since before the season opened. The kid was wild, a common flaw in southpaws, but despite six passes and eight hits, he was never in arrears on the scoreboard.

Kreevich Is Busy.

Hallett, who started, got into a jam immediately, but the ease with which he survived indicated he might prove the man sought to fill the shoes of the soon to be drafted John Rigney. He continued to be good until the end of the third. But when his mates fixed him with a 2 to 2 tie in the fourth, he blew immediately. Six runs scored in the Tigers' half inning, three of them because Pinky Higgins tripled off Rescuer Orval Grove with the bases filled. What happened subsequently was Humphries' grief. It consisted of six hits and four passes. Hallett also walked four and Grove one, but this was an ordered gift just before Higgins' triple.

There was no basis for complaint over Mike Kreevich's treatment of Newhouser—he hit a single, double, and triple—nor over Bill Knickerbocker's two singles, but the suffering was acute in other sectors. Luke Appling spent his second day without a hit. Joe Kuhel picked up a single, but not until the ninth, and Julius Solters' cleaning up continued bad, altho he too singled once without helping anybody.

Hallett Begins with Walk.

Hallett's trouble-laden first inning, from which he escaped with the damage confined to one run, began with a pass to Frank Croucher, who went to third on a single by Charley Gehringer and scored on Barney McCosky's blooping double to left. An intentional pass to Hank Greenberg filled the bases, but Hallett then fanned Rudy York, got Higgins on a pop to Kuhel and whiffed Tuck Stainback. Then Hallett walked Gehringer to open the third and the latter, after moving to third on McCosky's single, went home on Mike Tresh's passed ball.

The only choice item the Sox were able to select from Newhouser's offerings in the first three innings was a double to right by Kreevich with two gone in the second. But Iron Mike got results in his next appearance. Kuhel walked to open the fourth and was forced by Solters. Dario Lodigiani flied out and Larry Rosenthal walked, whereupon Kreevich whacked his triple to left center, scoring Solters and Rosenthal with the tying runs.

Newhouser singled just beyond Appling's reach with two out in the fourth and this touched off the explosion which blew Hallett off the job. Croucher beat out a dinky roller to-

St. Louis, Mo., April 23 (AP).—Sam Nahem, bespectacled lawyer-pitcher who came to the Cardinals in the Joe Medwick deal, turned in the Redbirds' best hurling performance of the season today in holding the Pittsburgh Pirates to three hits for a 3 to 1 victory. The Pirate tally was unearned. It came in the eighth inning on errors by Martin Marion and Harry Walker. Score:

Boston, Mass., April 23 (AP).—The New York Giants kept the National league lead today by rallying for four runs in the sixth inning to beat the Boston Bees, 5 to 4. Richard Errickson blanked the Giants the first four frames, but in the fifth they scored a run on Joe Moore's single and Billy Jurges' double.

In the fifth Johnny Rucker singled and Harry Danning doubled him home. Mel Ott walked. Moore singled for one run and Joe Orengo singled for two more before Errickson was removed.

St. Ignatius Fathers' Club to Honor Teams Tonight

The St. Ignatius Fathers' club will hold its annual dinner for the high school's basketball and track teams at 6:30 o'clock this evening in Damen hall, 1080 West Roosevelt road. Speakers will be Arch Ward, sports editor of The Chicago Tribune, and J. Albert Woll, United States district attorney and an Ignatius alumnus.

And Both Are Safe

And Lon Frey, another one time Cub, arrives safely at first as Russell stretches for the ball tossed by Herman after he fumbled Lon's roller. The Reds won, 5 to 0. Hank Gowdy is the Reds' coach.

METCALF DENIES MAROONS WILL PLAY FOOTBALL

The University of Chicago will be represented on the gridiron next season only by a six man football team. Athletic Director T. Nelson Metcalf made this clear yesterday in answer to rumors that the university had planned an abbreviated schedule of games with a regulation team.

Metcalf said the Maroons had a "number of requests from other educational institutions for the booking of informal 11 man games," and added:

"The university gave consideration to the possibility of such games this fall in acknowledging these requests. The university decided that no such games will be scheduled."

Cubs Give Reds Two Runs.

The Reds added a pair of unearned runs in the fifth. After Werber had flied to Novikoff, Frey bounced a grounder straight at Herman. Apparently it was too easy to handle, for Bill somehow managed to let the ball hop out of his glove. Frey reached first for the third time in the game, and scored on Goodman's triple over Nicholson's head. After McCormick walked, Gleeson flied to Novikoff, scoring Goodman. Lombardi singled to right, but Harry Craft ended the inning with a fly to Dallessandro.

The Reds' fifth run was rendered unearned by Herman's second misadventure. McCormick singled with one down and Gleeson supplied the second out with a bouncer to Russell. Tho he was playing back in the grass, Herman allowed Lombardi's bouncer to elude him, McCormick scoring. Craft singled past Hack, and Eddie Joost walked, loading the bases. Walters then forced Joost, Myers to Herman.

The Cubs do not have to play the Reds again until May 10 in Cincinnati. They may get to face Paul Derringer in the three game series starting on that date.

The Cubs will open a two game series in Pittsburgh today. Larry French, who pitched so nobly in relief of Claude Passeau in St. Louis Sunday, will make his first start of the National league season. He will be opposed by Bob Klinger, whom the Cubs knocked out in the season opener here April 15.

Lou Stringer yesterday was out of the lineup for the first time. Bill Herman, out of three games with a sprained ankle, returned to second base and Skipper Jimmy Wilson decided to continue Bill Myers at short instead of returning Lou to that spot.

Infielder Hurls Kelvyn Park to Victory, 8-4

Kelvyn Park High school's baseball team has discovered that Robert Wakefield, regular third baseman for three years, also can turn in a good pitching performance. Wakefield went to the mound against Wells yesterday and Kelvyn Park produced its first victory in four Public School league contests, triumphing, 8 to 4.

Wakefield yielded only four hits and struck out 11 Wells batters. Wakefield, a right hander, also hit a single and a double and scored two runs. Kelvyn Park scored in every inning. Wells scored its four runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Farragut, Harrison, Crane Tech, Lane Tech, and Calumet turned in their fourth victories. Farragut won from Kelly, 3 to 1; Harrison routed Englewood, 13 to 2; Crane Tech triumphed over Foreman, 10 to 3; Lane Tech won from Lake View, 6 to 2, and Calumet shut out Hirsch, 7 to 0. Scores:

DODGERS BLANK PHILLIES, 4 TO 0, BUT LOSE REISER

Outfielder Hit on Cheek by Pitched Ball.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 23 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers lost Pete Reiser today when a pitch struck him on the right cheek, but they won their ball game from the Phillies 4 to 0 on the four hit hurling of Whitlow Wyatt.

Brooklyn's slugging rookie center fielder was knocked unconscious while batting in the third inning and was rushed to a hospital, but X-rays showed his only injury was a bad bruise on his right cheek. The club expected he would be out of the lineup for a week or ten days.

The pitch by Ike Pearson was a fast one thrown so hard the stitches of the ball showed on the player's cheek and the crack of it hitting could be heard in the press box up under the roof of Ebbets field.

At first it was believed the ball hit Reiser on top of the head. The Dodgers wear protective headgear because three of their players, Joe Medwick, Peewee Reese, and Hugh Casey, were beaned last year.

However, they haven't helped the Dodgers much so far. Last Sunday Alex Kampouris was hit on the back of the head, where he had no padding.

RIZZUTO'S HOMER WHIPS RED SOX, 4-2, IN ELEVENTH

Rookie Matches Gomez Thru Ten Innings.

New York, April 23 (AP).—Rookie Phil Rizzuto, the little shortstop who has become the sparkplug of the New York Yankees, pounded a home run behind George Selkirk's pinch single in the eleventh inning today for a 4 to 2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

It was the third straight setback for the Red Sox, who won their first five games at the start of the season, and as a result they slipped to a tie for first place with the Cleveland Indians.

Sox Get Home Today; Lee to Face Indians

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., April 23.—The White Sox will be back in Comiskey park tomorrow to open a two game series with Cleveland's Indians. Thornton [Lefty] Lee will tackle the Indians tomorrow afternoon, hoping to avenge the 2 to 0 trimming they handed him last week. Al [Lefty] Smith, who engineered the shutout, will be Lee's opponent again.

Manager Jim Dykes revealed that a three way deal on which he had been working apparently had fallen thru. He was to get an outfielder now in the National league. What other American League club was in on the transaction has not been revealed. Neither is the name of the National League outfielder, but it might have been Phil Cavarretta on whom the Cubs sought waivers a month ago.

Manager Del Baker of the Tigers, and Coach George [Mule] Haas of the Sox, were amazed at being singled out by Bob Feller as possessing the most occult powers of all third base coaches, in his denunciation of pitch-stealers.

"Why, I never have stolen a single pitch from Feller," they said, almost in unison. "The boy must be mistaken."

Tigers Defeat Sox, 13 to 5, in Series Final

ward third and Gehringer singled to center, Newhouser scoring. McCosky walked, filling the bases. Greenberg singled to center, Croucher and Gehringer registering, McCosky going to third and Greenberg taking second on the throw. Hallett was waved aside and Rescuer Grove was ordered to pass York, reloading the bases. Higgins then boomed his triple over Kreevich's head to drive in the three runners and round out the inning's total of six runs.

The Sox ripped into Newhouser with three hits in the sixth. A couple of passes also were involved, so scoring of three runs was quite simple. Solters walked and was forced by Lodigiani, after which a pass to Rosenthal and scratch single by Kreevich filled the bases. Tresh struck out, but Tom Turner stepped in as a pinch batter for Grove and singled to center, Lodigiani and Rosenthal scoring. Kreevich scampered home on Knickerbocker's single off Higgins' glove.

Double Greets Humphries.

The Tiger sixth opened with Humphries being greeted by Gehringer's double against the screen in right. McCosky walked and Greenberg singled to left. In his haste to get the ball back to the plate, Solters let it slip thru his hands, so McCosky followed Gehringer home and Greenberg went to third. Next came passes for York and Higgins, Stainback's fly, on which Greenberg scored, and Tebbett's single, which counted York. The Tigers got their last run in the eighth on Appling's fumble of Higgins' grounder, followed by singles by Stainback and Tebbetts.

Two Bay Meadows Betters Collect $3,935 on Double

San Mateo, Cal., April 23 (AP).—Another rich daily double, returning $3,935.20 for a $2 ticket, was recorded at Bay Meadows today. The daily double paid $3,610.60 yesterday. The high price, a record for California tracks, was paid by Yippee in combination with Treasure Isle. Two turf fans held the winning combination.

Lexington, Va., April 23 (AP).—Riley Smith, former Alabama and Washington Redskin quarter back, was named head football coach at Washington and Lee university today.

ONE MARK'S SAFE IN DRAKE RELAYS —THE BROAD JUMP

Owens' Record Is Over 26 Feet; Teams on Scene.

pham, Oklahoma A. and M., second in the Texas relay broad jump with a mark of 24 feet 3 inches; Bill Christopher, Rice; Sol Schumitzky, Missouri, who placed second here last year and won the Illinois indoor relays title; Walter Arrington, Michigan State; Bill Lewis and Larry Stout, Illinois, and Bill Lechtenberg, Iowa State.

The two mile record is another which probably will withstand the onslaught of the 1941 contenders. The current record holder, Greg Rice of Notre Dame, who will compete in a special mile and a half race Saturday, set the standard at 9 minutes 10 seconds in 1939. Since then Rice has broken nine minutes indoors repeatedly and his two mile time of 8:51.1 in the Chicago relays is the fastest ever run indoors or out. One of Rice's opponents will be John Munski of the University of Missouri.

PIKER NOT TO RUN.

Myron Piker of Northwestern, Big Ten sprint champion, will not run in the 100 yard dash at the Drake relays, Coach Frank Hill announced last night. Unseasonable weather has prevented his getting sufficient outdoor practice at the distance. Also, Hill fears he may suffer recurrence of the muscle injury he suffered at Drake a year ago. Hill and the rest of the Northwestern squad: Joe Finch and Chuck Horvath, hurdlers; Ed Thistlethwaite, pole vaulter; Jim Smith and Don Smith, high jumpers, and Don Clawson, weight man, will leave tonight.

Track Dries Out for Sportsman's Park Inaugural

Everything is in readiness for another season of horse racing on Chicago area tracks. All that the horsemen, track officials, and jockeys at Sportsman's Park hope for now is continued clear weather which will insure a fast track—and a large turnout—Saturday when the 19 day meeting opens at the Cicero half mile plant.

Sunshine of the last two days has dried out the strip after recent heavy rains. More than 900 horses are quartered at the track.

It seemed likely last night that more than a dozen horses will go to the post in the $1,500 Hawthorne handicap for 4 year olds and up, a sprint of seven furlongs.

Among the probable contestants are E. E. Irby's Torch Stick; Clarence Davison's Weisenheimer, Grey Jack, and Wha Hae; the Stroube stable's Sirasia and Exarch; the Scallon standard bearers, Crossbow II. and Joyride; Lexbrook of the Lexbrook stable; Illinois Tom, Gambit, French Bred, Court Counsel, and Hope Diamond.

MIKEL LOSES IN FIGHT TO REGAIN RACING LICENSE

The Appellate court yesterday ordered Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher to quash a writ of mandamus compelling the Illinois Racing commission to grant J. D. Mikel of Carlock, Ill., a 1939 trainer's license. The commission revoked Mikel's license in August, 1935, charging he raced My Bane, a 3 year old in a 2 year old race at Lincoln Fields.

Altho issuance of the 1939 license would not have permitted Mikel to race his horses this year, since his 1941 license has already been denied by the commission, it would have sustained his legal position.

Mikel recently sued to compel the commission to grant him a 1941 license. Judge Fisher will hear preliminary arguments on this suit today.

Downtown Delinquencies Reduced by Third.

A two months' drive by County Treasurer John Toman to collect $10,030,000 in unpaid real estate taxes on 363 downtown properties has brought payment or arrangements to make payments soon of a total of $3,018,000, nearly one third of the delinquency.

This was announced yesterday in a report by Andrew J. Kolar, assistant treasurer, and Albert C. De Witt, special tax consultant, who conducted the drive.

Bills Date Back to 1927.

Kolar and De Witt asked owners of the 363 properties to make arrangements to pay their back taxes, some dating to 1927. Owners of 253 parcels on which $7,797,000 was owing were interviewed.

Total cash collections of $225,000 have been made on 50 properties. Tax collection sales, at which owners will bid in their delinquent property, are pending against seven parcels on which $318,700 is owed. These sales probably will bring in about $220,000.

Owners of 60 other properties on which $2,412,000 is owed, have agreed to negotiate with the state's attorney's office for tax foreclosure sales. Under this plan the owners agree to bid a certain amount at the sale, usually about 75 per cent of the tax due, in full payment. Court orders account for the rest of the collections.

Kolar and De Witt estimated that a similar collection drive, extended thruout the county, would clear up more than 50 million dollars of the 100 million dollar real estate tax delinquency.

Tells Assessment Problem.

Kolar said that in the area covered in the drive, extending from the Chicago river on the north and west to Lake Michigan on the east and Roosevelt road on the south, about half of the 363 properties present "an insoluble collection problem."

"In many instances we found that the yearly rentals received by downtown buildings, before paying any expenses, are less than the annual tax bill," he said. "on the average there is a 40 per cent vacancy in delinquent buildings. These conditions make it almost impossible to cut the assessment down to meet the taxpayer's ability to pay and still be fair to other properties."

Toman's staff also conducted mail campaigns in Barrington, Chatham Fields, and Western Springs, and it is hoped by Toman that the drive will be made county-wide.

C. E. RUSSELL, 80, DIES; PUBLISHER AND SOCIALIST

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—Charles Edward Russell, 80, writer and prominent Socialist, died at his home here today. He had been ill of heart disease since February. Funeral services will be held here Saturday.

Russell, a native of Davenport, Ia., served as city editor of the New York World and publisher of the Chicago American and the Chicago Examiner before turning to independent writing to expose economic and social corruption. His principal targets were large corporations.

He was an associate of the late Clarence Darrow in several enterprises, and was a Socialist candidate for mayor, governor, and senator in New York. The party nominated him for President in 1916 but he declined to run.

His hobby was music and he won the Pulitzer prize for biography in 1927 for his book, "The American Orchestra and Theodore Thomas."

He is survived by his widow, the former Theresa Hirschl of Chicago, who also was a newspaper writer, and a son, John Russell, motion picture writer of Hollywood.

COL. J. A. MOSS, U. S. FLAG ASSN. HEAD, IS KILLED

New York, April 24, Thursday [Special].—Col. James A. Moss, U. S. A., retired, and president general of the United States Flag association, was killed shortly before last midnight when a taxicab in which he was riding in Central Park west, collided with a New England bus. The cab driver, bus driver, and several of the 17 bus passengers were injured slightly.

Police said heavy rain obscured vision of the drivers and a slippery street prevented them from stopping.

Col. Moss, a resident of Washington, D. C., since his retirement from the army in 1922, would have been 69 years old next May 5. He was born in Louisiana in 1872 and entered the United States Military academy in 1890. Col. Moss was retired from the army at his request after 32 years of service. He founded the flag association in 1924.

UNION MAY BAR SCHOOL BANDS IN CLEAN-UP MARCH

There will be no music this afternoon when several thousand elementary and high school students march in Garfield park's annual "clean-up" parade unless the musicians' union issues a permit this morning for participation of the Lucy Flower and Austin High school bands in the event.

School officials said last night that the parade is sponsored by the Garfield Park Business Men's association, a private organization, and that in such cases, under an agreement between the union and the school board, the former must give permission for school bands to take part.

Officers of the association said the parade is a community affair and that they saw no reason why the union should withhold permission for the bands. Lack of music, however, will not detract from the significance of the parade, they said. The students will carry brooms and mops and signs urging clean-up campaigns. The parade will form in the park band shell at 2:30 p. m. and move along Madison street to Kostner avenue.

Edward Benkert, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, would not discuss the matter and referred inquiries to James Petrillo, president of the local and the national federation. Petrillo, who is in New York, could not be reached last night.

BOSTON EVENING TRANSCRIPT TO QUIT PUBLISHING

Boston, Mass., April 23 (AP).—The Boston Evening Transcript, one of New England's outstanding newspapers during its 111 year history, announced today it would suspend publication April 30.

Richard N. Johnson, publisher, said the paper's "5 cent price in the sharply competitive 2 cent field had failed to produce the necessary revenue to continue."

The Transcript was established in 1830 and for more than a century was owned by descendants of Henry W. Dutton.

ORDERS RELEASE OF IERC FUNDS TO ACCUSED OFFICER

Condition of Winter Wheat Mostly Excellent.

Heavy rains fell last week over a large part of the grain belt and farm work generally is from one to three weeks late, the weather bureau reported yesterday. On the other hand, a fortnight of dry, warm weather has brought harmful drought conditions along the Atlantic coast from Pennsylvania to Florida, it said.

Winter wheat made excellent progress and the condition of the crop is mostly good to excellent, the bureau said. Jointing is general in Texas, and some heading is reported. Spring wheat seeding progressed in the north, and was more than 50 per cent completed in parts of North Dakota.

Crop and other conditions in Illinois as reported by the weather bureau for the week ending April 22 follow:

Subsoil moisture condition is best in 1½ years. Wet soil retarded field work in most of state. Winter wheat improved generally in many areas. Oats are nearly all sown in central and south; less than half done over areas in north; much up to good stand.

Rainfall for the last three weeks, in inches and hundredths of inches, with comparisons, follow:

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

Seek Cure for Pecking

April 23, 1941.

SOME of the young chickens at the Du Page county farm seem bent on pecking one another to death. The flockmaster noticed this the other day and immediately mapped a drastic campaign to cure the chicks. He is experimenting with a new feeding method which he believes will correct the tendency.

Cannibalism in a chicken flock may be due to many different things. Overcrowding in the batteries, congested brooder houses, diets deficient in vitamins, and lack of proper sanitation are among the contributing factors.

Salt Cure Is Adopted.

The flockmaster hopes to break up the practice thru heavy feedings of salt. It has long been a common country belief that salt, if fed in any sizeable amount, would kill chickens and other fowl. Last year, however, some of the farm turkeys began pecking one another and the flockmaster fed them a double handful of common salt. The disease was checked immediately and the turkeys suffered no complications.

Experimental work with game birds has shown that salt will cure this practice and that it can make up 3 or 4 per cent of their ration without harming them.

Following this basic idea the young chicks at the farm are getting a 3 per cent mixture of salt in their mash. They will be given salt until they stop pecking at one another. Then the dosage will be stopped. Three per cent is a large amount of salt to feed poultry and this treatment is not common. However, the flockmaster feels that it will effect the cure he wants.

The disease probably started in the flock thru overcrowding in the battery. The flockmaster had planned to move the chicks off the wire and get them onto the floor of the brooder house and under a hover, but chilly rains promised intemperate weather, so they were kept inside.

Red Light Proves Help.

A common method of preventing pecking is to paint the windows of the chicken house red and use red electric light bulbs. Under these lighting conditions the chickens cannot notice blood on other fowls and are not apt to peck at one another. The bright color of blood often will start them pecking out of sheer curiosity. A chicken finds it hard to resist pecking at anything that shines or is colorful.

Shearing Sheep

M. E. Smith of Geneva, shearing sheep on Du Page county farm.

The 83 purebred Southdown sheep at the Du Page county farm have lost their fleece. Warm spring weather brought sheep shearing time, and yeterday the flock was rounded up, a professional sheep shearer hired, and under the flashing electric clip the flock was soon denuded.

As the wool was cut from each sheep it was tied into individual bundles and put away. Soon the wool buyer will come and the wool will be sold and sent to market. The wool from each sheep is weighed and a tally is keep as a good sheep will usually pay for her keep with her wool clip. Southdowns generally shear from five to eight pounds of wool each.

The sheep look slightly ludicrous without their heavy coats of fleece. Where they once were fat and blocky they now look thin and bony. Good care will be taken to keep them warm and sheltered until they become accustomed to the change.

WAVE OF SELLING HITS SOY BEANS, WHEAT AND LARD

Widespread liquidation of futures holdings developed in wheat, rye, soy bean, and lard markets on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Wheat dipped about 1⅛ cents at one time and sold at the lowest price in about a month. Soy beans led the decline, breaking nearly 4 cents and closing with losses of 2¾ to 3¾ cents, the latter on May. Wheat rallied slightly from its low point and finished ⅝ to 1 cent lower. Corn was ⅛ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower and rye was 1⅜ to 1⅞ cents lower.

Profit taking sales dropped lard futures 12½ to 15 cents a hundred pounds. The selling was influenced by a break in cottonseed oil and soy beans.

Trading in all pits was on a fairly large scale, but bearish sentiment predominated as the result of the continued unfavorable news from the Balkans and failure of congress to take action on the pending bills to set higher loan levels on the 1941 wheat and corn crops.

RAILWAY BONDS GAIN AND CARRY OTHERS UPWARD

New York, April 23 (AP).—Railroad bonds today scored the largest average gain since March 8 in a strong follow up movement to yesterday's rise. Other corporate issues trailed along at a leisurely pace and gains of small fractions outnumbered declines by a large majority.

United States governments were first on one side and then the other, reflecting considerable switching from one maturity to another as government experts studied proposals to overhaul the tax machinery, including suggestions that might importantly affect income from tax exempt government bonds. Closing prices were not materially changed.

Impressive gains in the railroad list were mostly confined to the low to medium priced issues.

ILLINOIS GRAIN STORAGE SPACE REPORTED SMALL

A survey of the state's grain storage capacity indicates that space for only 34 million bushels of new grain will be available in Illinois on June 1, start of the new crop year, the Illinois Coöperative Crop Reporting Service announced yesterday. Illinois produced a wheat crop of over 40 million bushels last year and more than 330 million bushels of corn. Equally large crops are expected this year, plus normal crops of other grains.

The survey was made as a joint project of the agricultural marketing service and the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

ARMY AND NAVY CHICAGO ORDERS TOTAL $325,000

Chevrolet Gets 4 Million Truck Contract.

The army and navy yesterday awarded contracts totaling almost $325,000 to Chicago companies. Other awards were also announced, the largest being one of $4,289,613 to the Chevrolet division of General Motors corporation, Detroit, for an undisclosed number of 1½ ton trucks for the army.

Chrysler corporation, meanwhile, announced it had placed initial orders for machinery to manufacture 40 millimeter rapid firing antiaircraft guns for the navy. It expects to get into production on a 300 gun a month schedule early next year.

The gun, described by the company as one of the most effective weapons for combating dive bombers, is automatic, firing 120 shots a minute. Parts for the weapon are to be made in various Chrysler plants, including those at New Castle, Ind., and Dayton, O., with final assembly in Detroit.

Army Orders More Shoes.

Nineteen shoe manufacturers shared in an army contract award for 2,288,750 pairs of service shoes, 548,438 pairs of which are to be made with corded composition soling material. With the exception of a few hundred pairs bought for experimental purposes about six months ago, they were said to be the first army shoes made to specifications calling for other than a solid leather sole.

The average price of the 1,740,312 pairs of leather soled shoes was slightly over $3.35 a pair, campared with $3.13 for the composition soled shoes. Contracts for 1,827,000 pairs of leather soled shoes were awarded early in March at an average price of $3.31.

The navy department announced that it is negotiating for the purchase of the steamship St. John of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc. The maritime commission, which holds a mortgage on the ship, has approved the transfer.

Chicago Orders Listed.

Contracts awarded by the war department to Chicago companies yesterday included:

Vascoloy - Ramet company, tools, $1,720.

Superior Sleeprite corporation, nurses' desks, $36,479.

OFFINGS.

Is it possible to determine what proportion of new securities issued by corporations is sold to the public? Are most of the offerings made by underwriters or by the companies themselves? What percentage of the new securities are issued to obtain new capital?—M. W.

Answer: An analysis of security issues registered with the Securities and Exchange commission discloses that 93.9 per cent of the total filed in 1940 was sold to the general public, 4.7 per cent to security holders of the issuing companies, and 1.4 per cent to miscellaneous purchasers. The percentage figures were 89.6, 8.7, and 1.7 per cent respectively in 1939.

This breakdown, however, does not show the proportion of securities sold privately to insurance companies and other institutional investors. Such private placements are not registered with the SEC because registration is necessary only for issues distributed to the public.

Private placements represented 29.1 per cent of corporate financing in 1940, compared with 33.2 per cent in 1939, and 31.8 per cent in 1938, according to the Commercial and Financial Chronicle. Private sales in the first 1941 quarter were 40 per cent of total corporate issues.

Of the SEC registered securities offered the public in 1940, 88.3 per cent was placed thru underwriters, 7.2 per cent thru agents and 4.5 per cent were handled by the companies themselves. This compared with 81.9, 15.5, and 2.6 per cent in 1939. Agents usually are employed by investment companies to distribute their securities.

Corporate issues registered with the SEC in 1940 were floated for the following purposes: 16 per cent for new money, 78.7 per cent for refunding operations, and 5.3 per cent for miscellaneous transactions. The breakdown for 1939 was 13.8, 74.2, and 12 per cent.

New capital financing in 1940 amounted to $724,271,782 compared with refunding deals of $1,996,402,056, according to the Commercial and Financial Chronicle. In 1939 new capital issues totaled $383,453,032 against refunding issues of $1,812,713,388.

ALSO IN PLASTICS.

Can you tell me whether the American Cyanamid company has any interest in plastics?—P. T.

Answer: American Cyanamid company has taken steps to broaden its plastics operations. The Beetle products division of the company, which makes synthetic molding powders, has been expanded and its name changed to the Plastics division. A new plastics plant is being built at Wallingford, Conn.

FREEZING STEEL RAISES ALARM FOR ALL PRICES

Randall Terms U. S. Order Illegal.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Clarence B. Randall.

The recent freezing of steel prices may set the pattern for the regimentation of American industry in the future, Clarence B. Randall, vice president of the Inland Steel company, last night warned 600 members of the industry. He spoke at the annual conference of the open hearth, blast furnace and raw material committees of the American Mining and Metallurgical Engineers at the Palmer House.

"No one knows better than Leon Henderson [price commissioner at Washington, D. C.] that he had no legal authority for his action in freezing prices," said Randall. "What we want to know is this—was the freezing of steel prices the setting of a pattern for the freezing of other prices?

"The greatest peril facing the steel industry is that after the war such methods may be the start of a movement toward putting the steel industry in the category of a public utility.

Cites Railroads' Status.

"Any one who understands the plight of the railroads under the grip of burocracy can realize what this would mean for the steel industry."

Randall stated that the provision in the lend-lease bill for the repayment of loans is fraught with peril for industry.

"If the loans are to be paid in essential raw materials," he declared, "the government will have a powerful weapon in its hands. Tin and other materials will flow from Britain to the federal government and the government will dole them out as it sees fit. The blacklists of recent years will be but child's play to the power that the government will have over us."

Randall said that if democracy is to be maintained it is essential that private enterprise be maintained. And this cannot be done, he asserted, with government control over industry.

Freedom Brought Advance.

"Only our system of free enterprise could have placed the steel industry in the position it holds at this time of peril," he said.

It was only profit incentive that made possible the spending of so many millions during the depression years on the expansion of the industry, Randall said, thus placing it in position to meet any demands.

"The monopoly committee [Temporary National Economic committee] called the leaders of the industry to Washington," he continued, "and charged them with overexpansion, with the spending of tens of millions on unnecessary equipment. But today the nation thanks God that the expansion took place.

"The sanctity of the spirit which makes possible freedom of worship, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of assembly is what gives us the American way of life. It is this that all Americans must defend."

Substitutes Are Sought.

Earlier the steel men and technicians met for the purpose of solving one of the toughest problems presented in the preparedness program—that of supplying substitute steels which will meet the exacting demands of rearmament.

Faced with dwindling supplies of chrome and manganese, essential raw materials in the manufacture of the best grades of heavy duty steels, the technical men set to work to find substitutes. They reported that altho substantial progress has already been made, further effort is required.

E. L. Ramsey, of the Wisconsin Steel Works, a division of the International Harvester company, predicted that out of all the studies and experiments will come American independence of the rest of the world for the alloys, such as maganese and chrome, which are required in the manufacture of modern steels.

Rely on Foreign Sources.

Ramsey said that we have obtained the largest part of our manganese from Russia, Norway, and Sweden and most of the chrome from Greece and Africa. There are extensive deposits of both minerals in Colorado, Montana, and Washington, but the ores are not as rich as the imported ores and production is expensive.

The steels made with chrome and manganese, he explained, are the hard steels used where there is wear, such as in gears, bearings, crankshafts, and axles—all in demand for armaments.

As a substitute molybdenum, found in large quantaties in this country, is being used, but for many purposes this mineral has not been as satisfactory as the first two.

"I believe that by proper heat treatment at the furnaces we eventually will come close to duplicating the steels with which we have been familiar," Ramsey said. "The engineers can help by redesigning many parts. For certain items they could specify heavier steel parts."

Banker Doubts Inflation Will Occur in War

Walter Lichtenstein.

Altho prices will continue to rise somewhat, the United States will not have during the period of the war the type of inflation most people fear, Walter Lichtenstein, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, predicted yesterday. He spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the Palmer House.

He said that "governments, generally speaking, have been able to prevent, and have prevented, serious inflation while a war is in progress." He said that the real impetus of inflation in the countries involved usually came some time after the cessation of hostilities, but added that "I do not mean to imply that we shall have a runaway inflation once the war is over."

Public Bond Sale a Method.

Lichtenstein described as one of the present measures of the government to prevent inflation the plan to have nonfinancial institutions rather than commercial banks buy government bond issues as far as possible.

"Our armament program is nothing other than a preparation for war," Lichtenstein declared at the outset of his speech. "I do not wish continually to be compelled to draw a fine distinction between the type of financing which we now need and that which would be necessary if war were actually declared—something which seems to have become old-fashioned anyway.

"As far as possible the government will and should try to raise money by increased taxation. Taxation itself has deflationary effects, for if taxation becomes increasingly heavier, the consumer will not have surplus funds and the demand for such goods will not increase."

Opposes Price Fixing.

He warned, however, that the demand for consumer goods may in many instances exceed the supply if industrial plants are occupied more and more with turning out nonconsumer goods [armament]. This situation has been met in some countries, and especially in Germany, he added, by fixing prices.

"But in a democratic country such as ours," he said, "if price fixing measures taken are too drastic and extend over too long a period of time, I am afraid that patriotism will not prevent large sections of the population from engaging in bootlegging, and that there will develop, as was true not so long ago in Russia, two prices: The official one at which goods cannot be bought, and that prevailing on the Black Bourse, that is the illegal market, where prices rise in accordance with the law of supply and demand.

"However, I think most of such effects are likely to be felt more after the war than during the war. As long as the war lasts the government can impose controls that in times of peace are much more difficult to maintain."

Favors Gradual Removal.

He cautioned that for stability the government should remove restraints gradually and not all at once after the war.

Lichtenstein predicted that "the receipts from taxes will be much higher than is at present estimated and that, in consequence, the deficit that will need to be financed by borrowing will be, for the time being, less than has been contemplated. The more this remains true, the less danger there will be of any disastrous inflationary movement."

"Government must see to it," he declared, "that the inflationary spiral is not started as a result of the creation of bottlenecks or the continual increase of wages."

"Industry has been able to utilize plant capacity which for some time it had not been able to employ, so that in many instances the unit cost of production has not gone up materially even tho more has been paid to the individual workman.

"Such a situation, however, ceases very quickly to be true, and the continued increase of wages results finally in an increase of prices all along the line."

France to Announce New Tax Against Speculation

VICHY, France, April 23 (AP).—The official journal tomorrow will promulgate the long awaited tax against speculation, affecting all profits made on the resale of stocks acquired since the reopening of the Paris exchange March 19.

MEAT PACKERS RAISE HOURLY WAGE RATES 8%

Comes as Surprise to CIO Union.

More than 14,000 employés of Chicago meat packing companies received announcement of an 8 per cent increase in their hourly pay yesterday. The higher rates, estimated to raise the wages more than $1,500,000 annually, were made effective as of last Monday.

Increases were announced by Swift & Co., Wilson & Co., the Cudahy Packing company, P. Brennan company, Agar Packing and Provision, the Illinois Meat company, Miller & Hart, and Roberts & Oake. Rath Packing company, Waterloo, Ia., and John Morrell & Co., Ottumwa, Ia., announced similar wage boosts.

Officials of Armour & Co. will meet today to discuss the wage situation and it was indicated the company likely would announce similar boosts for its 10,000 employés in Chicago.

Cudahy Explains Boost.

"After surveying industrial wage rates in other industries thruout the country, and local wage rates and purchasing power of wage earners, the Cudahy Packing company has authorized an increase of 8 per cent for all manual workers," an official said.

The announcement came as a surprise to the CIO Packinghouse Workers Organizing committee. Headquarters of the union was not aware of the increase until after it had been announced by the press services.

Swift & Co. was the first to announce the increase. In addition to the employés of the parent company, the workers in the plants of the associated G. H. Hammond company and of the Omaha Packing company also benefit in the higher wages.

Swift Cost Near Million.

Swift officials did not indicate how much the higher wages would cost the company, but authoritative estimates placed them at close to $900,000 in Chicago. The company said the question of increases at its other plants would be handled locally.

The increase by Wilson & Co. will affect approximately 4,000 employés in Chicago and 10,000 in other plants.

The only Cudahy employés in the Chicago area affected by the increase will be about 500 at the plant in East Chicago, Ind. It is not a meat packing plant.

George A. Eastwood, president of Armour & Co., issued the following statement after the announcement by the other packers:

"Armour & Co.'s policy always has been to pay wages in line with those paid by others in the industry and by others in the community where the work is comparable. In this critical period in our nation's history there is every reason to keep down the cost of living and prevent inflation. However, we shall continue trying to be fair to our employés. The matter is receiving our serious consideration."

ILLINOIS BUILDING 21.1 PCT. HIGHER DURING QUARTER

Building construction in Illinois for the first three months of this year was valued at $25,225,569, or 21.1 per cent higher than the $20,831,178 of the corresponding 1940 period, Martin P. Durkin, director of the state department of labor, reported yesterday. The volume was 49.2 per cent above the first quarter of 1939 when $16,909,066 in permits were issued.

Building permits issued during March in 163 Illinois cities were valued at $10,262,426, compared with $8,132,409 last year, a gain of 26.2 per cent.

Residential building thruout the state was the leading type of construction with permits issued for 895 buildings, valued at $5,513,298, compared with 758 homes built in March of last year, valued at $4,261,000. This is a gain of 18.1 per cent in number and 29.4 per cent in value.

Nonresidential building, which includes factories and business buildings, totaled 393 units, costing $2,700,296 in March, compared with 290 permits in the 1940 month for buildings valued at $2,215,825.

JOHN E. SULLIVAN NAMED SURFACE LINES TREASURER

John E. Sullivan, formerly vice president of the Foreman Brothers and First National banks, was named treasurer of the Chicago Surface Lines yesterday by the lines' joint board of management and operation.

Sullivan succeeds Markham B. Orde, who resigned. Orde will continue as treasurer for the receivers of the Chicago Railways company, which operates the north side street car lines.

The surface lines retained Sullivan last month as a financial analyst to make a survey of the company's financial condition for Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe, whose court has jurisdiction over the properties. In recent years Sullivan has been a receiver in charge of liquidation of the Garfield State bank.

Aluminum Ore Output Boost Feasible—OPM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 23.—A survey by the bureau of mines has disclosed that domestic production of bauxite—the ore from which aluminum is derived—can be increased swiftly in case imports are shut off, the Office of Production Management announced tonight.

About 60 per cent of our bauxite supply is now imported from Dutch Guiana, with small amounts also from British Guiana. The remainder comes from Arkansas, Alabama, and Georgia. The largest domestic supplies are in Arkansas.

Aluminum recently was placed under a mandatory rationing system by the OPM. Consequently, the available supplies of bauxite are considered of utmost importance to progress of the armament program, in which huge quantities of the metal are necessary for production of aircraft, munitions, chemicals, etc. Civilian uses for aluminum have been sharply curtailed under the rationing system.

Conserve Home Supply.

The OPM said that as long as shipping is available the policy will be to use imported ores in about the same proportion as in recent years in order to conserve the very limited domestic supply. But domestic production, even so, has been increased to meet the larger demands of the armament program, and is running about 50 per cent above 1940, the OPM said.

Concerning the special survey of domestic bauxite production made by the bureau of mines, the OPM said:

"This survey shows that domestic bauxite production can be multiplied three-fold in two months and five-fold in four months, with little new equipment beyond that already at the mines or in construction. A considerable part of this increased production could be obtained by merely changing operations from the one shift per day basis to a three shift basis. If shipping were not available, the load could be shifted onto American producers without delay.

Supply Called Adequate.

"Sufficient domestic and South American supplies of bauxite appear to be available to meet the greatly expanded aluminum production program now required," the OPM concluded.

Annual imports of bauxite have averaged above 500,000 tons and domestic production has approached 400,000 tons annually. It requires two tons of bauxite to produce one ton of alumina, the concentrated product, and two tons of alumina to produce one ton of the metallic aluminum. Monthly requirements of aluminum for armament purposes alone are estimated at about 15,000 tons.

COURT DECLARES 'CAPTIVE' MINE UNDER COAL ACT

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23 (AP).—The Third United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled today that railroad owned coal companies which produce only for parent firms are subject to the provisions of the Guffey soft coal act and to regulation by the bituminous coal division.

The decision, by three judges of the court, was reported to be in conflict with previous rulings by the Fourth and Seventh Circuit courts. It was given in an appeal by the Keystone Mining company of Scranton, Pa., a subsidiary of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, from the refusal of the bituminous division to grant it exemption from the provisions of the law.

The coal company maintained it was the railroad's "agent," and therefore was not subject to governmental supervision. This contention was denied by the court.

U. S. TO BUY 15 MILLION CASES OF EVAPORATED MILK TO FEED BRITAIN

Members of the Evaporated Milk association yesterday attacked the technical problems raised in filling the largest order in the industry's history. Producers from all sections of the country, meeting in the Blackstone hotel, prepared to supply 15 million cases—the product of 200 million gallons of fresh milk—to the department of agriculture during the next 15 months.

The evaporated milk, the exact quantity of which had not been previously disclosed publicly, is to be provided Great Britain and other countries under the lend-lease bill. The amount is nearly one-fourth of last year's production of 56 million cases, and on the basis of the average 1940 selling price of $2.87 a case is worth more than $43,000,000.

"Our industry has the producing capacity to fill the order," said Dr. Frank E. Rice, executive secretary of the association, "but we must find a means of getting the milk to the condensing plants." He indicated that a considerable amount of milk must be diverted from normal channels to fill the order.

MERRILL LYNCH FIRM TO ABSORB FULLER, RODNEY

Merrill Lynch, E. A. Pierce & Cassatt will absorb Fuller, Rodney & Co., another New York Stock exchange house, effective May 1, it was announced yesterday. Samuel L. Fuller will become a general partner and Earle H. Rodney a limited partner in Merrill Lynch.

Byron W. Webster, Chicago resident partner of Fuller, Rodney & Co., will become manager of the combined Chicago offices with headquarters at 105 West Adams street. Homer P. Hargrave will continue as resident partner.

The Fuller, Rodney offices in Boston, Albany, and New York also will be consolidated with branches maintained by Merrill Lynch in those cities.

United Air Lines Flight Schedules to Be Boosted

New York, April 23 (AP).—United Air Lines is increasing its flight schedules to average 85,000 miles a day for 1941, compared with 74,700 in 1940, Harold Crary, traffic vice president, announced today. By midsummer United expects to be flying 100,000 miles a day. Air line business curves sharply upward when summer vacation travel begins.

COAL DEADLOCK TURNED OVER TO FEDERAL BOARD

Perkins Acts After Southern Bolt.

Washington, D. C., April 24, Thursday (AP).—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins turned over the 23-day soft coal stoppage to the national defense mediation board for settlement early today. She decided to let the board try to get the mines open after the collapse of efforts to bring southern producers and the CIO United Mine Workers' union into wage negotiations in New York last night.

The secretary said that the southern operators had withdrawn from the conference and had declined to agree to the proposal made by President Roosevelt for the simultaneous reopening of negotiations and reopening of the southern mines.

"The northern operators and the union accepted the proposal, but in each case the acceptance was contingent on all the mines reopening," Miss Perkins said.

Quick Steps Expected.

"Certification of the case to the board was postponed so as to give all parties concerned every opportunity to comply with the President's request to reopen the mines."

The mediation board is expected to take quick steps to bring the union and the southern producers together since President Roosevelt and administration officials have indicated increasing concern about the growing shortage of soft coal for armament production.

However, John L. Lewis, president of the Mine Workers' union, served notice April 2 that he would not agree to have the mediation board handle the dispute.

"We are not going to follow the new formula that the mediation board has discovered—of wiring the strikers to go back, bust their strikes, then have them come to Washington to mediate," Lewis told a convention of anthracite miners in New York.

Southerners Bolt Meeting.

Miss Perkins, who was in New York, acted little more than an hour after the southern operators decided to bolt the Appalachian wage conference there for a second time and return to Washington.

L. T. Putman, spokesman for the southerners, said that the operators, the union, and Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the federal conciliation service, were agreed that the situation was "hopelessly deadlocked." The southern operators, he said, wanted the dispute certified to the mediation board.

The southerners, he said, had neither rejected nor complied with Mr. Roosevelt's request and hoped to contact him today to explain their stand.

Putman said they would make a counterproposal that the southern mines reopen, the union accept an offer of an 11 per cent increase in the basic wage for miners—an offer the southerners made April 3—and continue negotiations on the remaining points.

36 Apartments from 12

Streeterville Apartments to Be Modernized

BY AL CHASE.

One of Streeterville's oldest and most widely known apartment buildings, the seven story structure at 222 East Delaware place, was sold yesterday by the Continential Illinois National Bank and Trust company to the Two Twenty Two East Delaware corporation. The corporation will completely rebuild the present twelve big apartments into 36 small living units.

The president of the corporation, Everett R. Cook, of the building management firm of Cook & Jackson, said that about $115,000 will be spent in modernizing the building. Frederic B. Schmidt and Edward Tourtelot will be the architects.

$72,000 Purchase Indicated.

According to revenue stamps on the deed filed at the recorder's office the corporation paid $72,000 for the property. A mortgage has been negotiated on the building by the Lake Michigan Mortgage company.

The building has one ten room apartment and one of eight rooms on each of six floors. These twelve suites are to be rebuilt into small units each with living room, dinette-kitchenette, bedroom and bath.

Aim for Fall Occupancy.

At present there is only one vacancy in the building. Half of the leases expire on May 1. Remodeling work is expected to start shortly with the expectation of having the new apartments ready for fall occupancy.

The building, originally known as the Beaconsfield apartments, was built in 1917 from plans by the late William Ernest Walker, one of the most widely known architects of his time. It occupies a lot 100 by 107 feet.

Eastern Crude Oil Prices Raised for Fourth Time

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 23 (AP).—Prices of Pennsylvania grade crude oil advanced 10 cents a barrel today, the second increase this year and the fourth since November, 1940. The boost was announced by the South Penn Oil company.

CHICAGO STOCK SESSIONS TO BE CUT HALF HOUR

Part of Campaign to Boost Exchange.

Governors of the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday ordered the trading session closed at 2:30 o'clock Mondays thru Fridays, effective next Monday. There will be no change in the Saturday session, which closes at 11:30 a. m.

Arthur M. Betts, chairman of the board of governors, said the change was decided upon "in view of the approach of the summer months and the present light volume of transactions in all security markets."

It was understood that toward fall, the results of trading from 2 to 2:30 will be compared with the volume of transactions in the full hour from 2 to 3 o'clock which was added to the trading session last Sept. 30. After a comparison of results, the board will decide whether to retain the 2:30 closing or return to the 3 o'clock close.

Move to Boost Trading.

Last September's extension of sessions, permitting trading after the close of the New York Stock exchange, was one of several measures adopted by the Chicago exchange to gain stature in the securities business and become more independent of the "Big Board." Yesterday's action was considered another experiment in this general plan.

Altho the move has been regarded successful in increasing sales, brokers indicated that equivalent results might be expected in the extra half hour. Consequently, the trial has been scheduled while volume is light.

Asserting the extended trading period had provided "a useful market service for the public and an important addition to exchange volume," Betts said:

"Since its inauguration, the volume of business transacted in the added session has aggregated 462,390 shares. This has undoubtedly been a factor in the improved relative showing of the Chicago Stock exchange [with other exchanges].

320 Issues on List.

"Our widely diversified list of stocks available for trading comprises 320 issues, with important additions in prospect for the near future. The added trading period affords the opportunity to continue to transact business for customers after the close of the eastern markets."

The exchange on March 5 decided on the addition of unlisted trading, expected to be placed in operation near the end of May. Governors are also considering a new commission schedule for the trading of "local" security issues, generally raising the rates. This would affect all stocks not listed on the New York exchange.

The plan would provide also for splitting commissions with investment and over the counter dealers, thus allowing them to make a profit on the sale of listed stocks and stimulating their interest in these securities. At present they must pay full commissions to exchange members on listed transactions.

What Will the New Tax Rates Be?

An exact answer cannot be given, but the rates will doubtless be higher. A new revenue act will be passed by Congress soon and increased gift and estate taxes as well as income taxes are possible.

Only a short time may be left in which to transfer assets at the present gift tax rates, thus saving higher estate taxes later.

Our trust officers will be pleased to discuss this question with you and your attorney. There is no obligation, of course.

STOCKS ADVANCE, FIRST TIME FOR EIGHT SESSIONS

Volume of Trading Picks Up Slightly.

New York, April 23 (AP).—Stock market sentiment swung to the buying side today for the first time in eight sessions, sending some leaders higher by more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks advanced .4 of a point to 39.5. Transactions totaled 474,500 shares compared with 435,860 yesterday.

The apparent British defeat in Greece contributed to pessimism of traders, who limited their dealings more sharply than might have been expected with the extent of the rise.

Close at Day's Best Level.

Moderate strength displayed by rails, and irregular rises by the steels, provided rallying points for the rest of the list thru the first four and one-half hours. Then other issues joined the rise and the close was at the best level of the day.

Retail store shares were benefited by trade reports of incrased sales. Steels overrode evidence of production cuts forced by the coal tieup.

CHICAGO LIST MIXED.

Trading was mixed in a narrow and dull market on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Transfers dropped to 16,000 shares from 22,000 Tuesday. Middle West was the volume leader in turnover of 1,950 shares, closing at 4¾, down ¼. Only 820 shares changed hands from 2 to 3 o'clock, the smallest last hour total since March 17.

SHIPYARD LABOR MEETING BEING HELD IN CHICAGO

Representatives of labor and management of Great Lakes shipyards and government officials yesterday began a conference in the Morrison hotel for the purpose of establishing employment standards during the armament program period.

Walter Fisher, Chicago attorney, was named to preside over the conference, which is being attended by more than 60 representatives of the management and labor organizations connected with the shipbuilding industry in the Great Lakes region. Representatives of the navy, the shipbuilding stabilization committee of the OPM, the United States Maritime commission, and the federal department of labor also are attending the conference.

A similar conference has just been concluded on the Pacific coast, and conferences are planned for the Atlantic coast and gulf shipbuilding territories.

175 Dealers Leave to Drive Lincoln Zephyrs to Chicago

A group of 175 Chicago dealers and customers left for Detroit last night on a special Pennsylvania-Wabash train to take delivery of 150 Lincoln-Zephyrs. Dan R. Ganey, Lincoln-Mercury division manager for Chicago, said the cars will be driven back to Chicago tomorrow in the "largest drive-away in the history of Chicago Lincoln-Zephyr sales.

COTTON

Scattered buying based on firmness in securities gave cotton futures a steady tone in early trading yesterday, but hedging pressure developed. Mills bought on the decline, and a rally followed, with the close unchanged to .05 cent a pound lower.

Cash cotton closed unchanged to .04 cent lower, with New York, 11.34 cents; New Orleans, 10.93 cents; Galveston, 10.79 cents, and Houston at 10.75 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

STAPLES MARKET REMAINS IN ITS NARROW GROOVE

Copper, Wool, and Sugar Prices Rise Slightly.

Commodities for future delivery showed no inclination yesterday to leave the narrow groove of the last several days. Price changes were small and trading slow. Advances were posted by copper, wool tops, domestic sugar, lead and cocoa. Rubber, hides, Santos coffee and cottonseed oil were lower and silk was irregular.

Metal futures registered virtually no basic change and cash metals remained firm. Copper futures closed unchanged to 0.03 cent a pound higher at 11.44 cents bid for the May position and lead was unchanged to 0.02 cent a pound higher.

Lead Production Rises.

The American Bureau of Metal Statistics announced that United States lead production in March rose to 61,503 tons, from 54,231 in February.

Domestic sugar futures improved after a faltering start and closed unchanged to 0.02 cent a pound higher on a small turnover. Wool top futures closed unchanged to 0.5 cent higher at $1.23 7/10 a pound bid in the May delivery.

Rubber futures continued to weaken, closing unchanged to 0.11 cent a pound lower, and the cash market slipped 0.08 cent.

RAW MATERIALS SHORTAGES TOLD BY PLANE MAKER

Production Is Maintained with Difficulty.

Owing to a shortage of materials the aircraft manufacturing industry expects to experience "tough scraping" for the next 3 months, but anticipates no shortage of deliveries, James H. Kindelberger, president of North American Aviation, Inc., informed stockholders yesterday at their annual meeting in Wilmington, Del.

Despite material shortages, North American Aviation's production of three types of airplanes is either on or ahead of schedule, Kindelberger said.

Delayed by Lack of Engines.

"The production of the new bomber B-25 is exactly on schedule and production of the new freighter also is on schedule," Kindelberger said. "However, deliveries are behind because of lack of engines. In the meantime the company is going ahead building the airplanes."

The lack of raw materials also figured in the discussion at the Jersey City, N. J., annual meeting of a soap manufacturing company. Edward H. Little, president of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company, reported that it no longer was possible to import olive oil.

Altho the Colgate company has been unable to obtain imported olive oil, Little said that the company has large stocks of the material on hand. He reported that palm and coconut oil was still coming from foreign sources in substantial quantities.

As the result of a 10 per cent gain in tonnage and dollar sales he reported that profits for the first quarter of 1941 would be "somewhat ahead" of the corresponding 1940 period.

Profit Gain Continuing.

"The gain is continuing in April and on the basis of present bookings it is expected that profits for the June quarter will also show some gain over a year ago," he said.

American Brake Shoe and Foundry company had unfilled orders totaling $8,500,000 at the end of March, William B. Given, president, told stockholders. Sales for the first quarter were $10,750,000, compared with $7,154,000 a year ago.

More than $500,000 in orders for radium, most of which came from the British empire and the United States government, were reported by Gilbert Labine, president of the Eldorado Gold Mines, Ltd., to stockholders meeting in Toronto, Canada. These orders, he said, did not include normal sales of radium and uranium to be expected during the year.

Owing mostly to lower oil prices this year, James E. Auten, president of the Barber Asphalt corporation, reported to stockholders that first quarter operations would not "be as good as last year."

GENERAL MOTORS AVERAGE WEEKLY PAY IS $6.25 HIGHER

New York, April 23 (AP).—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of General Motors corporation, announced today the company's hourly workers in the United States earned an average of $41.24 a week in the first quarter of 1941, an increase of $6.25 a week over the corresponding period last year.

The company had on its pay roll during the quarter an average of 299,549 hourly and salaries employés, compared with 247,678 a year earlier. Wages and salaries paid in the three months ended March 31 amounted to $157,786,261, against $114,578,562 last year.

New York, April 23 [Special].—The United States Steel corporation had 39,285 common and 5,954 preferred shares registered in England and Scotland on March 31, a net reduction for Great Britain of 5,573 common and 10,075 preferred shares since Dec. 31, last, according to a quarterly report of the corporation on geographical distribution of holders. It was believed that the remaining shares registered in Great Britain are owned by citizens of the United States or other non-British citizens.

EASTMAN URGES AGENCY TO KNIT TRANSPORT UNITS

Baltimore, Md., April 23 (AP).—Establishment of a "department of transportation" was suggested today by Joseph B. Eastman, Interstate Commerce commission chairman. "There is need for constructive leadership, guidance, and planning" of highway, rail, air, and waterway carriers, he told the American Society of Civil Engineers' convention.

Such an agency would "issue no orders," Eastman said, but would be a "planning and promotional body" divorced from "regulation of the kind which requires quasi-judicial procedure."

"There are certain things which each type of carrier can do better than any of the others," he said. "The ideal system would utilize them all, emphasizing coöperation and coördination and avoiding definitely wasteful uses, but retaining a considerable element of competition."

STEEL COMPANY ASKS EXEMPTION IN PRICE CONTROL

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—Representatives of the Phoenix Iron company of Phoenixville, Pa., conferred with officials of the office of price administration and consumer supply today, presenting the first request from a steel company for modification of the week-old price-freezing order of steel.

They said afterward that they would make formal application tomorrow to be permitted to charge 25 cents per 100 pounds more than the level fixed for structural steel.

The company has consistently charged 25 cents more than the industry level in the past, they said, because it has accepted special orders which are usually unacceptable to the large companies.

BOSTON TO GET FASTER RAIL RUN TO WASHINGTON

Boston, Mass., April 23 (AP).—The fastest rail service between Boston and Washington in the history of railroading will be inaugurated April 27, the New Haven railroad announced today, with operation of an eight hour express.

Almost three hours will be cut from the overnight running time of the Federal, which will leave at midnight and reach Washington at 8 a. m. [The train will average 56⅔ miles an hour for the 453 mile run].

The announcement said several new trains would be placed in operation between New England points, New York, Philadelphia, and Washington.

CIGARET MAKER TO CONTINUE BIG 'AD' CAMPAIGN

Philip Morris and Company, Ltd., Inc., cigaret manufacturer, announced yesterday that because of the success of a 10 week newspaper advertising campaign it has been decided to continue the campaign thru the spring.

"So direct and immediate was the response to this campaign, which was started in January, that it has now been expanded to run on the same scale thruout the spring," the company said. It added that for the first quarter of this year the rate of sales increase was more than double that of 1940.

350 Arms Subcontractors; Gen. Electric Seeks More

Schenectady, N. Y., April 23 (AP).—The General Electric company is employing more than 350 concerns, to manufacture military products for which it is primary contractor, President Charles E. Wilson said today. "Many new factory buildings have been erected at our plants and longer working hours and two or three shift operations are in effect," he asserted. "Still, the production program calls for additional subcontracting to expedite deliveries." General Electric has $500,000,000 in orders, 75 per cent for armaments, and employs 105,000.

Conferees Agree on Bill to Omit Ship Contract Bids

Washington, D. C., April 23 (AP).—A joint house-senate committee agreed today on a compromise version of legislation to grant to the Maritime commission a limited authority to let ship construction and chartering contracts by negotiation instead of competitive bidding. The measure would also empower the commission to compel a contractor to fill commission contracts ahead of private jobs.
